Polio Vaccine Distribution Parley Called

Meeting To Be Held April 22 In Washington

Doctors And Health Officials To Attend; 2-Shot Plan Backed

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The government called a top-level meeting of doctors, health officials and drug manufacturers tonight to search out the best way of distributing Salk polio vaccine on a fair-to-everybody basis.

Secretary of Welfare Hobby issued the call for an April 22 conference in Washington after President Eisenhower ordered a quick study of ways and means to make sure every section of the United States gets a fair share.

"The objectives of the whole conference," Mrs. Hobby said, "will be to carry out the President's directive to explore every possible means for assuring equal opportunity for immunization for all those who wish it as quickly as possible."

Cooperation To Be Considered

Mrs. Hobby said the Washington conference will consider, along with vaccine distribution plans, continued public information about the supply and distribution of the vaccine, and continuing close cooperation among the groups concerned.

She said among those being invited are representatives of the American Medical Association and other medical groups, the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the pharmaceutical industry.

Dr. Chester S. Keefer, special assistant to the secretary for health and medical affairs, will serve as chairman.

Two-Shot Plan Approved

In New York, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis endorsed the use of two initial injections of the Salk vaccine rather than three—a step that would make existing supplies of the relatively scarce vaccine go farther.

This is the procedure recommended by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of the vaccine, when the final report on his historic process was made public two days ago.

Originally, the vaccine "shots" were given in a series of three. Salk reported it had proved more effective, however, to give two shots, two to four weeks apart, and then follow up with a booster shot at least seven months later. This booster shot would be given before the start of the 1956 polio season.

Administration Calls For Boost In Minimum Pay

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration asked Congress today to apply the minimum wage to 2,200,000 more workers and raise the minimum to 90 cents an hour from 75.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell resisted all efforts by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), chairman of a Senate Labor subcommittee, to put him on record as personally favoring an increase to $1 or more.

Strong sympathy has been expressed by Northern members of Congress for the $1 figure. Some senators of both political parties are supporting a $1.25 wage floor, the goal for which the AFL and CIO are fighting.

Hearings Under Way

Hearings on the political issue started today and may continue before the Douglas subcommittee for three or four weeks.

Mitchell, choosing his words carefully, said it was the administration's "serious recommendation" that Congress consider extension of coverage to multistate retail establishments, such as chain grocery stores; to employes of chain hotels and motion picture theaters; and to some 150,000 employes engaged in wholly intrastate work but whose employers are principally in the interstate field.

"No sound reason appears why the act (Fair Labor Standards Act) should not apply throughout these businesses which are controlled on an interstate basis," Mitchell said.

Living Cost Hike Cited

The present 75 cent minimum applies to 24 million workers, Mitchell said. A 15-cent boost would mean immediate higher pay checks for 1,300,000 workers now making less than 90 cents an hour.

Mitchell said the cost of living since 1950, when the 75-cent floor was set, has increased 13 per cent. A new minimum of 90 cents, he testified, would more than compensate for that cost-of-living increase.

Douglas said a 90-cent wage would give a wage-earner with four persons to support less than one half the amount he would need in many areas of the country, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics figures.

Hunger, Thirst Force Felons To End Strike

52 Texas Convicts Oust Leader, Agree To Return To Cells

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., April 14 (AP)—The 52 hard Texas convicts who had holed up in their exercise yard for 29 hours and 45 minutes gave up at 5:45 p.m. today.

The stubborn prisoners kicked out their old leader, took on a new one and within 40 minutes of the arrival of the warden of their maximum security unit, agreed to return to their cells.

The collapse of their hopeless cause came the hard way—after they had suffered thirst and hunger for many hours.

Strikers Call For Warden

The break came at about 4:30 p.m. when the strikers called for E. L. King, warden of their segregation area. After 48 hours of duty he had gone to his nearby home for a nap.

King went directly to a catwalk above the paved exercise yard and began talking to the exhausted but still stubborn convicts. He was joined in a few minutes by the prison's Catholic chaplain, the Rev. Francis Duffy.

It was more than an hour later before General Prison Manager O. B. Ellis announced the collapse of the convict rebellion.

Demanded Three Meals Day

He said the prison had stood firm in its refusal to give the maximum security convicts three meals a day as demanded. They now get only two meals daily, as do all prisoners not on working details.

Ellis said the convicts will receive the following punishment:

1. Loss of magazines, books and such for 30 days except for correspondence with immediate family members.

2. Loss of exercise privileges outside their one and two-man cells for 30 days.

3. All meals served in the cells for 30 days.

Ellis said the convicts emphasized they should be punished as a group, and their leaders and spokesmen should not receive harsher punishment.

First Step Taken By West Toward Big Four Meeting

PARIS, April 14 (AP)—The Western Big Three took the first step today toward a conference with the Soviet Union on Austrian and German problems and world tension in general, a French spokesman said.

The spokesman told a Foreign Ministry news conference the United States, Britain and France are agreed on methods they will use in preparing for what they hope will be a Big Four conference sometime this summer.

The agreement was registered, this official said, in a meeting earlier in the day between Premier Edgar Faure, American Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon and D. P. Reilly, minister-counsellor of the British Embassy. Faure was acting for French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, who is out of town; Reilly acted for British Ambassador Sir Gladwyn Jebb, who is on vacation.

Supreme Court Will Determine Road To Follow

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Arguments over the momentous issue of how to abolish the color line in public schools were completed today in the Supreme Court.

Thurgood Marshall, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, got in the last word. He urged the court to be as "forthright" in decreeing a time limit for ending segregation as it was last May in declaring that segregation violates the Constitution. Otherwise, he said there will be long delays before Negroes are admitted to non-segregated schools.

U.S. Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff called for a decree avoiding the extremes of "a fixed and inflexible limitation" and "no limitation at all" on time.

Four Days Of Argument

He asked the court to order "bonafide progress" toward integrated schools without "riding over people rough shod" and without leaving segregation "hanging in the air."

Marshall and Sobeloff were the only lawyers heard today, the fourth day of arguments on how to follow up last May's decision.

Both took the position that the court in some way ought to make it clear that desegregation must apply to all the country, not just to the few individuals in the cases decided by the justices.

There was little new and little dramatic at the windup of the hearings, which produced three different contentions:

Southern states argued that the Supreme Court should fix no deadline for integration, lay down no specific orders for carrying it out, and leave details to the states and their school boards.

Court Urged To Set Deadline

Attorneys for Negro parents urged the court to say that segregation must be ended by next September or, at the latest, by September, 1956.

The Eisenhower administration, through Sobeloff, proposed an approach with no fixed deadline but with insurance against any interminable delay.

Now it is up to the justices to determine which course to follow or whether to chart one of their own. Nearly a year ago, the justices recognized that "problems of considerable complexity" were involved.

Russia Makes Concessions; Raab Jubilant

Any Terms Reached Subject To Approval By Western Powers

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP) — Russia and Austria have agreed on "practically all questions" on a treaty to restore Austria's independence, Austrian Ambassador Norbert Bischoff said tonight.

In Vienna, Austrian Premier Julius Raab's People's party disclosed he had telephoned from Moscow, saying:

"Austria will be free, and we will receive back our native soil in its entirety. Our war prisoners will be free again."

Raab and his advisers have been negotiating here for three days for Soviet consent to an independence treaty that would end 10 years' occupation of little Austria by the Big Four powers.

Some Problems Remain

Bischoff said members of the Russian and Austrian delegations still were working on remaining problems late tonight. He had this to say on specific points in the negotiations:

1. The question of guarantees demanded by Russia that Austria will never unite again with Germany would be settled by a request by Austria to the occupying powers to protect her against another such merger or anschluss. The occupying powers are Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

2. Austria promised not to permit any foreign military bases on her territory.

3. Austrian participation in any military alliances was "not a point under discussion." Austria does not care to sign any military treaties. No agreement was made with the Russians which would prevent Austria from joining other international organizations, such as economic groups.

Western Powers Must Agree

The United States, Britain, and France will have to agree to any terms worked out in Moscow before the terms can become effective. Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl, who accompanied Raab, has kept the Western Big Three's envoys in Moscow fully informed on the Austrian-Soviet negotiations. Austrian reports quoted Bischoff as saying he was sure the Western powers would not oppose the new agreement.

Reports reaching Vienna and London from Western informants said the Russians have agreed to substantial renunciation of Russia's claims on Austria's Zistersdorf oilfields; abandonment of Russian claims to assets of the Danube Steamship Co. in Eastern Austria, agreement by Moscow to accept 150 million dollars in goods as reparations from Austria.

The Western powers long ago renounced all reparations claims on Austria, treating it as a liberated rather than a defeated country.

U. S. And Russia Take New Step In Atomic Plan

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The United States and Russia took another secret step today in their negotiations on President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin called by invitation at the State Department. He was with Asst. Secretary Livingston T. Merchant just long enough to pick up a document.

Outside he told newsmen it was a reply to a Soviet inquiry of last November about Eisenhower's proposal to distribute atomic data among all nations for peaceful purposes.

But what the Russian note said and how the United States replied were closely guarded secrets.

However, Zarubin's invited visit came against this backdrop:

1. Reports from the United Nations that a U. S. blueprint for an atomic clearing house is being circulated among seven nations directly interested in nuclear power.

2. President Eisenhower's approval of an agreement for sharing some atomic secrets—dealing with the use but not the manufacture of nuclear weapons—with the 13 other North Atlantic tretaty nations.

President Eisenhower's original share-the-atom proposal was made in a speech before the United Nations General Assembly Dec. 8, 1953. However, Eisenhower threw up his hands early last fall at the lack of progress in privately trying to overcome Soviet roadblocks. He finally asserted the United States was going ahead, with or without Russia, and the Soviets agreed to resume the private talks which had languished.

Former Demo Counsel Faces Tax Complaint

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP) — Complaints charging Welburn Maycock, Los Angeles attorney and former general counsel for the Democratic party, and his wife with attempting to evade $25,716.98 in 1948 income taxes have been filed by U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters, it was disclosed today.

The fact that an investigation by the federal grand jury is under way in the matter also was disclosed.

Waters, confirming the investigation, said he could disclose nothing further about it nor anything except what is contained in the complaints filed with U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke.

BONN, Germany, April 14 (AP)—Three thousand of the giant community shelters Germany had in World War II are to be rebuilt under a civil defense plan. The shelters are in cities considered prime targets in any future war.

Trooper Rescues Child In 20-Yard Race With Death

WEST NEWTON, Pa., April 14 (AP) — State Police Pvt. Albert D'Amico ran a 20-yard dash against almost certain death today --and won.

D'Amico was in a patrol car near a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad crossing when he saw 2-year-old Mark Genemore toddling toward the tracks where a freight train was speeding by.

The officer leaped from the car and scooped up the child just as its hand touched the train.

U. S. Membership In World Trade Unit Asked By Ike

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to approve U.S. membership in a new world trade organization as an important step "in the struggle against Communist domination."

"We would thus cooperate further with the free world," he said in a special message, "to the greater security and the greater prosperity of all."

Specifically, his message from his vacation headquarters at Augusta, Ga., asked for legislation binding the United States to the Organization for Trade Cooperation, in a step designed to expand free world trade.

The OTC was set up at Geneva last March 21 by the United States and 33 other nations, Russia not among them. It would administer the trade rules and related activities of the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs, in which the United States is already a partner.

The OTC would have the job of policing international commerce, specifically more than 50 tariff concessions that have come into being in the last decade. It would investigate charges of violations, punish offenders by withdrawing concessions, and serve generally as an international trade forum.

Some concern has been expressed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) among others that the OTC might tie the hands of the President in trade matters through actions of its 17-country executive council.

However, Secretary of State Dulles has assured Byrd that it could not force its views on the United States.

Atom Blast Set Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 14 (AP)—The major weapons effect test of the 1955 atomic test series was set today for 9 a.m. or later tomorrow morning, weather permitting.

The shot was originally set for last Friday but has been postponed repeatedly. Another weather evaluation conference is set for tonight.

Public Hearings In Corsi Ouster Row Open Today

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Democrats sat back and watched Republicans argue today as a Senate subcommittee announced public hearings will open tomorrow in the controversy over Edward Corsi's ouster as State Department adviser on refugee problems.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), chairman of a Judiciary subcommittee investigating Corsi's charge of "scandalous failure" in carrying out the refugee program, said Secretary of State Dulles will be invited to testify, "very likely next week."

He also said one witness will be called from the White House, but declined to identify him or specifically to say whether it might be Max Raab, President Eisenhower's adviser on the problems of minority groups.

Both have been interviewed at closed door sessions, Corsi today and McLeod yesterday. Langer said after today's session that the two were in "very sharp disagreement" as to how the special refugee relief act has worked.

Two Republican Congress members defended the State Department's handling of the program and a third criticized it. Siding with McLeod were Sen. Watkins of Utah, a member of Langer's subcommittee, and Rep. Bow of Ohio. Sen. Ives lined up behind Corsi, a fellow New Yorker, saying he had been "disappointed in the prolonged delays" in carrying out the program.

Ives asked Dulles to "make known to the American people all the facts surrounding the controversy" over Corsi's dismissal.

Red Editors Balk At Fingerprinting, Miss Boat To U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Eleven Russian editors who waited nearly a year for permission to enter the United States missed their boat today as a result of balking at being fingerprinted.

However, the State Department said it still expects them to come.

So did the Institute of International Education, a private group acting as official host at State Department request.

The Institute said its plans were that if the students failed to leave today by ship, they would fly. The ship on which they had booked passage, the liner Queen Elizabeth, sailed from England today for New York.

The Russians had not received entry visas due to their refusal to be fingerprinted.

Chou, Burmese Premier Confer

RANGOON, Burma, April 14 (AP) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Burmese Premier U Nu discussed today the tensions between Red China and the United States. U Nu has cast himself in the role of peacemaker.

Chou arrived secretly by air in response to U Nu's special invitation for talks in advance of the conference of 29 Asian and African countries at Bandung, Indonesia, next week.

Informed sources said the two premiers would take up the Formosa question, the detention of American airmen by the Red Chinese and other issues between the Communists and the United States.

U Nu said last month he believes both nations "would welcome a negotiated settlement to avoid war, and if I can help, I am ready."

The Burmese Premier said he would pay an official visit to Washington in June "because by knowing the top leaders there, the better I may be able to help in the settlement of some problems."

Chou, originally scheduled to arrive yesterday, delayed his flight from Kunming for 24 hours. The unexplained delay came after Peiping radio accused "agents" of the United States and Nationalist China of sabotaging an earlier planeload of Red Chinese delegates headed for Bandung.

Benson Sees No Trade With Reds

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 14 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said tonight that trading U. S. farm products to Soviet Russia for other commodities is neither imminent nor likely.

Standing in the way of such trade, he said, is "Russia's lust for power."

These statements, in a speech prepared for the National Institute of Animal Agriculture, appeared to set at rest speculation the United States might relax restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Benson gave rise to this speculation by saying at a recent news conference in Washington that he favored trading with "anyone, anywhere, anytime in the good old Yankee tradition if it was distinctly to our advantage to do so."

He also said then that top administration officials were reviewing policies with regard to trading with Communist areas.

Husky Laborer Confesses Maniac-Type Killing Of Six

HENDERSON, Ky., April 14 (AP)—A husky construction worker, described as a likable fellow with a 'disarming charm," has confessed the maniac-type killing of six persons, authorities said today.

Each victim was shot in the head with a pistol after his hands were bound behind him. Two were forced to kneel.

Police Chief Kirby Stevens of Evansville, Ind., and Detective Charles Young of the Kentucky State Police said the confession came from Leslie Irvin, 30, an ex-convict, who is in jail at Evansville.

Irvin's arrest, after some children copied the license number of his automobile, apparently solved a mystery which had baffled police and frightened residents of this Kentucky-Indiana border area for four months. Evansville is across the Ohio River from Henderson.

The series of fantastic killings began Dec. 2 in Evansville when Mrs. Mary Holland, 36, a liquor store operator, was slain.

Wesley W, Kerr, 32, an Evansville service station operator, was killed Dec. 23. Mrs. Wilhelmina Sailer, 47, a housewife of Mount Vernon, Ind., became victim No. 3 on March 21.

Then on March 28 three members of one farm family were shot to death near Henderson. They were Goebel Duncan, 51; his son Raymond, 21, and the wife of another son, Mrs. Dorie Ray Duncan, 20. Mrs. Goebel Duncan, 49, was critically wounded.

Irvin, who served nine years in prison for an Indianapolis burglary, said burglary was the motive.

"Nike" Accidentally Fired Explodes Over Md. Highway

FT. MEADE, Md., April 14 (AP)—One soldier was slightly burned today when a Nike guided missile was accidentally discharged during a routine training alert. The Army launched an immediate investigation.

The missile, armed with a warhead, apparently exploded in flight showering metal fragments on the intersection of the new Baltimore-Washington Expressway and Maryland 602, about a mile from this sprawling military base south of Baltimore.

Lt. Col. Dwight Bingham, deputy chief of information at 2nd Army Headquarters here, said it was fortunate no one else was hurt and no property was destroyed.

Terming the Army "embarrassed," Col. Bingham said a board of inquiry was formed to try to determine whether the missile was launched accidentally by a crewman or whether there was a malfunction in the electronic firing mechanism.

The Nike, which can search out a target plane and track it down until the explosive contact is made, got away from a temporary launcher during a routine practice alert this afternoon. The missile was not scheduled to be launched in the alert.

Col. Bingham said the rocket booster on the missile dropped on the military reservation.

Pvt. R. C. Lamon, a federal parks policeman driving on the expressway, was apparently closest to where the missile came down.

"There was a puff—not exactly an explosion—and the woods for a few hundred yards on both sides of the road were showered with metal fragments," he said.

Supreme Court Will Determine Road To Follow

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Arguments over the momentous issue of how to abolish the color line in public schools were completed today in the Supreme Court.

Thurgood Marshall, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, got in the last word. He urged the court to be as "forthright" in decreeing a time limit for ending segregation as it was last May in declaring that segregation violates the Constitution. Otherwise, he said there will be long delays before Negroes are admitted to non-segregated schools.

U.S. Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff called for a decree avoiding the extremes of "a fixed and inflexible limitation" and "no limitation at all" on time.

Four Days Of Argument

He asked the court to order "bonafide progress" toward integrated schools without "riding over people rough shod" and without leaving segregation "hanging in the air."

Marshall and Sobeloff were the only lawyers heard today, the fourth day of arguments on how to follow up last May's decision.

Both took the position that the court in some way ought to make it clear that desegregation must apply to all the country, not just to the few individuals in the cases decided by the justices.

There was little new and little dramatic at the windup of the hearings, which produced three different contentions:

Southern states argued that the Supreme Court should fix no deadline for integration, lay down no specific orders for carrying it out, and leave details to the states and their school boards.

Court Urged To Set Deadline

Attorneys for Negro parents urged the court to say that segregation must be ended by next September or, at the latest, by September, 1956.

The Eisenhower administration, through Sobeloff, proposed an approach with no fixed deadline but with insurance against any interminable delay.

Now it is up to the justices to determine which course to follow or whether to chart one of their own. Nearly a year ago, the justices recognized that "problems of considerable complexity" were involved.

Russia Makes Concessions; Raab Jubilant

Any Terms Reached Subject To Approval By Western Powers

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP) — Russia and Austria have agreed on "practically all questions" on a treaty to restore Austria's independence, Austrian Ambassador Norbert Bischoff said tonight.

In Vienna, Austrian Premier Julius Raab's People's party disclosed he had telephoned from Moscow, saying:

"Austria will be free, and we will receive back our native soil in its entirety. Our war prisoners will be free again."

Raab and his advisers have been negotiating here for three days for Soviet consent to an independence treaty that would end 10 years' occupation of little Austria by the Big Four powers.

Some Problems Remain

Bischoff said members of the Russian and Austrian delegations still were working on remaining problems late tonight. He had this to say on specific points in the negotiations:

1. The question of guarantees demanded by Russia that Austria will never unite again with Germany would be settled by a request by Austria to the occupying powers to protect her against another such merger or anschluss. The occupying powers are Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

2. Austria promised not to permit any foreign military bases on her territory.

3. Austrian participation in any military alliances was "not a point under discussion." Austria does not care to sign any military treaties. No agreement was made with the Russians which would prevent Austria from joining other international organizations, such as economic groups.

Western Powers Must Agree

The United States, Britain, and France will have to agree to any terms worked out in Moscow before the terms can become effective. Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl, who accompanied Raab, has kept the Western Big Three's envoys in Moscow fully informed on the Austrian-Soviet negotiations. Austrian reports quoted Bischoff as saying he was sure the Western powers would not oppose the new agreement.

Reports reaching Vienna and London from Western informants said the Russians have agreed to substantial renunciation of Russia's claims on Austria's Zistersdorf oilfields; abandonment of Russian claims to assets of the Danube Steamship Co. in Eastern Austria, agreement by Moscow to accept 150 million dollars in goods as reparations from Austria.

The Western powers long ago renounced all reparations claims on Austria, treating it as a liberated rather than a defeated country.

U. S. And Russia Take New Step In Atomic Plan

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The United States and Russia took another secret step today in their negotiations on President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin called by invitation at the State Department. He was with Asst. Secretary Livingston T. Merchant just long enough to pick up a document.

Outside he told newsmen it was a reply to a Soviet inquiry of last November about Eisenhower's proposal to distribute atomic data among all nations for peaceful purposes.

But what the Russian note said and how the United States replied were closely guarded secrets.

However, Zarubin's invited visit came against this backdrop:

1. Reports from the United Nations that a U. S. blueprint for an atomic clearing house is being circulated among seven nations directly interested in nuclear power.

2. President Eisenhower's approval of an agreement for sharing some atomic secrets—dealing with the use but not the manufacture of nuclear weapons—with the 13 other North Atlantic tretaty nations.

President Eisenhower's original share-the-atom proposal was made in a speech before the United Nations General Assembly Dec. 8, 1953. However, Eisenhower threw up his hands early last fall at the lack of progress in privately trying to overcome Soviet roadblocks. He finally asserted the United States was going ahead, with or without Russia, and the Soviets agreed to resume the private talks which had languished.

Former Demo Counsel Faces Tax Complaint

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP) — Complaints charging Welburn Maycock, Los Angeles attorney and former general counsel for the Democratic party, and his wife with attempting to evade $25,716.98 in 1948 income taxes have been filed by U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters, it was disclosed today.

The fact that an investigation by the federal grand jury is under way in the matter also was disclosed.

Waters, confirming the investigation, said he could disclose nothing further about it nor anything except what is contained in the complaints filed with U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke.

German Shelters Rebuilt

BONN, Germany, April 14 (AP)—Three thousand of the giant community shelters Germany had in World War II are to be rebuilt under a civil defense plan. The shelters are in cities considered prime targets in any future war.

Trooper Rescues Child In 20-Yard Race With Death

WEST NEWTON, Pa., April 14 (AP) — State Police Pvt. Albert D'Amico ran a 20-yard dash against almost certain death today —and won.

D'Amico was in a patrol car near a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad crossing when he saw 2-year-old Mark Genemore toddling toward the tracks where a freight train was speeding by.

The officer leaped from the car and scooped up the child just as its hand touched the train.

U. S. Membership In World Trade Unit Asked By Ike

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to approve U.S. membership in a new world trade organization as an important step "in the struggle against Communist domination."

"We would thus cooperate further with the free world," he said in a special message, "to the greater security and the greater prosperity of all."

Specifically, his message from his vacation headquarters at Augusta, Ga., asked for legislation binding the United States to the Organization for Trade Cooperation, in a step designed to expand free world trade.

The OTC was set up at Geneva last March 21 by the United States and 33 other nations, Russia not among them. It would administer the trade rules and related activities of the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs, in which the United States is already a partner.

The OTC would have the job of policing international commerce, specifically more than 50 tariff concessions that have come into being in the last decade. It would investigate charges of violations, punish offenders by withdrawing concessions, and serve generally as an international trade forum.

Some concern has been expressed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) among others that the OTC might tie the hands of the President in trade matters through actions of its 17-country executive council.

However, Secretary of State Dulles has assured Byrd that it could not force its views on the United States.

Atom Blast Set Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 14 (AP)—The major weapons effect test of the 1955 atomic test series was set today for 9 a.m. or later tomorrow morning, weather permitting.

The shot was originally set for last Friday but has been postponed repeatedly. Another weather evaluation conference is set for tonight.

Public Hearings In Corsi Ouster Row Open Today

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Democrats sat back and watched Republicans argue today as a Senate subcommittee announced public hearings will open tomorrow in the controversy over Edward Corsi's ouster as State Department adviser on refugee problems.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), chairman of a Judiciary subcommittee investigating Corsi's charge of "scandalous failure" in carrying out the refugee program, said Secretary of State Dulles will be invited to testify, "very likely next week."

He also said one witness will be called from the White House, but declined to identify him or specifically to say whether it might be Max Raab, President Eisenhower's adviser on the problems of minority groups.

Both have been interviewed at closed door sessions, Corsi today and McLeod yesterday. Langer said after today's session that the two were in "very sharp disagreement" as to how the special refugee relief act has worked.

Two Republican Congress members defended the State Department's handling of the program and a third criticized it. Siding with McLeod were Sen. Watkins of Utah, a member of Langer's subcommittee, and Rep. Bow of Ohio. Sen. Ives lined up behind Corsi, a fellow New Yorker, saying he had been "disappointed in the prolonged delays" in carrying out the program.

Ives asked Dulles to "make known to the American people all the facts surrounding the controversy" over Corsi's dismissal.

Red Editors Balk At Fingerprinting, Miss Boat To U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Eleven Russian editors who waited nearly a year for permission to enter the United States missed their boat today as a result of balking at being fingerprinted.

However, the State Department said it still expects them to come.

So did the Institute of International Education, a private group acting as official host at State Department request.

The Institute said its plans were that if the students failed to leave today by ship, they would fly. The ship on which they had booked passage, the liner Queen Elizabeth, sailed from England today for New York.

The Russians had not received entry visas due to their refusal to be fingerprinted.

"Nike" Accidentally Fired Explodes Over Md. Highway

FT. MEADE, Md., April 14 (AP)—One soldier was slightly burned today when a Nike guided missile was accidentally discharged during a routine training alert. The Army launched an immediate investigation.

The missile, armed with a warhead, apparently exploded in flight showering metal fragments on the intersection of the new Baltimore-Washington Expressway and Maryland 602, about a mile from this sprawling military base south of Baltimore.

Lt. Col. Dwight Bingham, deputy chief of information at 2nd Army Headquarters here, said it was fortunate no one else was hurt and no property was destroyed.

Terming the Army "embarrassed," Col. Bingham said a board of inquiry was formed to try to determine whether the missile was launched accidentally by a crewman or whether there was a malfunction in the electronic firing mechanism.

The Nike, which can search out a target plane and track it down until the explosive contact is made, got away from a temporary launcher during a routine practice alert this afternoon. The missile was not scheduled to be launched in the alert.

Col. Bingham said the rocket booster on the missile dropped on the military reservation.

Pvt. R. C. Lamon, a federal parks policeman driving on the expressway, was apparently closest to where the missile came down.

"There was a puff—not exactly an explosion—and the woods for a few hundred yards on both sides of the road were showered with metal fragments," he said.

Chou, Burmese Premier Confer

RANGOON, Burma, April 14 (AP) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Burmese Premier U Nu discussed today the tensions between Red China and the United States. U Nu has cast himself in the role of peacemaker.

Chou arrived secretly by air in response to U Nu's special invitation for talks in advance of the conference of 29 Asian and African countries at Bandung, Indonesia, next week.

Informed sources said the two premiers would take up the Formosa question, the detention of American airmen by the Red Chinese and other issues between the Communists and the United States.

U Nu said last month he believes both nations "would welcome a negotiated settlement to avoid war, and if I can help, I am ready."

The Burmese Premier said he would pay an official visit to Washington in June "because by knowing the top leaders there, the better I may be able to help in the settlement of some problems."

Chou, originally scheduled to arrive yesterday, delayed his flight from Kunming for 24 hours. The unexplained delay came after Peiping radio accused "agents" of the United States and Nationalist China of sabotaging an earlier planeload of Red Chinese delegates headed for Bandung.

Quakes Felt In Italy

CESENA, Italy, April 14 (AP)—Five earthquakes were felt within 12 hours today in several Italian villages between Bologna and Forli. There were no reports of damage or injuries.

Builder Testifies Engineer Gave Him Foreign Aid Project Data

Poulsen Denies Any Payoff Was Involved

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—A Los Angeles builder testified today he got inside information from the government-hired engineer on the job while bidding on a $2,400,000 foreign aid project. He denied any payoff was involved.

The testimony came from Alfred E. Poulsen, whose company once was chosen to negotiate a contract for the Pakistan grain storage project with the Foreign Operations Administration.

The contract later fell through and FOA chief Harold E. Stassen called for new bids after a controversy arose. The Senate Investigations subcommittee now is trying to find out why the California firm was chosen in the first place since it was hundreds of thousands of dollars short of being low bidder.

Poulsen contradicted sworn testimony by Robert H. Pinner, who made an engineering survey in Pakistan for FOA, and said Pinner sent him details of the project before Poulsen's firm, the Agricultural Construction Co., submitted its bid.

Earlier in the day, Pinner acknowledged giving testimony that was "not accurate" to the subcommittee last week. His employer, the Ralph M. Parsons Co. of Los Angeles, promptly fired him. And the Parsons lawyer, Joseph Volpe, said he would no longer represent Pinner since a "conflict of interest" now is involved.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) ordered Pinner to come back tomorrow with a lawyer and set the record straight.

Pinner denied last week he had any communication with Poulsen while in Pakistan or while in Los Angeles after his return to the United States.

Poulsen contradicted him on both counts today. He said Pinner sent him letters and some cablegrams from Pakistan. And he said they had a talk in Los Angeles. It was at that time, he said, Pinner told him FOA had decided to negotiate a contract with Poulsen's firm.

McClellan asked if there was some "understanding" that Pinner would feed information to Poulsen.

"There was no understanding—no payoff," Poulsen replied. "That's not the way I do business."

Airliner Crash Part Of Murder Plot, Reds Say

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—Peiping radio charged today that the crash of an Air India plane bound for Bandung demonstrated that U. S. and Chinese Nationalist agents "were deliberately attempting to murder members of the Chinese delegation, headed by Chou En-lai."

Chou was not aboard the plane that crashed Monday in the South China Sea. Eight members of Red China's delegation to the Asian-African conference were among the 19 persons aboard. Two crewmen and an Air India ground engineer traveling as a passenger were rescued.

Peiping radio quoted the People's Daily as saying U. S. agents had instructed the Pan-Asian News Service to obtain information and photographs of passengers on the crashed plane and others traveling to Bandung so they could "find out whom they had murdered and prepare for new murders."

An official of Pan-Asia said it was merely going through the routine of trying to obtain pictures and names of the victims for subscribers.

The broadcast followed an official Red Chinese protest to Britain—which was denied immediately—that authorities of the Hong Kong colony must share in the blame for the crash. Hong Kong was the last landing place of the plane before the crash.

The protest note was handed to Charge d'Affaires Sir Humphrey Trevelyan yesterday in Peiping. The Foreign office here said Trevelyan rejected it verbally.

A formal denial of the Red Chinese allegation that Hong Kong officials failed to act on a Peiping warning of sabotage will be sent from London, the Foreign Office said.

DRAMATIC MOMENT—Robert P. Canina, 20-year-old bank employe, stands on a sixth floor ledge of the Manufacturers Trust Company building in New York. Police said he threatened to jump as a result of a quarrel with a girl friend. After 20 minutes on his precarious perch he was talked out of leaping.

Senate Debates Economy, Boosts Agencies' Funds

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Senate voted an extra 945 million dollars for a number of federal agencies today after a flurry of debate over economy claims of the Eisenhower administration.

In the House, meanwhile, a voice vote passed and sent to the Senate a $450,398,227 appropriation to finance the State and Justice Departments and the Voice of America for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The Senate economy debate brought a charge from Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) that the administration is fooling the public by cutting spending estimates when it submits its budget and then coming to Congress for additional billions when the agencies run short of money.

Declaring the administration's economy claims are "illusory, false and ill-founded," Douglas challenged Sen. Bridges (R-NH) as ranking Republican on the Appropriations Committee to make the executive branch submit "more honest" budget estimates.

Bridges replied that Douglas' comments were "not accurate."

He said every administration in power during his 19 years in the Senate has had to ask supplemental appropriations like the one voted today. And he said he always had insisted on realistic budget figures.

Today's Senate bill, carrying funds to operate a number of agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30, adds 88 millions to the amount already voted by the House. So the House will have to consider it again.

Seven million dollars of the increase was for the federal school lunch program.

The first assembly of civilized nations that ever met to formulate a plan for world peace was the International Peace Conference held at the Hague from May 18 to July 29, 1899.

Solons Demand Inquiry In Case Of Captive Fliers

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Sens. Knowland (R-Calif) and Morse (D-Ore), who differ about many things, joined today in demanding a full Senate inquiry into the case of 15 U. S. airmen jailed by Red China.

Both accused the United Nations of falling down on its job. The U. N. secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, traveled to Peiping in an effort to win their release and reported Jan. 13 on his return that he felt progress had been made through his talks with the Chinese Communists.

Knowland asked in the Senate today: "When is Mr. Hammarskjold going to make a report to the American people? When such a report is made, what is the United States government going to do about it?"

The two senators said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Armed Services Committee should call in top officials from the State and Defense Departments to see what the situation is.

Sen. George Defends Eisenhower's Policy

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 14 (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga), in a ringing defense of President Eisenhower, declared tonight the cause of peace would not be served by any United States declaration on whether this country would defend the Quemoy and Matsu Islands.

In a speech to the Georgia Bankers Assn., the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also renewed his call for a top-level meeting of the United States, Britain and France with Russia.

Bolich Sentenced To Prison And Fined

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Daniel A. Bolich, once the nation's second ranking tax collector, got five years in prison today and a $15,000 fine as an income tax fixer.

Bolich, who recently suffered a heart attack, was allowed to remain free on $3,500 bond pending an appeal of his conviction with Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald and Attorney Max Halperin.

The 56-year-old Bolich was assistant commissioner of internal revenue in 1948 and 1949.

Capital Residents Working In State Must Pay Md. Tax

ROCKVILLE, Md., April 14 (AP)—A State court ruled today that Maryland can levy taxes on federal employes in Maryland who live outside Maryland.

Judge Stedman Prescott of the Montgomery Circuit Court made the ruling in the case of six employes of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda. They are charged with failing to pay State income taxes in 1953. They were residents then of the District of Columbia.

Four of the six also were charged with failing to file tax returns. The other two filed returns and the court held they are liable to pay the tax.

Rieve Strives To Avert Strike

BOSTON, April 14 (AP)—Striving to head off a strike of some 40,000 New England CIO textile workers, the union president tonight asked mill owners to withdraw demands for a wage reduction.

In a letter to owners of some 40 mills, Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America, urged employers to "match the workers' statesmanship by withdrawing your demands" for a 10 cents an hour slash in wages and fringe payments.

Seabury Stanton, board chairman of Berkshire Hathaway, Inc., replying to Rieves' letter, charged that the union is not negotiating "in a true sense."

Rieve's letter emphasized that the union members had offered to renew existing contracts without change.

His letter was in the mails shortly after a State House conference of management and union ended in a deadlock.

"It looks like a strike is inevitable," said Massachusetts Labor Commissioner Ernest A. Johnson after conciliation efforts failed.

Chinese Jets Shifted

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 14 (AP)—Red China is flying some of its Russian-made jet bombers from the north to bases 320 to 420 miles from Formosa, intelligence reports said today.

General Warns Of Red Missiles

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP)—Russia within the next 10 years may have 8,000-to 16,000-mile-an-hour missiles capable of reaching any target in the United States, the head of the Continental Air Defense Command said tonight.

Unmanned bombers flying two to three times the speed of sound also were envisioned by Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw, here from his command post in Colorado Springs, Colo.

He told department heads of the Hughes Aircraft Co.:

"Even now you are only on the doorstep of new defensive missile demands which will put into yesterday those projectile and fire control mechanisms so recently proven and in use now.

"We must not only equal but surpass at every point those improvements we believe within his (enemy) reach—more speed, more punch, more power, more accuracy, more deterrent destructiveness.

"In the offing—and not too far away either—is the cruising missile, a variety of unmanned bomber with speeds in the vicinity of two to three times the speed of sound..."

British Soldier Asks Asylum In Red Berlin

BERLIN, April 14 (AP) — Communist East Germany said tonight British Lance Cpl. J. Gordon has asked for political asylum in East Berlin.

He was identified as a member of the 1st Battalion of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, stationed in West Berlin. The official East German news agency ADN quoted Gordon as saying he wanted to "work for peace and not to serve in the British army which is preparing for a new war."

Towson's Queen Of May

TOWSON, Md., April 14 (AP) — Donna Marie Rinehart, Hagerstown senior, has been chosen Queen of the May at Towson State Teachers College.

1st Quarter Business Record Is Reported

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today "it is clear from preliminary indications" a new first quarter record was set by business—for production of goods and services—in the first three months of 1955.

Weeks added that "we have a good chance of putting up the best year in our history in 1955."

Weeks' advance summary of first quarter economic conditions said that disposable personal income—personal income after taxes—rose during the first quarter to a record annual rate of 260 billion dollars. That was eight billions higher than a year earlier.

Weeks spoke to a news conference on the eve of his departure for a visit to international trade affairs at Milan, Italy, Hanover, Germany, Lieg and Brussel, Belgium, London and Birmingham, England, and Paris, France.

Fascists Sentenced

FLORENCE, Italy, April 14 (AP)—Seven Fascist extremists have been sentenced to jail terms of up to three years for advocating a return to Mussolini-style rule.

Contaminated Geiger Counter Deceived Profs

DENVER, April 14 (AP) — The alarm of two Colorado University scientists over radioactive fallout in Denver from Nevada atomic tests was explained today. Dr. Willard F. Libby, scientist for the Atomic Energy Commission, said their Geiger counter itself was contaminated.

In a letter to Mayor Quigg Newton, Dr. Libby vindicated Drs. Theodore Puck and Ray Lanier, who had been denounced by Gov. Ed C. Johnson for alarming residents of the area with reports the fallout was reaching dangerous proportions after a March 7 explosion on the Nevada desert.

The university professors were bothered when their counter, which normally records a background radioactivity of 60 counts per minute, jumped to 4,000 counts per minute.

Dr. Libby said atomic dust particles got into the Geiger counter used by Dr. Puck at the Colorado Medical Center and contaminated the counter tube, thereby creating a falsely high radioactive reading.

When they released their statement of warning, the two Colorado university scientists said they were puzzled, but felt the matter could not safely be ignored.

Business Record Seen

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today there are "good chances" that business activity this year will soar to an all time record, even above the previous peak of 1953.

Two Czech Students Steal Plane And Fly To Freedom

Karel Kucera, 20, of Prague, and Zdnek Nachmilner, 19, of Fisverable, crashlanded their single-engine plane in a Bavarian farm field shortly after dawn today. There was less than a gallon of gas left in the tank but their flight had taken them 45 miles inside West Germany.

U. S. officials took them to Nuernberg for questioning, the usual procedure before details of such escapes are made public.

A startled German farm woman was the first to speak to them. She was on her way to chores in the field when the tiny, German-made plane landed.

"We are not Communists," one of them told her in German. "We stole this plane last night in Czechoslovakia. Please tell us where the nearest police station is. We want to ask for political asylum."

The flight of the two young Czechs was the latest in a series of bizarre escapes from Communist Czechoslovakia. On May 12, 1954, a shivering 23-year-old Czech, wearing only shorts, landed a stolen plane at the U. S. Army training grounds at Grafenwoehr. A year earlier, three Czechs took over an airliner at pistol point and made the pilot fly to the West. Twenty-three aboard the plane were returned to Czechoslovakia at their own request. Others have excaped by commandeering a train, and one group fled in a "freedom tank," made out of an armored car.

It takes more than 100,000 union-management contracts to set the wages and other conditions of employment for the 15 million union workers in the United States.

Tankers Crash In Fog

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Two tankers collided in fog off New York harbor today and stayed locked together more than two hours—the anchor of one stuck in the side of the other.

Then the vessels, the American-owned Clarke's Wharf and the British-owned Patella, drew apart and limped to nearby piers.

Nobody was reported injured.

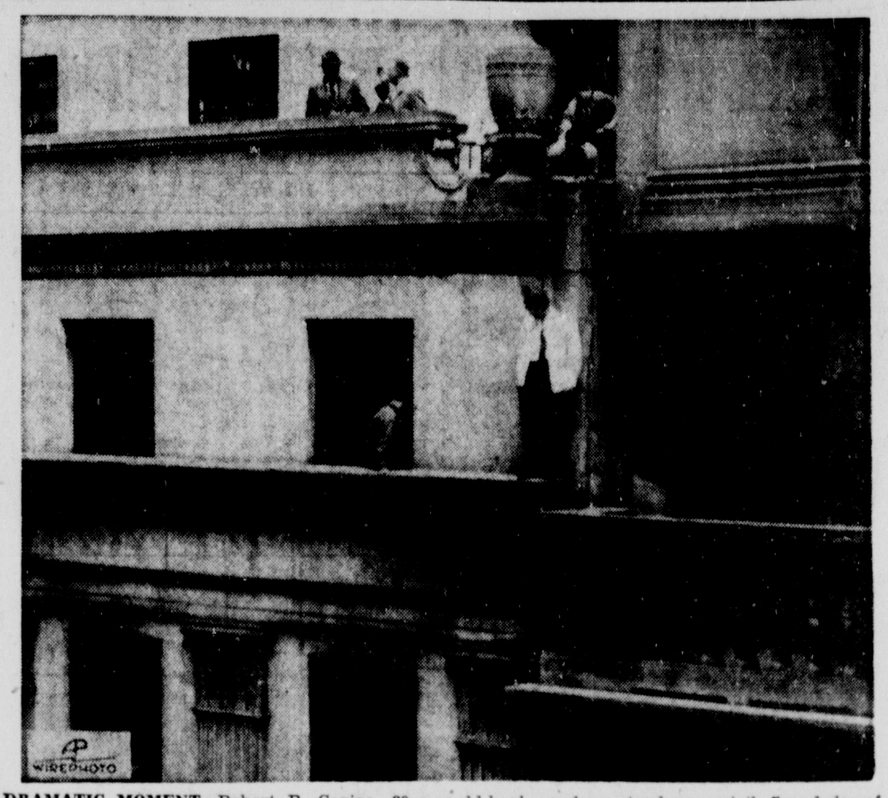
The broadcast followed an official Red Chinese protest to Britain—which was denied immediately—that authorities of the Hong Kong colony must share in the blame for the crash, Hong Kong was the last landing place of the plane before the crash.

The protest note was handed to Charge d'Affaires Sir Humphrey Treveiyan yesterday in Peiping. The Foreign office here said Trevelyan rejected it verbally.

A formal denial of the Red Chinese allegation that Hong Kong officials failed to act on a Peiping warning of sabotage will be sent from London, the Foreign Office said.



DRAMATIC MOMENT—Robert P. Canina, 20-year-old bank employe, stands on a sixth floor ledge of the Manufacturers Trust Company building in New York. Police said he threatened to jump as a result of a quarrel with a girl friend. After 20 minutes on his precarious perch he was talked out of leaping.

Senate Debates Economy, Boosts Agencies' Funds

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Senate voted an extra 945 million dollars for a number of federal agencies today after a flurry of debate over economy claims of the Eisenhower administration.

In the House, meanwhile, a voice vote passed and sent to the Senate a $450,398,227 appropriation to finance the State and Justice Departments and the Voice of America for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The Senate economy debate brought a charge from Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) that the administration is fooling the public by cutting spending estimates when it submits its budget and then coming to Congress for additional billions when the agencies run short of money.

Declaring the administration's economy claims are "illusory, false and ill-founded," Douglas challenged Sen. Bridges (R-NH) as ranking Republican on the Appropriations Committee to make the executive branch submit "more honest" budget estimates.

Bridges replied that Douglas' comments were "not accurate."

He said every administration in power during his 19 years in the Senate has had to ask supplemental appropriations like the one voted today. And he said he always had insisted on realistic budget figures.

Today's Senate bill, carrying funds to operate a number of agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30, adds 88 millions to the amount already voted by the House. So the House will have to consider it again.

Seven million dollars of the increase was for the federal school lunch program.

The first assembly of civilized nations that ever met to formulate a plan for world peace was the International Peace Conference held at the Hague from May 18 to July 29, 1899.

Solons Demand Inquiry In Case Of Captive Fliers

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Sens. Knowland (R-Calif) and Morse (D-Ore), who differ about many things, joined today in demanding a full Senate inquiry into the case of 15 U. S. airmen jailed by Red China.

Both accused the United Nations of falling down on its job. The U. N. secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, traveled to Peiping in an effort to win their release and reported Jan. 13 on his return that he felt progress had been made through his talks with the Chinese Communists.

Knowland asked in the Senate today: "When is Mr. Hammarskjold going to make a report to the American people? When such a report is made, what is the United States government going to do about it?"

The two senators said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Armed Services Committee should call in top officials from the State and Defense Departments to see what the situation is.

Sen. George Defends Eisenhower's Policy

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 14 (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga), in a ringing defense of President Eisenhower, declared tonight the cause of peace would not be served by any United States declaration on whether this country would defend the Quemoy and Matsu Islands.

In a speech to the Georgia Bankers Assn., the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also renewed his call for a top-level meeting of the United States, Britain and France with Russia.

Bolich Sentenced To Prison And Fined

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Daniel A. Bolich, once the nation's second ranking tax collector, got five years in prison today and a $15,000 fine as an income tax fixer.

Bolich, who recently suffered a heart attack, was allowed to remain free on $3,500 bond pending an appeal of his conviction with Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald and Attorney Max Halperin.

The 56-year-old Bolich was assistant commissioner of internal revenue in 1948 and 1949.

Capital Residents Working In State Must Pay Md. Tax

ROCKVILLE, Md., April 14 (AP)—A State court ruled today that Maryland can levy taxes on federal employes in Maryland who live outside Maryland.

Judge Stedman Prescott of the Montgomery Circuit Court made the ruling in the case of six employes of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda. They are charged with failing to pay State income taxes in 1953. They were residents then of the District of Columbia.

Four of the six also were charged with failing to file tax returns. The other two filed returns and the court held they are liable to pay the tax.

Rieve Strives To Avert Strike

BOSTON, April 14 (AP)—Striving to head off a strike of some 40,000 New England CIO textile workers, the union president tonight asked mill owners to withdraw demands for a wage reduction.

In a letter to owners of some 40 mills, Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America, urged employers to "match the workers' statesmanship by withdrawing your demands" for a 10 cents an hour slash in wages and fringe payments.

Seabury Stanton, board chairman of Berkshire Hathaway, Inc., replying to Rieves' letter, charged that the union is not negotiating "in a true sense."

Rieve's letter emphasized that the union members had offered to renew existing contracts without change.

His letter was in the mails shortly after a State House conference of management and union ended in a deadlock.

"It looks like a strike is inevitable," said Massachusetts Labor Commissioner Ernest A. Johnson after conciliation efforts failed.

Chinese Jets Shifted

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 14 (AP)—Red China is flying some of its Russian-made jet bombers from the north to bases 320 to 420 miles from Formosa, intelligence reports said today.

General Warns Of Red Missiles

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP)—Russia within the next 10 years may have 8,000-to 16,000-mile-an-hour missiles capable of reaching any target in the United States, the head of the Continental Air Defense Command said tonight.

Unmanned bombers flying two to three times the speed of sound also were envisioned by Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw, here from his command post in Colorado Springs, Colo.

He told department heads of the Hughes Aircraft Co.:

"Even now you are only on the doorstep of new defensive missile demands which will put into yesterday those projectile and fire control mechanisms so recently proven and in use now.

"We must not only equal but surpass at every point those improvements we believe within his (enemy) reach—more speed, more punch, more power, more accuracy, more deterrent destructiveness.

"In the offing—and not too far away either—is the cruising missile, a variety of unmanned bomber with speeds in the vicinity of two to three times the speed of sound..."

British Soldier Asks Asylum In Red Berlin

BERLIN, April 14 (AP) — Communist East Germany said tonight British Lance Cpl. J. Gordon has asked for political asylum in East Berlin.

He was identified as a member of the 1st Battalion of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, stationed in West Berlin. The official East German news agency ADN quoted Gordon as saying he wanted to "work for peace and not to serve in the British army which is preparing for a new war."

Contaminated Geiger Counter Deceived Profs

DENVER, April 14 (AP) — The alarm of two Colorado University scientists over radioactive fallout in Denver from Nevada atomic tests was explained today. Dr. Willard F. Libby, scientist for the Atomic Energy Commission, said their Geiger counter itself was contaminated.

In a letter to Mayor Quigg Newton, Dr. Libby vindicated Drs. Theodore Puck and Ray Lanier, who had been denounced by Gov. Ed C. Johnson for alarming residents of the area with reports the fallout was reaching dangerous proportions after a March 7 explosion on the Nevada desert.

The university professors were bothered when their counter, which normally records a background radioactivity of 60 counts per minute, jumped to 4,000 counts per minute.

Dr. Libby said atomic dust particles got into the Geiger counter used by Dr. Puck at the Colorado Medical Center and contaminated the counter tube, thereby creating a falsely high radioactive reading.

When they released their statement of warning, the two Colorado university scientists said they were puzzled, but felt the matter could not safely be ignored.

1st Quarter Business Record Is Reported

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today "it is clear from preliminary indications" a new first quarter record was set by business—for production of goods and services—in the first three months of 1955.

Weeks added that "we have a good chance of putting up the best year in our history in 1955."

Weeks' advance summary of first quarter economic conditions said that disposable personal income—personal income after taxes—rose during the first quarter to a record annual rate of 260 billion dollars. That was eight billions higher than a year earlier.

Weeks spoke to a news conference on the eve of his departure for a visit to international trade affairs at Milan, Italy, Hanover, Germany, Lieg and Brussel, Belgium, London and Birmingham, England, and Paris, France.

Fascists Sentenced

FLORENCE, Italy, April 14 (AP)—Seven Fascist extremists have been sentenced to jail terms of up to three years for advocating a return to Mussolini-style rule.

Business Record Seen

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks said today there are "good chances" that business activity this year will soar to an all time record, even above the previous peak of 1953.

Two Czech Students Steal Plane And Fly To Freedom

Karel Kucera, 20, of Prague, and Zdnek Nachmilner, 19, of Fisverable, crashlanded their single-engine plane in a Bavarian farm field shortly after dawn today. There was less than a gallon of gas left in the tank but their flight had taken them 45 miles inside West Germany.

U. S. officials took them to Nuernberg for questioning, the usual procedure before details of such escapes are made public.

A startled German farm woman was the first to speak to them. She was on her way to chores in the field when the tiny, German-made plane landed.

"We are not Communists," one of them told her in German. "We stole this plane last night in Czechoslovakia. Please tell us where the nearest police station is. We want to ask for political asylum."

The flight of the two young Czechs was the latest in a series of bizarre escapes from Communist Czechoslovakia. On May 12, 1954, a shivering 23-year-old Czech, wearing only shorts, landed a stolen plane at the U. S. Army training grounds at Grafenwoehr. A year earlier, three Czechs took over an airliner at pistol point and made the pilot fly to the West. Twenty-three aboard the plane were returned to Czechoslovakia at their own request. Others have escaped by commandeering a train, and one group fled in a "freedom tank," made out of an armored car.

It takes more than 100,000 union-management contracts to set the wages and other conditions of employment for the 15 million union workers in the United States.

Tankers Crash In Fog

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Two tankers collided in fog off New York harbor today and stayed locked together more than two hours—the anchor of one stuck in the side of the other.

Then the vessels, the American-owned Clarke's Wharf and the British-owned Patella, drew apart and limped to nearby piers.

Bill To Limit Congress Tenure Seems Least Likely To Succeed

WASHINGTON, April 14 — Of the more than 7,000 bills introduced in this session of Congress, one by Rep. Thomas Curtis (R-Mo) seems the least likely to succeed.

For Curtis wants to put a constitutional limit on how long a man can hang on in Congress. And if there is any spot where congressmen show a fine, bipartisan spirit, it's here. They all want to hang on.

If Curtis had his way, each senator and representative would have to drop out for at least two years after serving 12 consecutive years.

Curtis has tried to make this departure as diplomatic sounding as possible. "Compulsory sabatical leave," he calls it.

Not many voters understand the pressures that build up to keep a man or woman in Congress. No man likes to turn loose of an important job, especially if he needs it to eat, as many congressmen do.

Why step down now, boys? I'm in line for the chairmanship of a big committee.

So the Senate, led by Sen. Walter George (D-Ga), who arrived here on Nov. 8, 1922, has 17 of 96 members with 12 years or more of consecutive service.

The House is led by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), who goes all the way back to March 4, 1913, the day Wilson was inaugurated President.

It's hard to count the old noses in the House exactly, because many representatives have breaks in their service records. But around 123 of the 435 have been here for 12 consecutive years or longer.

Eight have put in more than 30 years, and, on June 30, Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) will join them.

Obviously no one is going to vote for a constitutional amendment that puts him out of work. Curtis has tried to get around that by having his amendment take effect 12 years after its adoption.

But a proposed amendment needs a two-thirds vote in the House and Senate before it can be sent to the states for ratification or rejection. And with so many oldtimers around, who have found the present system pleasant, Curtis' proposal will have rough going.

He concedes this. But he is hopeful that after the idea has been kicked around awhile, other congressmen will see the same merit he sees in it.

Such as:

Giving a congressman a way to bow out gracefully, giving him a rest period at home in which he can get a fresh look at the nation's problems, providing the seniority system with a little flexibility.

As you doubtless have guessed Curtis is a young squirt as congressmen go, having arrived here only four years ago. Speaking for the squirts, Curtis says few congressmen start out intending to make a career of it.

"They simply get caught in a fascinating rut," he said.

It will be interesting to check, eight years from now, and see if the Curtis theory is right, and if the fascinating rut has claimed him, too.

Simple Cancer Test Reported

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (AP)—A simple new test for cancer which uses the sprouts of a plant as an indicator was reported to the nation's biologists today by a veteran Baltimore drug expert, Dr. David I. Macht.

The technique can detect not only the presence of cancer but it can also determine the advance or retreat of malignancy while under treatment, Dr. Macht said.

A sample of urine is all that is needed from the test subject. An extract of the sample is applied to the little rootlets of lupinus albus, a member of the lupin family of common flowers.

The extent to which the extract damages the roots shows whether cancer is present, Dr. Macht reported to the Federated American Societies for Experimental Biology. Dr. Macht was not present. His paper was read by title and made a part of the record.

Russia Uses "Sleep" Bait To Trap Animals

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—The Russians say they are trapping animals with a new bait which puts them to sleep.

The bait is described in the newspaper Evening Moscow, which prints a picture of a man who lugged into Moscow a wolf caught near the capital.

About 2½ tons of diamonds are mined annually, about 90 per cent of which are sent to the United States.

"Bingo" Kicks Up Tempest Across Country With Repercussions In Courts And Churches

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — "Bingo!"

That little word is uttered with as much fervor in religious circles today as it is by the little gray-haired lady who got her card filled first in the big jackpot game of the evening.

"The work of the Devil," some say.

"A harmless, beneficial diversion," say others.

The game, an outgrowth of the political lotteries of medieval Italy, has been kicking up tempests across the country, with repercussions in courts, legislatures, police departments and churches.

Nine states have legal bingo, usually limited to nonprofit charities and churches. Three states tried such plans, but threw them out. At least half a dozen other states have been pondering milder laws to permit the game.

"Bingo is not an evil per se and the interests of the public can best be served by its regulation rather than by its prohibition," Father Dominic Hughes and law professor Frederick J. Ludwig wrote in the Catholic Lawyer.

The New York Board of Rabbis said: "To use questionable means for spiritual ends . . . would taint the moral climate of congregational life."

"Bingo," said the National Council of Churches' magazine Outlook, "threatens to vitiate the American spirit of compassion and the sense of community responsibility by which this nation's charities have been richly blessed."

There is no clear-cut religious division on the subject despite some glib assertions to the contrary.

Although most opposition to legal bingo has come from Protestants, and most church support from Roman Catholics, many Catholic leaders also have opposed it. The debate doesn't stick to creedal lines.

Here, in brief, are some of the arguments. First, in favor of bingo:

1. Games of chance aren't basically immoral — just as buying stock in hope of profit or planting corn and gambling on the weather aren't immoral.

2. Bingo is a healthy, relaxing amusement, and prizes add to the interest.

3. Bingo sessions can ease the financial strain, often extreme, of maintaining costly parochial schools, a major Roman Catholic burden.

4. Receipts from such games also can support building programs and expansion of the church's ministry, which otherwise might go undone.

5. Through bingo, persons who otherwise might not contribute aid good causes.

Some of the objections:

1. Gambling appeals to greed, the desire to get something for nothing.

2. It creates "bingo addicts," usually among women who can least afford to squander household money in a game whose odds are against a fair return.

3. Legalizing the game, even for nonprofit groups alone, opens the door to professional racketeers, who often get control—and profits—of church concessions.

4. It is self-contradictory and unfair to say gambling is right for the churches, and wrong for the rest of the society.

5. Bingo cheapens the basis of church financial support, and replaces motives of generosity and devotion with avarice and sloth.

Despite the controversy, bingo has become a widespread pastime and big moneymaker. Games are widely held in clubs, lodges, veterans posts, churches, fire departments and elsewhere, sometimes against the law.

Soviets Respect U. S. Air Power, General Asserts

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP)—The head of the Continental Air Defense Command last night described the Strategic Air Command as "The sword of Damocles hanging over the Kremlin."

"No Russian in a power position doubts that it can get all the way to the Kremlin and beyond, and return as well after its job is done," said Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw. "This is a stay on national foolhardiness on their part—a part of our defense."

Here from his headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., Gen. Chidlaw addressed affiliates and parents of Claremont Men's College.

He defined "true air defense" as "the whole satchel full of air defense capability which we possess in this country." The Strategic Air Command, he said, has "endurance, range and weapons-carrying capacity."

"There are the tactical air forces of this country and our allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—fighter bomber units of jab and short punch category—which roost right at the Iron Curtain," he said.

"They give a potential aggressor pause, too—another factor in our defense. Then, too, the Navy's carrier task forces fit into the picture, wherever and whenever they can make contribution.

"Bingo" Kicks Up Tempest Across Country With Repercussions In Courts And Churches

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — "Bingo!"

That little word is uttered with as much fervor in religious circles today as it is by the little gray-haired lady who got her card filled first in the big jackpot game of the evening.

"The work of the Devil," some say.

"A harmless, beneficial diversion," say others.

The game, an outgrowth of the political lotteries of medieval Italy, has been kicking up tempests across the country, with repercussions in courts, legislatures, police departments and churches.

Nine states have legal bingo, usually limited to nonprofit charities and churches. Three states tried such plans, but threw them out. At least half a dozen other states have been pondering milder laws to permit the game.

Everybody But Russia Has Ideas For U. N. Charter Revision

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 14 —Almost everybody—private citizen and diplomat alike—has ideas for amending the United Nations Charter. Almost everybody, that is, except Russia.

The Charter, written 10 years ago at the founding of the U.N., defines its purposes and methods.

Some want to strengthen it, to move a step closer to world government. Some want to clip its wings. Some want to make other changes, neither adding to the U.N.'s power nor weakening it, but correcting some defects.

Russia, on the other hand, is firmly committed against any changes. She can use the veto to make her opposition prevail. This raises doubts as to whether the Charter can be amended at all. Why, then, talk about revising the Charter?

It's being discussed because the U.N. General Assembly will decide this fall whether to call an international conference on the subject in 1956.

A distinction must be made between belief that the Charter should be revised and a feeling that the world climate is not right for a successful conference.

Secretary of State Dulles has indicated United States will favor of calling the conference. He told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee:

"I believe the advantages of a review conference exceed the possible disadvantages."

Dulles expressed hope world public opinion would force Russia to accept some amendments. Russia was swayed by public opinion in the Charter sessions at Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco, Dulles said, and might be influenced again.

The Senate subcommittee on Charter review has held a series of hearings around the country. More than 300 Americans have expressed their views. Next week the subcommittee will hear former Presidents Hoover and Truman, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Neither the State Department nor the Senate group has recommended any specific amendments. But the United States advocates an amendment to eliminate use of the veto against admission of new members. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate, says this is one change "which it seems everyone should support" since 14 countries are being kept out by the Soviet veto.

In an interim report, the Senate subcommittee listed major proposals put before it in its public hearings, including:

Universal and compulsory membership in the U.N., development of legislative authority in the General Assembly, strengthening the collective security powers of the U.N., extension of the authority of the international court, compulsory control over the development of armed forces under U.N. authority, control of armaments and atomic energy, voluntary abstention of big powers from the use of veto on membership and certain other questions, development of closer collaboration between the U.N. and the specialized agencies, elimination of the compulsory powers of the Security Council, curbing the recommendatory powers of the General Assembly, weighted voting in the Assembly, developments of ceilings on U.N. budgets and limiting the powers of the U.N. with respect to dependent territories.

These are just a few of the major proposals. Most of them would have little or no chance of acceptance—even if there were no Russian veto.

The subcommittee pointed this out, noting:

"Smaller states . . . would bitterly resent any proposal to change the system of voting in the General Assembly in such a way as radically to alter their position of equality with the big powers.

"Likewise Great Britain, France and other countries with colonial possessions, no doubt would oppose amendments conferring upon the U.N. greater authority with respect to nonself-governing territories.

"And certainly our government, among others, would vigorously object to any Charter change which would empower the U.N. to use our troops for enforcement action without our consent."

Dulles has stated no nation should press its views to an extent undermining the U.N. or disrupting it. As he sees it, "the United Nations, as it is, is better than no United Nations at all." He points out that the U.N. already has corrected many Charter defects through practice and that it can continue to do so without formal amendments.

Emphasis has been shifted, for example, from the Security Council to the veto-free Assembly. Regional defense groups, such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, have been created to fill the gap left by failure of the U.N. to set up an international police force. It has become an accepted practice in the Security Council that an abstention by one of the big powers does not constitute a veto, although the Charter calls for concurring votes of the Big Five.

Dulles summed up the views of many delegates this way:

"Many of the most desirable things can be accomplished by procedures short of a formal revision of the Charter."

Los Angeles county in California grew from one million to four million in population from 1920 to 1950.

There are more than four-million so-called "excessive drinkers" in the United States.

Air Force Major's Wife Is Mother To Her Sister

PATERSON, N.J., April 14 (AP)—An Air Force major has a wife who is mother to her sister.

This bit of mixed-up family life was revealed by Mrs. Nellie V. Bilson, mother of the Air Force major.

She said she acquired a new "granddaughter" this way:

Her son, Major John G. Bilson of Nagoya, Japan, married a Japanese girl, Yuoko.

He then adopted his wife's sister, Sumiko, 19, and Yuoko became foster mother to her sister.

Now the problem is to get Sumiko to the United States when the major comes home in June. The local congressman, Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-NJ) has entered the case and introduced a bill in Congress to let Sumiko come into the United States with her foster parents.

Bilson, who has been in the Air Force since 1941, flew 25 missions over Europe in World War II and then was navigator-bombardier in the Korean fighting, where he was wounded.

He wrote his mother this week announcing Sumiko's adoption.

Dulles expressed hope world public opinion would force Russia to accept some amendments. Russia was swayed by public opinion in the Charter sessions at Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco, Dulles said, and might be influenced again.

The Senate subcommittee on Charter review has held a series of hearings around the country. More than 300 Americans have expressed their views. Next week the subcommittee will hear former Presidents Hoover and Truman, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Neither the State Department nor the Senate group has recommended any specific amendments. But the United States advocates an amendment to eliminate use of the veto against admission of new members. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate, says this is one change "which it seems everyone should support" since 14 countries are being kept out by the Soviet veto.

In an interim report, the Senate subcommittee listed major proposals put before it in its public hearings, including:

Universal and compulsory membership in the U.N., development of legislative authority in the General Assembly, strengthening the collective security powers of the U.N., extension of the authority of the international court, compulsory control over the development of armed forces under U.N. authority, control of armaments and atomic energy, voluntary abstention of big powers from the use of veto on membership and certain other questions, development of closer collaboration between the U.N. and the specialized agencies, elimination of the compulsory powers of the Security Council, curbing the recommendatory powers of the General Assembly, weighted voting in the Assembly, developments of ceilings on U.N. budgets and limiting the powers of the U.N. with respect to dependent territories.

These are just a few of the major proposals. Most of them would have little or no chance of acceptance—even if there were no Russian veto.

The subcommittee pointed this out, noting:

"Smaller states . . . would bitterly resent any proposal to change the system of voting in the General Assembly in such a way as radically to alter their position of equality with the big powers.

"Likewise Great Britain, France and other countries with colonial possessions, no doubt would oppose amendments conferring upon the U.N. greater authority with respect to nonself-governing territories.

"And certainly our government, among others, would vigorously object to any Charter change which would empower the U.N. to use our troops for enforcement action without our consent."

Dulles has stated no nation should press its views to an extent undermining the U.N. or disrupting it. As he sees it, "the United Nations, as it is, is better than no United Nations at all." He points out that the U.N. already has corrected many Charter defects through practice and that it can continue to do so without formal amendments.

Emphasis has been shifted, for example, from the Security Council to the veto-free Assembly. Regional defense groups, such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, have been created to fill the gap left by failure of the U.N. to set up an international police force. It has become an accepted practice in the Security Council that an abstention by one of the big powers does not constitute a veto, although the Charter calls for concurring votes of the Big Five.

Dulles summed up the views of many delegates this way:

"Many of the most desirable things can be accomplished by procedures short of a formal revision of the Charter."

Los Angeles county in California grew from one million to four million in population from 1920 to 1950.

There are more than four-million so-called "excessive drinkers" in the United States.

Air Force Major's Wife Is Mother To Her Sister

PATERSON, N.J., April 14 (AP)—An Air Force major has a wife who is mother to her sister.

This bit of mixed-up family life was revealed by Mrs. Nellie V. Bilson, mother of the Air Force major.

She said she acquired a new "granddaughter" this way:

Her son, Major John G. Bilson of Nagoya, Japan, married a Japanese girl, Yuoko.

He then adopted his wife's sister, Sumiko, 19, and Yuoko became foster mother to her sister.

Now the problem is to get Sumiko to the United States when the major comes home in June. The local congressman, Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-NJ) has entered the case and introduced a bill in Congress to let Sumiko come into the United States with her foster parents.

Bilson, who has been in the Air Force since 1941, flew 25 missions over Europe in World War II and then was navigator-bombardier in the Korean fighting, where he was wounded.

He wrote his mother this week announcing Sumiko's adoption.

Training Meeting Today

There comes a time in every girl's life when she gets that last minute phone call. What a girl can do in an hour is amazing.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It happens to all girls. He phones at the last minute with the dinner invitation you didn't plan on. You're caught in work-stained dungarees and feeling anything but glamorous.

There's no time for the much needed trip to the beauty parlor. That means you have to do the job of getting beautiful . . . and with dispatch. That is, if you want to keep that date for seven sharp (etiquette says that when anyone makes a date . . . he keeps it on time).

If your hair is at sixes and sevens, here's a quick trick. Dampen your curls with cologne and pin them in place. They'll be dry in a jiffy and what's more . . . your hair will seem to have more body when set this way. Cleanse face and put cream on as a facial treatment while you bathe.

Next, douse little pads of cotton with witch hazel and place them on your eyelids. Lie down . . . and relax . . . utterly and completely. Erase all thoughts from your mind . . . fifteen minutes, ten, even five spent in this repose in your own sanctuary will repay a hundredfold.

Before makeup, apply a skin freshener for toning or dash cold water on the face. During warmer months keep bottle of skin lotion in the refrigerator. Now, put on your most glamorous makeup. Here's a tip my Powers Girls always follow. They put all their daytime makeup in one box or drawer and all their evening makeup-with extra items in another. This way they don't waste time.

U. S. Faces Long And Expensive Struggle To Keep Reds From Swallowing Up Asia

By ROGER D. GREENE
AP Writer

Playing against loaded dice, the United States faces a long, tough and expensive struggle in attempting to keep Asia from disappearing behind the Communist Bamboo Curtain.

Even without persistent Communist goading, many Asians suspect America's ties with the "colonial imperialism" of such European powers as Great Britain and France.

And there is a growing spirit of nationalism among the millions of dark and yellow-skinned Asians who distrust the white man.

Another hurdle is the widespread belief that communism does not represent an immediate, genuine threat to their own freedom.

Despite the lessons of Communist-enslaved Eastern Europe—and even in China and Indochina—Asiatic statesmen often complain that the United States is crying "Wolf!" about a nebulous danger.

Commenting on the Asian problem, Theodore C. Streibergn chief of the U.S. Information Agency, says:

"The people do not as yet fully understand the international character of Communist expansion and imperialism. They do not see it as a conspiracy directed at all free countries. They are, in fact, inclined to discredit such suggestions.

"These people are so deeply absorbed in their own internal problems that they have little concern for events outside their own boundaries. Moscow, even Peiping, seems far away.

"Herein lies the challenge for the U.S. Information Agency. It is our job to expose communism in those areas for what it is—Red colonialism."

To meet the challenge, the USIA has raised its Far East budget aims from $8,255,000 in 1954 to $13,190,000 for fiscal 1956. About 400 USIA employes are being added in Asiatic areas.

Already Voice of America transmitters beam their message from Honolulu, Manila, Okinawa and Ceylon. In addition, a USIA regional production center at Manila turns out cartoons, news releases, books and pamphlets in eight languages and scores of dialects.

Possibly the richest prize at stake is Japan, the only truly industrial power in the Far East.

Both sides recognize that if Japan's industry and China's population masses could be welded into a Red unit it would be a virtually unbeatable power. But the USIA has important natural allies in battling Communist efforts to achieve this end.

Basically, Japan appears to favor the type of free enterprise that accompanied America's industrialization.

In addition, there appears to be a widespread desire in Japan to do things the Japanese way—a reaction in many respects to the days of occupation.

Communism has made an especially strenuous effort to woo the Japanese intellectual, and perhaps this is where the doctrine has scored its greatest success.

A sizable percentage of Japan's college professors and schoolteachers have to some degree espoused communism. A large number of so called intellectual magazines prjnt pro-Communist, or anti-American, articles and editorials.

At lower levels, however, Communist propagandists have been unable to match two notable American institutions—motion pictures and baseball. Both are extremely popular with the average Japanese. Broadcasts of American major league baseball games, both regular season and World Series, are far and away the most popular Voice of American programs in Asia.

Red China spends lavishly to have representatives of other Asian nations tour "the new China." Often they return to their own countries with glowing reports, to be presented at Communist-sponsored meetings.

This program appears to have been especially effective not only in Japan, but in India, another tremendously important battleground in the Far Eastern ideological struggle.

In India, more than in Japan, the Communists have had considerable success with their "Asia for Asians" line.

Both in Japan and in India, America's best weapons have included teacher exchanges and visiting lecturer programs. But USIA officials say there is a great need for funds to widen these projects.

Dresden Gallery Art Treasures Believed Lost

MUNICH, Germany, April 14 (AP)—Where are the 1,500 art treasures missing since the war from the Dresden Museum in East Germany?

The Russians have announced plans to return 750 of them to Dresden next fall. These include Raphael's Sistine Madonna. Moscow said this group represents the entire collection which Soviet troops took to Russia after the war.

An authority on the subject believes the rest were destroyed before they reached Russia.

Hermann Voss, former director of the Dresden gallery, says:

"French officials told me after the war that the other paintings were on a train bound for Moscow that was blown up by anti-Communist Polish partisans who did not know what they were destroying."

Voss, now living in retirement in Munich, had taken over the Dresden gallery in 1943 and ordered its art objects removed to save them from aerial bombings. The most valuable ones, including the Sistine Madonna, were stored in an unused railroad tunnel near Pirna, Saxony. Others were moved to various castles.

The Dresden gallery originally had 3,000 paintings. Only 20 were destroyed by Allied bombs, including Gustave Courbet's "Stonebreakers" and the popular Repenting Madonna by Pompeo Batoni, Voss reports.

Salk Report Brings Cut In Insurance Premiums

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—In the wake of the Salk vaccine report, a New York insurance firm today cut premiums five per cent on its individual and family hospital expense policies.

President Louis W. Dawson of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, said in a statement:

"The company recognizes that results of the new vaccine can only be fully appraised over a period of time. But the tests, coupled with improvements in our over-all experience on hospital expense policies, justify the immediate reappraisal and reduction of our premiums for these coverages."

Salk Vaccine Data Given Other Nations

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said today it has already shared the know-how on the Salk polio vaccine with a number of foreign nations — included Soviet Russia.

"There is no secret in the methods of manufacturing the vaccine," said Medical Director Hart E. Van Riper.

Canada Likely To Become World Atom Supermarket

OTTAWA, April 14 (AP) — W. J. Bennett, Canada's atomic energy chief, foresees that Canada will become a sort of atomic supermarket to the world, a shopping center for finished parts and raw material to keep atomic machinery working.

It would be a new kind of industry in the world and Bennett bids Canadian factories be ready to satisfy the demand growing up in the world for reactor building and operation. He promises that the research at Canada's Chalk River laboratories will be aimed at helping private enterprise do the job if it comes across with risk capital.

Canada is already beginning a climb toward top position as raw material producer with its uranium strikes. Soon a joint government-utility project to build Canada's first atomic power plant will begin in southern Ontario. The 5,000-10,000 kilowatt plant is intended to be only a study project to whip the engineering problems which still prevent economical use of atomic power.

But it will be designed so that when further research there and at Chalk River finds the engineering answers it can be expanded to start pouring out 100,000 kilowatts.

Bennett says scientists and engineers just haven't licked the problem of converting controlled atomic heat into steam and electric power. To get cheap power, he believes, scientists must learn better ways of using depleted plutonium and uranium over and over.

State Administrator Of Job Security Dept. Resigns Amid Probe

Three Officials Reportedly Cleared $2,500 Profit On Sale Of Land For Branch Building

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—William H. Mahaney suddenly resigned today as administrator of the State Department of Employment Security, where administrative practices are under investigation at the order of Gov. McKeldin.

Mahaney said he was leaving to take a "much needed" rest.

Daniel E. Klein, chairman of the Employment Security Board, was not available for comment on the development.

The Evening Sun reported legal records show Mahaney and two other top officials of the department until recently owned the land where a new building has been started for the department's branch office at Towson. The three made a $2,500 profit on the land, the Evening Sun said.

The investigation ordered by Gov. McKeldin involves a $3,380 contract for waxing the floors at the department's headquarters.

The Evening Sun developed earlier that James N. Phillips, counsel for the Employment Security Board, was a partner in the firm which got the contract.

Assembly Changed Setup

Mahaney, a 50-year-old Democrat from Baltimore County, has been administrator of the department for almost two years.

Prior to that he had been chairman for four years of the Employment Security Board, which administers the department.

The General Assembly in 1953 altered the setup, creating the post of administrator and making it a civil service job. Mahaney then stepped from the board's chairmanship, at $7,500 a year, into the new administrator's job at the same salary.

His resignation as chairman, two years before his term was up, enabled Gov. McKeldin to name a Republican to the chairmanship.

Robert B. Kimble, long time Republican State senator from Cumberland, is due to succeed Klein as board chairman June 1.

There have been rumors the administrator's job would be abolished about the same time.

The Evening Sun reported land records show two lots on the edge of Towson were bought for $3,000 in May of 1952 by Shelf Co. Inc., which was incorporated eight days earlier.

Listed as sole directors, officers and stockholders of the corporation were Mrs. Mahaney; Mrs. David L. B. Fringer, wife of the director of the department's employment service division, and Mrs. John B. Henry, wife of the chief of the personnel and accounts division.

Phillips Signed As Witness

Phillips signed the legal papers as a witness. His address was given as the home address of Shelf Co. Inc.

The two lots were transferred April 21, 1954, for $3,000 to Mahaney, Fringer and Henry.

They were transferred for $5,500 in November to Richard W. Emory, Baltimore attorney who said he bought them on behalf of John H. Zink Sr.

Zink has applied for a permit to build a $23,000 structure on the two lots. He said he has a contract to lease the building to the Department of Employment Security when it is finished but the terms have not yet been finally determined. Some excavating for the building already has been done.

Fringer and Henry said today Mahaney invited them into the real estate venture but they had no idea at the outset the property was to become the site for a building to be used by their department.

They said Mahaney originally suggested the purchase of the lots on the basis they would increase in value because a leg of the Baltimore Beltway was to pass through them.

Finger and Henry said they decided to get out of the real estate venture after they were advised it would not be ethical to rent a building on their property to the Employment Security Department.

Morgan State College Honors Negro Scientist

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP) — There's a wide gap between a basement laboratory constructed of "tin cans, pipes and anything else at hand" to a splendid million and a half dollar science building.

Educators at Morgan State College, a Negro institution, viewed the shining progress of their science department today and honored the man who did the most to bridge that gap.

It was in 1916 that the science department was launched with Milton Lewis Calloway working diligently and quietly among the "tin cans."

This week Morgan is dedicating its big new science hall named after Calloway. The Negro educator had the pleasure of seeing the name plate go up last year before his death.

"Prof" Calloway developed the science program at Morgan from a ragmuffin infant born in a basement to the mature, well rounded creature of today.

Registrar Edward N. Wilson recalls that Calloway was given the basement without equipment. "Prof just pushed up his sleeves and went to work," said Wilson.

He taught the student body of 114 the entire science program of biology, chemistry, anatomy, physics, botany and zoology.

The Morgan science department has grown from a one-man faculty to a faculty of 24. Of these, 13 have doctoral degrees.

Among activitiees on the Morgan campus this week in conjunction with dedication ceremonies is the 19th annual meeting of the Maryland Assn. of Biology Teachers. The Saturday meeting is being cosponsored by the Maryland Science Teachers Assn.

Hattie W. Caraway, of Arkansas, was first elected woman senator in the United States, serving from 1931 to 1945.

Ice Show Stand Collapse Awards Total $453,735

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP) — Judges awarded a total of nearly a half million dollars today to 317 persons injured three years ago when the bleachers collapsed at the Sonja Henie ice show.

Court hearings started shortly after the accident March 6, 1952, and have continued up to the present.

Much of the litigation dealt on the extremely important point of who the defendants should be.

The awards announced today were jointly against the Sonja Henie Ice Revue, Inc., and Edwin T. Coronati and his New Jersey Coronati Amusement Co., the firm that set up the bleachers.

In the midst of the gala ice spectacle the bleachers came down with a roar, splintered into a giant pile of jack straws and filled Baltimore hospitals with hundreds of injured.

Judges Joseph L. Carter and Michael J. Manley heard the long series of resulting law suits in three different courts — Superior Court, Baltimore City Court and the Court of Common Pleas.

Today they announced awards totaling $453,735.43 to 317 claimants.

The biggest award was $30,000 to Janet Harryman of Baltimore who reported a broken back. The smallest was $10 for a minor injury.

Four cases still remain to be settled.

Educators To Meet

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—A 58-member committee will meet here tomorrow to plan the subject matter to be considered by the Maryland Conference on Education this summer.

Delegates from the conference will carry Maryland's ideas to Washington for the White House Conference on Education in the fall.

About 7 million of America's 54½ million children under 18 are orphans or live with only one parent.

Workshop For Blind To Be Started Today

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin will break ground tomorrow for the new training and work center of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind in southwest Baltimore.

The modern brick and reinforced concrete building is to cost $454,250. It will be one story, with a basement and an upper deck for cafeteria and recreation.

All present educational training and work facilities of the Workshop for the Blind will be moved into the new structure when it is completed next October.

An optometric clinic for persons with low vision will be housed in the building also.

Funds for the structure were made available by the Legislature and were drawn from the Workshop's endowment and operating fund.

Pewter Comeback

Modern housewives are rediscovering the beauty and practicality of an old American favorite, pewter, a recent survey of manufacturers and retailers shows. Particularly popular are reproductions of old Colonial designs in pewter mugs, pitchers and the like. Modern pewter designs also are enjoying a new vogue as women rediscover its silvery sheen and the fact that it does not tarnish.

State Administrator Of Job Security Dept. Resigns Amid Probe

Three Officials Reportedly Cleared $2,500 Profit On Sale Of Land For Branch Building

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—William H. Mahaney suddenly resigned today as administrator of the State Department of Employment Security, where administrative practices are under investigation at the order of Gov. McKeldin.

Mahaney said he was leaving to take a "much needed" rest.

Daniel E. Klein, chairman of the Employment Security Board, was not available for comment on the development.

The Evening Sun reported legal records show Mahaney and two other top officials of the department until recently owned the land where a new building has been started for the department's branch office at Towson. The three made a $2,500 profit on the land, the Evening Sun said.

The investigation ordered by Gov. McKeldin involves a $3,380 contract for waxing the floors at the department's headquarters.

The Evening Sun developed earlier that James N. Phillips, counsel for the Employment Security Board, was a partner in the firm which got the contract.

Assembly Changed Setup

Mahaney, a 50-year-old Democrat from Baltimore County, has been administrator of the department for almost two years.

Prior to that he had been chairman for four years of the Employment Security Board, which administers the department.

The General Assembly in 1953 altered the setup, creating the post of administrator and making it a civil service job. Mahaney then stepped from the board's chairmanship, at $7,500 a year, into the new administrator's job at the same salary.

His resignation as chairman, two years before his term was up, enabled Gov. McKeldin to name a Republican to the chairmanship.

Robert B. Kimble, long time Republican State senator from Cumberland, is due to succeed Klein as board chairman June 1.

There have been rumors the administrator's job would be abolished about the same time.

The Evening Sun reported land records show two lots on the edge of Towson were bought for $3,000 in May of 1952 by Shelf Co. Inc., which was incorporated eight days earlier.

Listed as sole directors, officers and stockholders of the corporation were Mrs. Mahaney; Mrs. David L. B. Fringer, wife of the director of the department's employment service division, and Mrs. John B. Henry, wife of the chief of the personnel and accounts division.

Phillips Signed As Witness

Phillips signed the legal papers as a witness. His address was given as the home address of Shelf Co. Inc.

The two lots were transferred April 21, 1954, for $3,000 to Mahaney, Fringer and Henry.

They were transferred for $5,500 in November to Richard W. Emory, Baltimore attorney who said he bought them on behalf of John H. Zink Sr.

Zink has applied for a permit to build a $23,000 structure on the two lots. He said he has a contract to lease the building to the Department of Employment Security when it is finished but the terms have not yet been finally determined. Some excavating for the building already has been done.

Fringer and Henry said today Mahaney invited them into the real estate venture but they had no idea at the outset the property was to become the site for a building to be used by their department.

They said Mahaney originally suggested the purchase of the lots on the basis they would increase in value because a leg of the Baltimore Beltway was to pass through them.

Finger and Henry said they decided to get out of the real estate venture after they were advised it would not be ethical to rent a building on their property to the Employment Security Department.

Morgan State College Honors Negro Scientist

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP) — There's a wide gap between a basement laboratory constructed of "tin cans, pipes and anything else at hand" to a splendid million and a half dollar science building.

Educators at Morgan State College, a Negro institution, viewed the shining progress of their science department today and honored the man who did the most to bridge that gap.

It was in 1916 that the science department was launched with Milton Lewis Calloway working diligently and quietly among the "tin cans."

This week Morgan is dedicating its big new science hall named after Calloway. The Negro educator had the pleasure of seeing the name plate go up last year before his death.

"Prof" Calloway developed the science program at Morgan from a ragmuffin infant born in a basement to the mature, well rounded creature of today.

Registrar Edward N. Wilson recalls that Calloway was given the basement without equipment. "Prof just pushed up his sleeves and went to work," said Wilson.

He taught the student body of 114 the entire science program of biology, chemistry, anatomy, physics, botany and zoology.

The Morgan science department has grown from a one-man faculty to a faculty of 24. Of these, 13 have doctoral degrees.

Among activitiees on the Morgan campus this week in conjunction with dedication ceremonies is the 19th annual meeting of the Maryland Assn. of Biology Teachers. The Saturday meeting is being cosponsored by the Maryland Science Teachers Assn.

Hattie W. Caraway, of Arkansas, was first elected woman senator in the United States, serving from 1931 to 1945.

Ice Show Stand Collapse Awards Total $453,735

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP) — Judges awarded a total of nearly a half million dollars today to 317 persons injured three years ago when the bleachers collapsed at the Sonja Henie ice show.

Court hearings started shortly after the accident March 6, 1952, and have continued up to the present.

Much of the litigation dealt on the extremely important point of who the defendants should be.

The awards announced today were jointly against the Sonja Henie Ice Revue, Inc., and Edwin T. Coronati and his New Jersey Coronati Amusement Co., the firm that set up the bleachers.

In the midst of the gala ice spectacle the bleachers came down with a roar, splintered into a giant pile of jack straws and filled Baltimore hospitals with hundreds of injured.

Judges Joseph L. Carter and Michael J. Manley heard the long series of resulting law suits in three different courts — Superior Court, Baltimore City Court and the Court of Common Pleas.

Today they announced awards totaling $453,735.43 to 317 claimants.

The biggest award was $30,000 to Janet Harryman of Baltimore who reported a broken back. The smallest was $10 for a minor injury.

Four cases still remain to be settled.

Educators To Meet

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—A 58-member committee will meet here tomorrow to plan the subject matter to be considered by the Maryland Conference on Education this summer.

Delegates from the conference will carry Maryland's ideas to Washington for the White House Conference on Education in the fall.

About 7 million of America's 54½ million children under 18 are orphans or live with only one parent.

Workshop For Blind To Be Started Today

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin will break ground tomorrow for the new training and work center of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind in southwest Baltimore.

The modern brick and reinforced concrete building is to cost $454,250. It will be one story, with a basement and an upper deck for cafeteria and recreation.

All present educational training and work facilities of the Workshop for the Blind will be moved into the new structure when it is completed next October.

An optometric clinic for persons with low vision will be housed in the building also.

Funds for the structure were made available by the Legislature and were drawn from the Workshop's endowment and operating fund.

Pewter Comeback

Modern housewives are rediscovering the beauty and practicality of an old American favorite, pewter, a recent survey of manufacturers and retailers shows. Particularly popular are reproductions of old Colonial designs in pewter mugs, pitchers and the like. Modern pewter designs also are enjoying a new vogue as women rediscover its silvery sheen and the fact that it does not tarnish.

Youth Governor Advocates Furtherance Of Democracy

ANNAPOLIS April 14 (AP)—An 18-year-old Estonian who became a citizen of the United States only three days ago opened Maryland's 1955 Model Legislature today with a plea for furtherance of the democracy he now enjoys.

He is Mati Tammaru, student at Baltimore's City College who was sworn in as yough governor of the YMCA-sponsored youth and government program.

Tammaru lived for five years in displaced persons camps before leaving his native Estonia for the United States five years ago.

He came to Baltimore with his family. His father, a former teacher, became a carpenter because of the language barrier. His mother, also a former teacher, now operates a sewing machine at a clothing factory. One brother finished Baltimore Polytechnic last year, another still goes there. One sister is a student at Goucher College, another is in elementary school.

Mati outlined his program of better educational facilities, a more equitable assessment base in Maryland for a better means of distributing welfare aid, more conservation practices and a study of possible toll roads. Then he said:

"An open field of legislation lies before us. We, as a Model Legislature, must carefully consider each piece of legislation, for law-making is no mere child's play, but the work and achievements of mature and critical minds."

He was followed to the speaker's platform by the real thing—Gov. McKeldin, who prescribed equal parts of idealism and practicality as the recipe for a good legislature.

Voice of America technicians recorded the proceedings for future broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain.

After Tammaru, Senate President Walter Shervington, 17-year-old Negro student of Douglass High School in Baltimore, House Speaker Richard A. Johnson of Cumberland and the senators and delegates were sworn in by Secretary of State (the real one) Blanchard Randall, the youthful solons began their deliberations on each side of the hall and Tammaru huddled with his cabinet. Among them were:

Aviation commissioner, Monty Johnstone, Hagerstown, and recreation, Stan Wilson, Cumberland.

Parsonsburg Woman Named Maryland Mother Of Year

CHEVY CHASE, Md., April 14 (AP)—Mrs. Charles J. Taylor, 61-year-old mother of nine children who lives in Parsonsburg, near Salisbury, has been acclaimed Maryland's "Mother Of The Year."

Announcement of the award was made today by Mrs. J. Winthrop Peabody, state chairman of The American Mothers Committee.

Mrs. Peabody said the Eastern Shore farm woman and former nurse will receive her award in ceremonies at Annapolis this month.

Mrs. Taylor's selection puts her into national competition for the American Mother of the Year award.

The Parsonsburg woman took over a country store and a farm after the death five years ago of her husband.

"Many testimonials for Mrs. Taylor were sent to the committee which is made up of women of the state who have rendered outstanding service in their communities," said Mrs. Peabody.

The Maryland mother belongs to the Mount Hermon Homemakers, Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Wicomico Town and Country Garden Club, the Wicomico Historical Society, the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wicomico Chapter of the American Federation of Womens Clubs.

"She educated all of her children and carried on a successful farm business under the handicap of leg injuries suffered in an accident several years ago," said Mrs. Peabody.

"I think her ability to overcome her handicap was the main inspiration expressed to the committee by her children and her friends to win her this distinction."

Mrs. Peabody said children must recommend their mother before she is considered for a State mother of the year title.

The winning mother must be one whose life exemplifies the Golden Rule. She must be active in civic affairs, and in service for public benefits.

Polio Vaccine

it cannot make available the third or 'booster" shot for first and second graders.

Need Third Shot

The foundation announced this in New York yesterday in adopting a recommendation the third shot should not be given for at least seven months after the first two.

"It is quite essential that the vaccinated children get the third shot," Dr. Davens said.

The foundation's announcement raised the probability those receiving the free shots this spring will have to get the booster shot next fall from private physicians.

There also was the possibility of the State buying the vaccine for the booster shots for the 140,000 to 150,000 first and second graders in Maryland expected to get the initial injections this spring.

The vaccine is expected to cost about $1.50 a dose commercially. The price to a public health agency has not yet been announced.

Tubeless Tire Development Explained To Traffic Club

An outline of the development of the new tubeless tire and the engineering that made it a success were demonstrated in talks to members of the Tri-State Traffic Club at their dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Ivan A. Hall, development manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, said that an ordinary 670 x 15 tire is composed of at least 15 different rubber compounds, which in turn contain as many as 40 different ingredients, ranging from old-fashioned sulphur and molasses to such chemicals as diphenylquanidine and similar items.

While the tubeless tire is not new, Hall said, as it was first made in the early 1900s, it took present day technological advancements to make it successful. Tests have proven that the new tubeless tires are safer than the conventional tire and tube. There is less likelihood of tires going flat suddenly and as the new tires run cooler there is not quite the chance of blowouts.

Charles L. Herath, chief engineer at Kelly, told of the engineering problems in an organization as large as the local tire plant. For instance, he mentioned, the Kelly plant uses daily as much electrical energy as that used in a city the size of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., or Charleston, W.Va. There are 764 motors in the plant, ranging from fractional horse power motors to one of 1,400 horsepower.

In observance of Kelly-Springfield Tire, the club members also had a chance to see the Kelly movie showing the development of the new Prestige tire. The scenes showed not only the composition of the tire but the rugged brutal tests given it on the proving grounds.

Edmund S. Burke, president, and G. B. Newman, assistant to the president, were among the Kelly representatives present.

Arrangements for the meeting were under the direction of Andrew N. Phillips, Kelly traffic manager; John L. Carnochan and Clarence E. Gehr.

What's the big difference in Checking Account Services ?

THE BIG DIFFERENCE between a Regular Checking and a THRIFTICHECK Account is whether you pay in advance, pay later, or don't pay at all.

With a Regular Checking Account, a substantial amount on deposit may cover the operating expenses of a checking account even when many checks are drawn and desposits made. When balances are lower and the account remains active, a service charge is made to defray operating expenses.

With a THRIFTICHECK Account, you merely buy a book of checks and pay a small amount for it in advance. You can keep as much or as little as you want on deposit. THRIFTICHECK service is particularly economical for people who draw relatively few checks.

You get the same advantages of convenience and safety with either a Regular Checking or a THRIFTICHECK Account.

So choose the one that's best for you!

Need Third Shot

The foundation announced this in New York yesterday in adopting a recommendation the third shot should not be given for at least seven months after the first two.

"It is quite essential that the vaccinated children get the third shot," Dr. Davens said.

The foundation's announcement raised the probability those receiving the free shots this spring will have to get the booster shot next fall from private physicians.

There also was the possibility of the State buying the vaccine for the booster shots for the 140,000 to 150,000 first and second graders in Maryland expected to get the initial injections this spring.

The vaccine is expected to cost about $1.50 a dose commercially. The price to a public health agency has not yet been announced.

Tubeless Tire Development Explained To Traffic Club

An outline of the development of the new tubeless tire and the engineering that made it a success were demonstrated in talks to members of the Tri-State Traffic Club at their dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Ivan A. Hall, development manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, said that an ordinary 670 x 15 tire is composed of at least 15 different rubber compounds, which in turn contain as many as 40 different ingredients, ranging from old-fashioned sulphur and molasses to such chemicals as diphenylquanidine and similar items.

While the tubeless tire is not new, Hall said, as it was first made in the early 1900s, it took present day technological advancements to make it successful. Tests have proven that the new tubeless tires are safer than the conventional tire and tube. There is less likelihood of tires going flat suddenly and as the new tires run cooler there is not quite the chance of blowouts.

Charles L. Herath, chief engineer at Kelly, told of the engineering problems in an organization as large as the local tire plant. For instance, he mentioned, the Kelly plant uses daily as much electrical energy as that used in a city the size of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., or Charleston, W.Va. There are 764 motors in the plant, ranging from fractional horse power motors to one of 1,400 horsepower.

In observance of Kelly-Springfield Tire, the club members also had a chance to see the Kelly movie showing the development of the new Prestige tire. The scenes showed not only the composition of the tire but the rugged brutal tests given it on the proving grounds.

Edmund S. Burke, president, and G. B. Newman, assistant to the president, were among the Kelly representatives present.

Arrangements for the meeting were under the direction of Andrew N. Phillips, Kelly traffic manager; John L. Carnochan and Clarence E. Gehr.

What's the big difference in Checking Account Services ?

THE BIG DIFFERENCE between a Regular Checking and a THRIFTICHECK Account is whether you pay in advance, pay later, or don't pay at all.

With a Regular Checking Account, a substantial amount on deposit may cover the operating expenses of a checking account even when many checks are drawn and desposits made. When balances are lower and the account remains active, a service charge is made to defray operating expenses.

With a THRIFTICHECK Account, you merely buy a book of checks and pay a small amount for it in advance. You can keep as much or as little as you want on deposit. THRIFTICHECK service is particularly economical for people who draw relatively few checks.

You get the same advantages of convenience and safety with either a Regular Checking or a THRIFTICHECK Account.

So choose the one that's best for you!

Irregular Market Pattern Leaves Stock Prices Mixed

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — The stock market ran into an irregular pattern of buying and selling today that left prices highly mixed at the finish.

Brokers felt that one of the underlying causes of the unsettlement was the boost in the Federal Reserve Bank discount rate initiated last night in Kansas City.

The rate was hiked to 1¾ per cent from 1½ per cent, a move that tends to point the trend of all money rates. A rise is a credit restriction move.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks managed to gain 10 cents at $163.80. That is the third straight advance to a new record high.

The components of the average, however, were mixed, and there were more stocks down than up. The industrial component was ahead 30 cents at a new high of $221.10, railroads lost 60 cents, and utilities were up 30 cents.

Avco Mfg. was the day's most active issue up ¼ at 7⅞ on 196,800 shares. The company announced it has started research into advanced electronics, guided missles, and atomic energy.

Chrysler came next up 2⅝ at 78¼. It was up 1⅝ yesterday at the top of the most active list. The company has established a first quarter sales record which is the second highest total for any quarter in company history.

They were followed by Budd Co. up ⅞ at 21½, Libby, McNeill & Libby up 1 at 18⅞, and General Dynamics off 2½ at 65¾.

Commerce Of Bustling Washington Almost Engulfs Brick House Where Lincoln Died

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The little brick building at 516 10th St. NW, is jammed between a Chinese restaurant and a store specializing in parts for high fidelity sound equipment.

Flashing neon lights on surrounding stores compete in trying to wink in customers. But at 516, only a U. S. flag, drooping in the steady rain, sets off the place that, 90 years ago tonight, was the scene of a frantic, dramatic moment in this nation's history.

One has to move up close enough to read the bronze marker to realize that this is the house to which Abraham Lincoln was carried after he was shot in Ford's Theater across the street.

Here in the home of William Petersen, the tailor, who had his shop in the basement, doctors hovered futilely over the unconscious Lincoln throughout the night.

Here in this dingy, unhistoric looking room, a fearful Cabinet met at his bedside. The Cabinet met, that is, with the exception of Secretary of State Seward.

At about the time J. Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln, a fellow conspirator, Lewis Powell, was forcing his way into Seward's home, on Lafayette Square across from the White House.

Seward, in bed nursing a jaw broken in a carriage accident nine days earlier, was stabbed about the neck and face. Four others who tried to help the secretary were wounded.

And as the word spread that the President was dying and the secretary of state was seriously wounded, the crowds filled the streets and worried and wondered:

Where next would the assassins strike?

But today, standing here in front of the house where so many stood that night, the taxicabs jockey for position, the customers scurry to get out of the rain and the touring school children are eager to get through this memorial so they can get on to the next.

Commerce Of Bustling Washington Almost Engulfs Brick House Where Lincoln Died

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The little brick building at 516 10th St. NW, is jammed between a Chinese restaurant and a store specializing in parts for high fidelity sound equipment.

Flashing neon lights on surrounding stores compete in trying to wink in customers. But at 516, only a U. S. flag, drooping in the steady rain, sets off the place that, 90 years ago tonight, was the scene of a frantic, dramatic moment in this nation's history.

One has to move up close enough to read the bronze marker to realize that this is the house to which Abraham Lincoln was carried after he was shot in Ford's Theater across the street.

Here in the home of William Petersen, the tailor, who had his shop in the basement, doctors hovered futilely over the unconscious Lincoln throughout the night.

Here in this dingy, unhistoric looking room, a fearful Cabinet met at his bedside. The Cabinet met, that is, with the exception of Secretary of State Seward.

At about the time J. Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln, a fellow conspirator, Lewis Powell, was forcing his way into Seward's home, on Lafayette Square across from the White House.

Seward, in bed nursing a jaw broken in a carriage accident nine days earlier, was stabbed about the neck and face. Four others who tried to help the secretary were wounded.

And as the word spread that the President was dying and the secretary of state was seriously wounded, the crowds filled the streets and worried and wondered:

Where next would the assassins strike?

But today, standing here in front of the house where so many stood that night, the taxicabs jockey for position, the customers scurry to get out of the rain and the touring school children are eager to get through this memorial so they can get on to the next.

Maplehurst Golf Club Course Work Is Progressing In Frostburg Area

Work on the golf course and other recreational facilities of the Maplehurst Country Club near Frostburg is progressing, according to an announcement of the board of directors.

Ground will be broken soon for a clubhouse which is to be built of concrete block and completed by mid-summer. The nine-hole course has been staked out by James Harrison, golf course architect, and work on the greens is expected to get under way in the next several days.

Plans call for a picnic area, according to J. C. Shryock, ground chairman, who said picnic tables are being built and outdoor fireplaces will be installed.

The finance and budget committee met recently to make up the budget which includes the golf course, children's playground and clubhouse. According to the entertainment and promotion committee a barn dance is planned this year along with a barbecue.

Two artificial lakes which will contain about 4,000,000 gallons of water will be located on the club grounds and will be stocked with fish for the members and families interested in that sport.

The length of the golf course, according to Harrison, will be a minimum of 3,300 yards and a maximum of 3,500 yards with putting areas on the greens anywhere from 5,000 to 7,000 square feet.

The fairways will be planted with bent grass. Tennis courts are to be built on the property.

Memberships are still available and another campaign will soon begin. Only 140 memberships are available before the club's roster is closed, the board reported.

Tonight the club's spring dance will be held at the Clary Club from 9 to 1 with music by Vince Moats and his orchestra. Proceeds will be used for the children's playground, according to Charles Pinto and Leo Dean, co-chairmen.

Awards will be presented April 26 at the post home at 8:30 p. m. with Mrs. Goldie Speis in charge of the program. Mrs. Grace Bosenberg, Mrs. Pearl Darling and Mrs. Watson will serve refreshments.

Trash Dumping Costs Garage Worker $50

Roy K. Mathew of Roberts Place was fined $50 in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday by Magistrate Donald Mason after he pleaded guilty to dumping trash on the property of W. A. McGraw, Potomac Park.

The garage employe's conviction followed the report of the April grand jury, in which the jurors said Tuesday that something ought to be done about the "universal and irregular" dumping of trash in the county.

The violation reportedly occurred on the same day, and without the consent of McGraw, owner of the garden where the refuse was dumped.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said a sales slip among the trash led to Mathew's arrest.

In their report they suggested that Sheriff Edward R. Muir, his deputies and county constables cooperate in apprehending persons responsible for illegally dumping trash and refuse.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris condemned the practice in his charge to the grand jury April 4.

The grand jury further recommended that County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman arrange to burn all refuse at the various dumping places which are used by the public generally.

It was also suggested that peace officers should police the area to apprehend violators of the dumping law.

Most Beverage Permits Readied

There are only two dozen licensees who have not yet filed their applications for renewal of their permits to sell alcoholic beverages, according to the Board of License Commissioners for Allegany County.

A total of 304 applications have been received by the board and there are 328 licenses now in effect. It was pointed out that 18 of the applications are new ones filed by persons who hope to take established businesses.

The board will sit Monday, April 25 and Tuesday, April 26 at the Court House to issue the new permits.

Civil Defense Warning Signals To Be Standardized Here

Standardization of Civil Defense action signals to be sounded by public warning devices is being undertaken in Cumberland and Frostburg.

The move is in accordance with a recommendation by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and which has been approved by the state CD agency.

William G. Barger, Allegany County director of Civil Defense, said the state agency is procuring materials to change over automatic air raid timers installed at Cumberland and Frostburg. Existing sirens will be used and only the control timer need be changed to sound the new signal, he said.

The new signal arrangement is expected to be in operation by June 1 in sufficient time for "Operation Alert 1955" scheduled for mid-June. Barger added that two additional sirens will be installed in Cumberland by that time to give more complete coverage.

Under the FCDA plan there will be two CD public action signals: (1) the alert and (2) the take cover.

The alert consists of a steady blast of three to five minutes' duration.

The take cover consists of a wailing tone or a series of short blasts of three minutes' duration.

The signals do not necessarily have to be sounded in that sequence, FCDA says and may be repeated as desired.

The alert signal will indicate to the public to act according to operations plans of local CD authorities. In non-target areas, this signal will mean CD forces are to mobilize.

The take cover signal indicates attack is imminent and the public must take best available shelter.

The "all clear" signal is eliminated under the new plan because the hazard of radioactive fallout may preclude bringing the public out of shelter areas simultaneously.

Instructions to come out of shelter will be given by other means of communication.

Standardization of Civil Defense action signals to be sounded by public warning devices is being undertaken in Cumberland and Frostburg.

The move is in accordance with a recommendation by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and which has been approved by the state CD agency.

William G. Barger, Allegany County director of Civil Defense, said the state agency is procuring materials to change over automatic air raid timers installed at Cumberland and Frostburg. Existing sirens will be used and only the control timer need be changed to sound the new signal, he said.

The new signal arrangement is expected to be in operation by June 1 in sufficient time for "Operation Alert 1955" scheduled for mid-June. Barger added that two additional sirens will be installed in Cumberland by that time to give more complete coverage.

Under the FCDA plan there will be two CD public action signals: (1) the alert and (2) the take cover.

The alert consists of a steady blast of three to five minutes' duration.

The take cover consists of a wailing tone or a series of short blasts of three minutes' duration.

The signals do not necessarily have to be sounded in that sequence, FCDA says and may be repeated as desired.

The alert signal will indicate to the public to act according to operations plans of local CD authorities. In non-target areas, this signal will mean CD forces are to mobilize.

The take cover signal indicates attack is imminent and the public must take best available shelter.

The "all clear" signal is eliminated under the new plan because the hazard of radioactive fallout may preclude bringing the public out of shelter areas simultaneously.

Instructions to come out of shelter will be given by other means of communication.

Trash Dumping Costs Garage Worker $50

Roy K. Mathew of Roberts Place was fined $50 in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday by Magistrate Donald Mason after he pleaded guilty to dumping trash on the property of W. A. McGraw, Potomac Park.

The garage employe's conviction followed the report of the April grand jury, in which the jurors said Tuesday that something ought to be done about the "universal and irregular" dumping of trash in the county.

The violation reportedly occurred on the same day, and without the consent of McGraw, owner of the garden where the refuse was dumped.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said a sales slip among the trash led to Mathew's arrest.

In their report they suggested that Sheriff Edward R. Muir, his deputies and county constables cooperate in apprehending persons responsible for illegally dumping trash and refuse.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris condemned the practice in his charge to the grand jury April 4.

The grand jury further recommended that County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman arrange to burn all refuse at the various dumping places which are used by the public generally.

It was also suggested that peace officers should police the area to apprehend violators of the dumping law.

LOSES BOUT WITH PORCUPINE

THE RESULTS were fatal when Boots, a 9-month-old border collie, met a porcupine near his home in Craig, Colo. His face got the brunt of the porcupine attack. Many dogs learn to stay away from porcupines after getting a small dose of quills. ACME knows the importance of freshness in its baked goods. That's why it dates or code-dates all its oven treasures to be sure they're "bakery-fresh" whenever you buy.

German Rocket Experts Become Citizens Of U. S.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., April 14 (AP) — An odyssey begun in frantic flight from the advancing Russians ended today when a group of German-born rocket scientists became American citizens.

"The happiest and most significant day" in the life of Dr. Wernher von Braun and his fellows was shared by 1,200 residents of Huntsville who jammed the city's high school to cheer their neighbors.

Von Braun, chief of the Redstone Arsenal Guided Missile Development Division where he and the others do top-secret work for the United States, told a reporter:

"As time goes by I realize that it was a moral decision we made at Peenemunde, that somehow we sensed that the secrets should get only into the hands of people who read the Bible."

The decision of the scientists to bring the secrets of the V-2 rocket to this country was of incalculable value, advancing America's rocket program by years.

German-born men, women and children, 103 in number, took the oath of citizenship today. A group of 42 from the arsenal was naturalized at Birmingham last Nov. 11.

Identity of some who became citizens was not revealed because they still have families in countries behind the Iron Curtain.

"This is the happiest and most significant day of my life," said Von Braun, "although I must say that we all became American citizens in our hearts long ago. I have never regretted for an instant the decision to come to this country."

Convicts Receive New Sentences In Robberies

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—Two men convicted for the $123,500 robbery of a Brunswick physician's home, today received additional sentences for a series of Baltimore burglaries.

John Henry Beardsworth, 34, already under sentence of seven years for theft of a safe containing $20,100 in cash and other valuables from the home of Dr. George Thomas Strother, was sentenced to six more years by Judge John T. Tucker in Circuit Court.

Beardsworth's accomplice in the Brunswick safe robbery, Elwood D. Rice, 24, was given two years on top of the four he had been given in the earlier case.

Beardsworth was charged and pleaded guilty to eight burglaries in Baltimore which netted $8,532, including $2,857 from an unlocked safe in the office at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Bones Of Stone Age Man Found In Cave

DAMASCUS, Syria, April 14 (AP)—Archaelogical sources said today an American archaeologist had discovered the "skeletons of prehistoric stone age man dating from 60,000 years B.C."

A report said Dr. Stephen Charlton Con made the discovery in several caves in Mount Thaniat el Baidaa, 14 miles from the ancient city of Palmyra.

Con was also reported to have found 33 flint pieces used as arms and working tools by prehistoric peoples. He also found the bones of animals, the report said.

German Rocket Experts Become Citizens Of U. S.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., April 14 (AP) — An odyssey begun in frantic flight from the advancing Russians ended today when a group of German-born rocket scientists became American citizens.

"The happiest and most significant day" in the life of Dr. Wernher von Braun and his fellows was shared by 1,200 residents of Huntsville who jammed the city's high school to cheer their neighbors.

Von Braun, chief of the Redstone Arsenal Guided Missile Development Division where he and the others do top-secret work for the United States, told a reporter:

"As time goes by I realize that it was a moral decision we made at Peenemunde, that somehow we sensed that the secrets should get only into the hands of people who read the Bible."

The decision of the scientists to bring the secrets of the V-2 rocket to this country was of incalculable value, advancing America's rocket program by years.

Von Braun led a caravan of the scientists, their wives and children across collapsing Nazi Germany into American hands in 1945.

German-born men, women and children, 103 in number, took the oath of citizenship today. A group of 42 from the arsenal was naturalized at Birmingham last Nov. 11.

Identity of some who became citizens was not revealed because they still have families in countries behind the Iron Curtain.

"This is the happiest and most significant day of my life," said Von Braun, "although I must say that we all became American citizens in our hearts long ago. I have never regretted for an instant the decision to come to this country."

Convicts Receive New Sentences In Robberies

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—Two men convicted for the $123,500 robbery of a Brunswick physician's home, today received additional sentences for a series of Baltimore burglaries.

John Henry Beardsworth, 34, already under sentence of seven years for theft of a safe containing $20,100 in cash and other valuables from the home of Dr. George Thomas Strother, was sentenced to six more years by Judge John T. Tucker in Circuit Court.

Beardsworth's accomplice in the Brunswick safe robbery, Elwood D. Rice, 24, was given two years on top of the four he had been given in the earlier case.

Beardsworth was charged and pleaded guilty to eight burglaries in Baltimore which netted $8,532, including $2,857 from an unlocked safe in the office at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

A Plan Of Substance Termed 'Destructive'

We have just received from the Maryland State Planning Commission a report based on replies from the 15 city, county and bi-county planning agencies as to programs reported for 1955.

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission of Cumberland, of which James Alfred Avirett is chairman, is credited with two programs for 1955.

The first is development of a master plan for the improvement of internal traffic, a project the commission has been working on without any noticeable success for a number of years.

The second "program" is, according to the report, "continued opposition to the destructive plan" of the State Roads Commission to construct an overhead bridge over the business and residential sections of Cumberland.

Most residents of Cumberland, we feel certain, and the Mayor and Council do not believe the cross-town expressway plan is destructive. The Mayor and Council, in fact, repudiated this viewpoint when they approved a contract with the State Roads Commission for construction of the project.

As a matter of fact, the expressway and the industrial boulevard, which is an integral part of the expressway plan, is the only plan of any substance that has been submitted to improve Cumberland's traffic problem.

By its very own statement of "continued opposition to the destructive plan" to build an overhead bridge (which is only a part of the expressway plan), the Planning and Zoning Commission itself is raising obstacles to solving its No. 1 problem—development of a master plan for the improvement of internal traffic.

We regret that the State Planning Commission has seen fit to incorporate this language—"continued opposition to the destructive plan"—in its report.

The plan to our way of thinking, is anything but destructive. It certainly, with its six traffic lanes and no obstructions, will relieve, if not end, the internal traffic problem, and add an imposing, architecturally beautiful structure to our city with comparatively little cost to the taxpayers.

The McCarran-Walter Act

The Corsi affair again brings to public attention the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act and the Refugee Relief Act which have to do with immigration into this country. This is an emotional issue over which there is bound to be controversy because involved is the question of racial, national and religious equality before the law. No group is willing to agree to a formula which makes it less acceptable than any other group.

From a strictly American standpoint, the basic question is whether there is to be an unlimited or a limited immigration. No one proposes a system that stops all immigration. If it is to be a limited immigration, no one has ever proposed a formula for limitation which has had universal approval. No device has ever been proposed which has been altogether just. It is doubtful whether anyone can conceive of an altogether objective, equal, fair and just device.

The McCarran-Walter Act undoubtedly requires some revision to remove whatever inequities experience with it has disclosed. Senator Pat McCarran once told me that he saw some points that could be improved upon. That is a function of Congress, and although congressional action is liable to be slow, its results will be surer and more permanent than the fiat of any administrative tendency to "liberalize" an act of Congress by private interpretation.

Opposition or support of these laws generally does not answer the fundamental question as to whether or not the American people want to increase the population of this country by taking in the surplus populations of other countries. Premier Mario Scelba of Italy made the interesting observation that the difference between the United States and Soviet Russia is that everybody wants to come to the United States and nobody wants to go to Russia.

But the United States cannot take in everybody. There was a long period in American history when this country needed population, when industrial companies sent agents to European countries to recruit immigrants. We were then short of labor, particularly non-agricultural, heavy-industry laborers, such as miners and steel workers.

That day is gone. The United States has a population of over 160,000,000 people and by the present rate of increase, it will not be many decades before we shall have a population of 200,000,000.

Along with the increase of population, we have developed a remarkable method of production by labor-saving devices, to a degree that automatic or semi-automatic methods prevail. Because of this, it is not beyond possibility that a 30-hour week will be demanded by organized labor to avert unemployment. While in the past, it was held that machines make jobs, we may be approaching a period when the new types of production will not make new jobs.

When that point is reached, the United States will have surplus population, that is more men and women than can be profitably employed. Whereas during the depression years, that situation was regarded as abnormal and was met by putting part of our population on the dole, what are we to do about it should, let us say, between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 employables be permanently unemployed and therefore surplus population?

This is the essential problem in immigration. It is not so much who gets in and who stays out, as how many are to come in and what kind of people. Ten years ago, one could answer by citing as an example watch-makers as a kind of immigrant desired, but today the American watch-making industry has been hit hard by the tariff and Swiss competition. Surely this country does not need more tailors. We have an enormous Puerto Rican population to absorb and they make excellent workers both in the male and female garment industries.

Those who push these arguments aside can only answer that large numbers of people who are happy where they are want to come here. They would be more unhappy here, with our high cost of living, if they were unemployed because the United States suffered from a surplus population.

The questions then are: How many people can the United States employ; how many can we afford to admit as immigrants during the next decade; what is a better formula than the present quota system to determine who comes in and who has to stay out? These are not questions for a curbstone or prejudiced opinion.

Harry Truman Has Not Been Invited To White House Since Leaving In '52

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Ex-President Harry Truman has never said anything about it, but the first time he came back to Washington after he retired two years ago he felt a little hurt that General Eisenhower didn't invite him to call at the White House.

He himself had invited Herbert Hoover to the White House as one of his first acts after becoming president. Hoover hadn't been back in Washington for years, had never been in the White House from the day he left on March 4, 1933. So Truman asked him to call.

"I want you to know," Truman told him, "that any time you are in Washington this is your home. I'll feel hurt if you don't come by."

On top of this, Truman appointed Hoover to make a food survey of Europe and also made him a co-chairman with Dean Acheson of a committee to reorganize the government, a committee which he heads today.

Hoover, extremely grateful for this recognition, paid glowing tribute to Truman at a Gridiron Club dinner. Later, in the 1952 campaign, Hoover refused to criticize the Truman administration, though urged to do so by GOP strategists.

Truman, however, has never been invited to the White House since he left, and though now back in town, he doesn't expect to be invited today.

Ambassador Truman

Here's a suggestion President Eisenhower might want to consider. It's made only because he's badly in need of bipartisan support for his foreign policy at home and in even worse need for friendly support from our allies in Europe.

The suggestion is: Send Harry Truman to the capitals of Western Europe on a goodwill tour.

Send him with Ike's personal blessing but as an unofficial envoy just to visit some of the places he knew as an artillery captain during World War I.

Truman is extremely popular in Europe. To Europeans he is the little man who put across the Marshall Plan, helped build up Europe after the war, is a symbol of European-Ameircan cooperation.

If he went very simply, as a tourist, to the Vosges Mountains in Eastern France to look over the place where he commanded Battery D of the Field Artillery, he would be a symbol of unity and friendship at a time when Western unity needs those reminders. They need a reminder not only of past ties with the United States, but they need reminders that unity between France and Germany is all-important.

Harry Truman could be a traveling salesman of American goodwill as no other man in the United States today.

A-Bombs To Orient

It should come as no surprise after Eisenhower's and Dulles' public statements regarding the use of A-bombs that live atomic bombs have now been shipped to the Far East in case the Quemoy-Matsu crisis explodes into war. They are described as small, tactical bombs that could be use to break up troop concentrations on the Chinese mainland.

This is the second time since World War II that Uncle Sam has held the atomic bomb up his sleeve. The first occasion, never before disclosed, took place during the black days of our Korean retreat.

General MacArthur cabled frantically that his troops were being driven into the sea and asked whether he should evacuate or fight to the death. He offered to join his troops on the battlefield and go down fighting with them.

Alarmed, President Truman ordered atomic bombs flown to a secret carrier off the Korean coast. If the situation became desperate enough, Truman intended to use the A-bombs to stop the Red onslaught and save our troops.

During all the time that A-bombs were abroad, the ship radioed her location every half hour. The operation was kept so secret, however, that the British government never knew of Truman's emergency plan.

Now, once again, atomic bombs are ready for action off the Chinese coast — if they're needed.

Merry-Go-Round

Ex-President Herbert Hoover, one of the wealthiest men ever to be elected president, has writtin a defiant letter to the Social Security Administration, saying he won't carry a social security card. Since Hoover is now working for Uncle Sam, he comes under social security, but he's written an emphatic letter that he doesn't want to be listed on the social security rolls. . . . At dawn and dusk on Formosa Chinese Nationalists now sing their national anthem, followed by a stirring patriotic song called "Back to the Mainland." Lately, native Formosans have been joining in with gusto singing "Back to the Mainland." They are more anxious than Chiang Kai-shek for his people to return. . . . The Signal Corps has installed new, top-secret transmitting equipment in the Pentagon. Instead of ringing alarm bells, it flashes lights and operates almost soundlessly. . . . At the secret meeting on curbing Pentagon information, Secretary of Defense Wilson angrily ordered a crackdown on loose talk and a plugging of news leaks. One of his assistant secretaries piped up that Drew Pearson was getting too much information. (The censorship order must not be working, otherwise how did I learn about this?)

Europe Helps Pressure U. S. Into Giving Up Islands

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—if it's logical for the United States to urge that the Nationalists give up Quemoy and the Matsus because those islands are so close to the Chinese mainland as to be a source of potential trouble, why isn't it as logical for those on the appeasement side to urge the West German government now to consent to the giving up of Berlin to East Germany?

For Berlin today is an "island" and there is a gap of 100 miles between it and the main area of West Germany, just as there is a space of 100 miles between Formosa and the Chinese offshore islands. The "island" is a constant source of friction.

The new type of blockade recently imposed by the Soviet authorities over the commercial trucks that have to travel between Berlin and West Germany over the 100-mile highway in the Soviet zone can be cited as an example of the kind of international irritation which the continued possession of Berlin by the West Germans holds for the Allied world.

Happened Before

All the arguments being made for appeasing the Red Chinese can be adapted readily to the situation in and around the "island of Berlin." For the appeasement talk heard here and the proposals being made that the Chinese offshore islands be surrendered, as suggested by some big American newspapers, could be taken by the Communists to mean they will get what they want without fighting. The Soviets know that heretofore in the "cold war," by playing their cards right—by threatening war through their satellites and not actually engaging in it — there has been stimulated on the Allied side, usually from the peace-at-any-price elements, a demand that the United States lead the way in retreat.

What is producing a great deal of confusion among folks who look on from the sidelines is the strange inconsistency between the attitude taken toward developments in Europe and those in Asia.

Thus, the idea that the United States might wish to take a firm stand in calling a halt to the Communist advance in Asia is termed in Europe a provocative attitude and one fraught with danger. Usually it is followed up in America by editorials in some newspapers of influence which declare that, because our allies are worried or anxious, America must back down.

If it be suggested that this might mean the loss of Asia, there's always a ready answer given—that this is a danger which must be faced but, on the other hand, that it isn't equal to the danger of perhaps worrying our allies.

Ike Dramatized Need

The fact remains that the average American today isn't clear as to why any American lives should be lost over the Quemoys or the Matsus. He is supposed to feel differently, however, about the importance of defending Formosa. Yet only a year or so ago Formosa seemed remote, just as Korea did to most Americans in January 1950, when Secretary of State Acheson wrote them off in his speech to the National Press Club as being outside the American defense perimeter.

But President Eisenhower, by asking for a resolution by Congress, has dramatized the need for the defense of Formosa as a means of halting the Communists advance in Asia. Even the other Western Allies at present are inclined to go along with him on this policy in the hope that the Quemoys and Matsus may yet be surrendered. Then they will doubtless demand a plebiscite on Formosa, but not, of course, a plebiscite on the mainland.

Failure to defend the Quemoy and Matsus islands could mean a death blow to the morale of the Nationalist troops based on Formosa. Then an army of 500,000 Nationalists, who now constitute a flank which keeps a Red Chinese army bogged down on the Chinese mainland, would deteriorate. Grave danger may develop then in respect to U. N. forces in Korea. Maybe the Red Chinese would immediately thereafter decide it was opportune to resume the fighting there.

Until the President explains to the American people the relationship between the Chinese offshore islands and the Formosa situation, there is a chance that by biding their time the Communists can get their way as they have in other things by using pressure tactics in the "cold war." For the effort now is to divide American public opinion and bring about the surrender of the offshore islands to the Communists. European pressure is assisting in that maneuver on the theory that this will mean peace. But the Communists are never appeased. This is the way, indeed, to encourage the aggressor to make a fatal miscalculation which can bring on the very war everybody dreads.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congress got back from its Easter holiday all set for another one indoors.

The boys were away from the grind of the revolving door and the roar of the swivel for two weeks.

Problems still ahead are the survival of the dossier over the agenda, spot-parking for tabled resolutions and the ideal compromise in which both sides are sure they flummuxed the other.

They've already started Draft-Ike-for-1956 in an all-out effort to validate every American's right to the bottom half of a grapefruit at a White House breakfast.

Before they left in March Ike said there was no world crisis we couldn't afford.

He recognizes Quemoy is a dagger pointed straight at Matsu. But what of it? We collected a 144-piece cutlery set of those threats in World War II.

The Wall Street investigation is definitely spindled for keeps. Nobody on the committee played that Harvard expert's tips.

The Yalta documents have been placed under glass in the hall of pop-offs. The Democrats can hardly wait to celebrate their first centennial in 2045.

Our foreign diplomacy has been condensed from continents to islands. As usual Moscow wants to set five plates for the Big Four kaffeeklatch.

This was a holiday for congressmen, senators and the visitors' gallery. It was also a holiday for strings. None were pulled for two weeks.

Trouble On Formosa

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEH, Formosa

Partly because of the extraordinary vacillations of the Eisenhower administration, trouble on Formosa must certainly be expected if Quemoy and the Matsus are finally surrendered to the Communists.

Try to do what our present policymakers seem never to do. Look at the record of American action on the issue of the offshore island through the eyes of those most directly affected and you realize at once that the danger of demoralization here on Formosa is bound to be considerable.

Item one on the record is President Eisenhower's famous "unleashing of Chiang Kai-shek," and his sharp attack on the Truman administration for pursuing precisely the policy that the Eisenhower administration has now embodied in the Formosa treaty. To give reality to the "unleashing," the American policy makers strongly pressed the generalissimo to occupy the offshore islands in force.

Until this pressure was applied in 1953, even Quemoy was rather lightly held. Everyone on Formosa assumed that the island positions were expendable before they were occupied in force. It was by American request, then, that the generalissimo in effect committed himself, before his army and his people, to defend the offshore islands with all his power.

Item two on the record is the quick switch that the Eisenhower administration made last fall, as soon as the Chinese Communist threat to the islands became serious. Overruling three of the four Joint Chiefs of Staff, President Eisenhower decided that the islands which the generalissimo had committed himself to defend by American request, were now to be abandoned without a fight.

The result was the administration policy paper widely known in the inner circles as "Fifty-Four Forty/No Fight." As decided by the President, this paper took the firm position that the United States would not assist in the defense of the offshore islands.

But in January, came item three, when "Fifty-Four Forty/No Fight" was suddenly junked in favor of a new decision to abandon the Tachens but to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. This new policy was so firmly agreed on that on January 19 Secretary of State John Foster Dulles formally promised Chinese Foreign Minister George Yeh that Quemoy and the Matsus would be publicly guaranteed by the President himself.

According to Dulles, the President was going to give this public guarantee as soon as the Congress had passed the Formosa resolution. On the strength of the minutes of the Dulles-Yeh conversation, American Ambassador Karl Rankin also publicly forecast a guarantee of Quemoy and the Matsus here in Taipeh. Meanwhile other American military and political leaders were making fighting noises of the kind that were also heard in Washington in the early stages of the Dien Bien Phu crisis.

Lasted To Present

Finally, the fourth item in the record was the President's repudiation of his secretary of state's promise; his refusal to give any public guarantee of Quemoy and the Matsus; and the resulting adoption of the policy—or is it the non-policy? — of "keeping them guessing." This phase has lasted to the present day, with such incidents as Admiral Carney's background talk about atomic war by April 15 to give it spice.

From this truly fantastic record of continuous tergiversation, one point stands out very clearly. The importance that Quemoy and the Matsus have now acquired in the eyes of Formosa and of Asia is marked "made in America." We might have got away with abandoning the islands after pressing the generalissimo to occupy them.

By American Request

But we could not and cannot get away with abandoning the islands after the much publicized January decision to defend them. The first half of the Dien Bien Phu pattern, of big, bold, brave talk, has again been traced out in Washington. If we also repeat the second half of that pattern, following the big, bold, brave talk with a quick slink when the chips are down, the effect will be shattering in Asia. And it will be most shattering of all here on Formosa.

With some reason in view of the record, an American refusal to aid in the defense of the islands will now be regarded here as a shocking betrayal. It can at least be expected to produce the kind of anti-American manifestations that occurred at the time of the Tachen evacuation. And they are likely to be much more serious than the "pro-austerity" riot at a Sino-American charity fashion show which was then organized by the more anti-foreign group in the government.

Can't Be Ignored

On the other side of the ledger, meanwhile, there is the stern and efficient police job that has been done on Formosa by the Generalissimo's son, Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo. However much key persons may be tempted to throw in the sponge if America abandons the islands, the fact remains that treachery on Formosa is no longer the easy business it once was.

Balance the strictness of Chiang Ching-kuo's police against the evidence on the other side, and you get a very real doubt. It is certain that if the United States does not assist in the defense of the offshore islands, the military and political demoralization here will be severe. But it is uncertain, because of the prevailing police measures, whether this demoralization will lead to more openly serious consequences. Most probably it will not, but the risk cannot be altogether ignored.

Many Agents Available To Ease Leukemia Symptoms

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A number of specific agents are available to relieve symptoms and improve the feeling of well being in leukemia. But these remedies are not the kind that can be bought over the drug store counter. Too little will have no effect and too much will lead to serious toxic reactions.

Remedies include a long list of chemicals such as 6-Mercaptopurine, TEM, urethane, nitrogen mustard, and the latest—myleran. These products are used alone or in combination. Some work better in acute leukemia and others, in the chronic variety.

Radiation therapy also is popular. Many physicians consider X-ray treatments the old reliable. Others prefer radio-active phosphorus (P-32), which is injected into a vein or swallowed like water. On absorption, it is disseminated or distributed throughout the body and finally settles in the blood forming system. On reaching its destination, each particle acts like a miniature X-ray machine, giving off rays where they do the most good.

Lukemia is said to be on the increase. Fifteen years ago one out of every 2,000 patients admitted to hospitals had this disease; now the ratio is approximately one in 1,000. This means the condition has doubled but in actual numbers the total is not too large.

Leukemia is a blood disorder in which the tissues that make white blood cells go on a rampage and produce a super number. The normal white count is between 7,500 and 10,000; in leukemia, it goes up to 300,000 or more. Many of these cells are premature and abnormal, a sign that the blood forming organs are overworking.

Acute leukemia is partial to children and produces more serious symptoms. Weakness, fever, and pallor as well as hemorrhages into and ulceration of the skin occur. The red blood count may drop to one million.

Chronic leukemia is more common and most of its victims are middle aged or older. The onset is so insidious the majority of patients cannot tell when it first started. Symptoms include paleness, progressive weakness, weight loss, shortness of breath, palpitation, and enlargement of the glands of the neck, armpits, and groins.

After treatment is instituted, the red blood count goes up and the white blood count decreases. Swelling of the glands and other involved organs subsides and other symptoms are relieved.

COLOR BLINDNESS

Mrs. T. writes: My son was turned down by the Navy for color blindness. Is there anything he can do to cure the condition before he applies to the Air Force?

REPLY

No. A disturbance of this kind usually is hereditary and, to my knowledge, there is no cure. Attempts to teach color appreciation have not been successful.

NOT MANY

Mrs. L. writes: How many calories should a bedridden small woman eat daily?

REPLY

From 1,000 to 2,000.

NO EFFECT

H. L. writes: Does drinking milk cause or have anything to do with the development of rheumatism or arthritis?

REPLY

No.

HECTIC FLUSH

Mrs. J. writes: Why do I become florid and feverish after a few cocktails?

REPLY

Because alcohol dilates the blood vessels which makes the skin warm and flushed.

CORTISONE AND DIABETES

F. T. writes: Is there any truth to the statement that taking cortisone leads to diabetes?

REPLY

Not in the strict sense. Cortisone has a temporary effect upon the glandular system, including the pancreas and pituitary gland. As a result, the level of sugar in the blood rises and the excess appears in the urine.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

There's a society girl in New York who's so nearsighted she once mistook Herman Hickman for a taxicab. At a swanky dinner party the butler discreetly handed her a note from the hostess, which she turned over to Lord Doodlesworth on her left, beseeching, "Won't you read this for me, Your Lordship? I seem to have something in my eye this evening." His Lordship obligingly opened the note and read, "Be a darling, and talk a bit to Lord Doodlesworth. I know he's a bit of a bore, but we're counting on being asked to his estate in England next summer."

Will Feather characterizes an acquaintance as the type who, moving to a new town, would soon make friends with everyone. In two years he'd be on the city planning board; in three, he'd be mayor; and in four years, he'd be in jail. "If five men agreed to move a piano," concluded Will, "this would be the character who carried the stool."

A Plan Of Substance Termed 'Destructive'

We have just received from the Maryland State Planning Commission a report based on replies from the 15 city, county and bi-county planning agencies as to programs reported for 1955.

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission of Cumberland, of which James Alfred Avirett is chairman, is credited with two programs for 1955.

The first is development of a master plan for the improvement of internal traffic, a project the commission has been working on without any noticeable success for a number of years.

The second "program" is, according to the report, "continued opposition to the destructive plan" of the State Roads Commission to construct an overhead bridge over the business and residential sections of Cumberland.

Most residents of Cumberland, we feel certain, and the Mayor and Council do not believe the cross-town expressway plan is destructive. The Mayor and Council, in fact, repudiated this viewpoint when they approved a contract with the State Roads Commission for construction of the project.

As a matter of fact, the expressway and the industrial boulevard, which is an integral part of the expressway plan, is the only plan of any substance that has been submitted to improve Cumberland's traffic problem.

By its very own statement of "continued opposition to the destructive plan" to build an overhead bridge (which is only a part of the expressway plan), the Planning and Zoning Commission itself is raising obstacles to solving its No. 1 problem—development of a master plan for the improvement of internal traffic.

We regret that the State Planning Commission has seen fit to incorporate this language—"continued opposition to the destructive plan"—in its report.

The plan to our way of thinking, is anything but destructive. It certainly, with its six traffic lanes and no obstructions, will relieve, if not end, the internal traffic problem, and add an imposing, architecturally beautiful structure to our city with comparatively little cost to the taxpayers.

These Days

The McCarran-Walter Act

The Corsi affair again brings to public attention the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act and the Refugee Relief Act which have to do with immigration into this country. This is an emotional issue over which there is bound to be controversy because involved is the question of racial, national and religious equality before the law. No group is willing to agree to a formula which makes it less acceptable than any other group.

From a strictly American standpoint, the basic question is whether there is to be an unlimited or a limited immigration. No one proposes a system that stops all immigration. If it is to be a limited immigration, no one has ever proposed a formula for limitation which has had universal approval. No device has ever been proposed which has been altogether just. It is doubtful whether anyone can conceive of an altogether objective, equal, fair and just device.

The McCarran-Walter Act undoubtedly requires some revision to remove whatever inequities experience with it has disclosed. Senator Pat McCarran once told me that he saw some points that could be improved upon. That is a function of Congress, and although congressional action is liable to be slow, its results will be surer and more permanent than the fiat of any administrative tendency to "liberalize" an act of Congress by private interpretation.

Opposition or support of these laws generally does not answer the fundamental question as to whether or not the American people want to increase the population of this country by taking in the surplus populations of other countries. Premier Mario Scelba of Italy made the interesting observation that the difference between the United States and Soviet Russia is that everybody wants to come to the United States and nobody wants to go to Russia.

But the United States cannot take in everybody. There was a long period in American history when this country needed population, when industrial companies sent agents to European countries to recruit immigrants. We were then short of labor, particularly non-agricultural, heavy-industry laborers, such as miners and steel workers.

That day is gone. The United States has a population of over 160,000,000 people and by the present rate of increase, it will not be many decades before we shall have a population of 200,000,000.

Along with the increase of population, we have developed a remarkable method of production by labor-saving devices, to a degree that automatic or semi-automatic methods prevail. Because of this, it is not beyond possibility that a 30-hour week will be demanded by organized labor to avert unemployment. While in the past, it was held that machines make jobs, we may be approaching a period when the new types of production will not make new jobs.

When that point is reached, the United States will have surplus population, that is more men and women than can be profitably employed. Whereas during the depression years, that situation was regarded as abnormal and was met by putting part of our population on the dole, what are we to do about it should, let us say, between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 employables be permanently unemployed and therefore surplus population?

WASHINGTON—if it's logical for the United States to urge that the Nationalists give up Quemoy and the Matsus because those islands are so close to the Chinese mainland as to be a source of potential trouble, why isn't it as logical for those on the appeasement side to urge the West German government now to consent to the giving up of Berlin to East Germany?

For Berlin today is an "island" and there is a gap of 100 miles between it and the main area of West Germany, just as there is a space of 100 miles between Formosa and the Chinese offshore islands. The "island" is a constant source of friction.

The new type of blockade recently imposed by the Soviet authorities over the commercial trucks that have to travel between Berlin and West Germany over the 100-mile highway in the Soviet zone can be cited as an example of the kind of international irritation which the continued possession of Berlin by the West Germans holds for the Allied world.

Happened Before

All the arguments being made for appeasing the Red Chinese can be adapted readily to the situation in and around the "island of Berlin." For the appeasement talk heard here and the proposals being made that the Chinese offshore islands be surrendered, as suggested by some big American newspapers, could be taken by the Communists to mean they will get what they want without fighting. The Soviets know that heretofore in the "cold war," by playing their cards right—by threatening war through their satellites and not actually engaging in it — there has been stimulated on the Allied side, usually from the peace-at-any-price elements, a demand that the United States lead the way in retreat.

What is producing a great deal of confusion among folks who look on from the sidelines is the strange inconsistency between the attitude taken toward developments in Europe and those in Asia.

Thus, the idea that the United States might wish to take a firm stand in calling a halt to the Communist advance in Asia is termed in Europe a provocative attitude and one fraught with danger. Usually it is followed up in America by editorials in some newspapers of influence which declare that, because our allies are worried or anxious, America must back down.

If it be suggested that this might mean the loss of Asia, there's always a ready answer given—that this is a danger which must be faced but, on the other hand, that it isn't equal to the danger of perhaps worrying our allies.

Ike Dramatized Need

The fact remains that the average American today isn't clear as to why any American lives should be lost over the Quemoys or the Matsus. He is supposed to feel differently, however, about the importance of defending Formosa. Yet only a year or so ago Formosa seemed remote, just as Korea did to most Americans in January 1950, when Secretary of State Acheson wrote them off in his speech to the National Press Club as being outside the American defense perimeter.

But President Eisenhower, by asking for a resolution by Congress, has dramatized the need for the defense of Formosa as a means of halting the Communists advance in Asia. Even the other Western Allies at present are inclined to go along with him on this policy in the hope that the Quemoys and Matsus may yet be surrendered. Then they will doubtless demand a plebiscite on Formosa, but not, of course, a plebiscite on the mainland.

Failure to defend the Quemoy and Matsus islands could mean a death blow to the morale of the Nationalist troops based on Formosa. Then an army of 500,000 Nationalists, who now constitute a flank which keeps a Red Chinese army bogged down on the Chinese mainland, would deteriorate. Grave danger may develop then in respect to U. N. forces in Korea. Maybe the Red Chinese would immediately thereafter decide it was opportune to resume the fighting there.

Until the President explains to the American people the relationship between the Chinese offshore islands and the Formosa situation, there is a chance that by biding their time the Communists can get their way as they have in other things by using pressure tactics in the "cold war." For the effort now is to divide American public opinion and bring about the surrender of the offshore islands to the Communists. European pressure is assisting in that maneuver on the theory that this will mean peace. But the Communists are never appeased. This is the way, indeed, to encourage the aggressor to make a fatal miscalculation which can bring on the very war everybody dreads.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Congress got back from its Easter holiday all set for another one indoors.

The boys were away from the grind of the revolving door and the roar of the swivel for two weeks.

Problems still ahead are the survival of the dossier over the agenda, spot-parking for tabled resolutions and the ideal compromise in which both sides are sure they flummuxed the other.

They've already started Draft-Ike-for-1956 in an all-out effort to validate every American's right to the bottom half of a grapefruit at a White House breakfast.

Before they left in March Ike said there was no world crisis we couldn't afford.

He recognizes Quemoy is a dagger pointed straight at Matsu. But what of it? We collected a 144-piece cutlery set of those threats in World War II.

The Wall Street investigation is definitely spindled for keeps. Nobody on the committee played that Harvard expert's tips.

The Yalta documents have been placed under glass in the hall of pop-offs. The Democrats can hardly wait to celebrate their first centennial in 2045.

Our foreign diplomacy has been condensed from continents to islands. As usual Moscow wants to set five plates for the Big Four kaffeeklatch.

This was a holiday for congressmen, senators and the visitors' gallery. It was also a holiday for strings. None were pulled for two weeks.

Trouble On Formosa

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEH, Formosa

Partly because of the extraordinary vacillations of the Eisenhower administration, trouble on Formosa must certainly be expected if Quemoy and the Matsus are finally surrendered to the Communists.

Try to do what our present policymakers seem never to do. Look at the record of American action on the issue of the offshore island through the eyes of those most directly affected and you realize at once that the danger of demoralization here on Formosa is bound to be considerable.

Item one on the record is President Eisenhower's famous "unleashing of Chiang Kai-shek," and his sharp attack on the Truman administration for pursuing precisely the policy that the Eisenhower administration has now embodied in the Formosa treaty. To give reality to the "unleashing," the American policy makers strongly pressed the generalissimo to occupy the offshore islands in force.

Until this pressure was applied in 1953, even Quemoy was rather lightly held. Everyone on Formosa assumed that the island positions were expendable before they were occupied in force. It was by American request, then, that the generalissimo in effect committed himself, before his army and his people, to defend the offshore islands with all his power.

Item two on the record is the quick switch that the Eisenhower administration made last fall, as soon as the Chinese Communist threat to the islands became serious. Overruling three of the four Joint Chiefs of Staff, President Eisenhower decided that the islands which the generalissimo had committed himself to defend by American request, were now to be abandoned without a fight.

The result was the administration policy paper widely known in the inner circles as "Fifty-Four Forty/No Fight." As decided by the President, this paper took the firm position that the United States would not assist in the defense of the offshore islands.

But in January, came item three, when "Fifty-Four Forty/No Fight" was suddenly junked in favor of a new decision to abandon the Tachens but to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. This new policy was so firmly agreed on that on January 19 Secretary of State John Foster Dulles formally promised Chinese Foreign Minister George Yeh that Quemoy and the Matsus would be publicly guaranteed by the President himself.

According to Dulles, the President was going to give this public guarantee as soon as the Congress had passed the Formosa resolution. On the strength of the minutes of the Dulles-Yeh conversation, American Ambassador Karl Rankin also publicly forecast a guarantee of Quemoy and the Matsus here in Taipeh. Meanwhile other American military and political leaders were making fighting noises of the kind that were also heard in Washington in the early stages of the Dien Bien Phu crisis.

Lasted To Present

Finally, the fourth item in the record was the President's repudiation of his secretary of state's promise; his refusal to give any public guarantee of Quemoy and the Matsus; and the resulting adoption of the policy—or is it the non-policy? — of "keeping them guessing." This phase has lasted to the present day, with such incidents as Admiral Carney's background talk about atomic war by April 15 to give it spice.

From this truly fantastic record of continuous tergiversation, one point stands out very clearly. The importance that Quemoy and the Matsus have now acquired in the eyes of Formosa and of Asia is marked "made in America." We might have got away with abandoning the islands after pressing the generalissimo to occupy them.

By American Request

But we could not and cannot get away with abandoning the islands after the much publicized January decision to defend them. The first half of the Dien Bien Phu pattern, of big, bold, brave talk, has again been traced out in Washington. If we also repeat the second half of that pattern, following the big, bold, brave talk with a quick slink when the chips are down, the effect will be shattering in Asia. And it will be most shattering of all here on Formosa.

With some reason in view of the record, an American refusal to aid in the defense of the islands will now be regarded here as a shocking betrayal. It can at least be expected to produce the kind of anti-American manifestations that occurred at the time of the Tachen evacuation. And they are likely to be much more serious than the "pro-austerity" riot at a Sino-American charity fashion show which was then organized by the more anti-foreign group in the government.

Can't Be Ignored

On the other side of the ledger, meanwhile, there is the stern and efficient police job that has been done on Formosa by the Generalissimo's son, Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo. However much key persons may be tempted to throw in the sponge if America abandons the islands, the fact remains that treachery on Formosa is no longer the easy business it once was.

Balance the strictness of Chiang Ching-kuo's police against the evidence on the other side, and you get a very real doubt. It is certain that if the United States does not assist in the defense of the offshore islands, the military and political demoralization here will be severe. But it is uncertain, because of the prevailing police measures, whether this demoralization will lead to more openly serious consequences. Most probably it will not, but the risk cannot be altogether ignored.

Many Agents Available To Ease Leukemia Symptoms

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A number of specific agents are available to relieve symptoms and improve the feeling of well being in leukemia. But these remedies are not the kind that can be bought over the drug store counter. Too little will have no effect and too much will lead to serious toxic reactions.

Remedies include a long list of chemicals such as 6-Mercaptopurine, TEM, urethane, nitrogen mustard, and the latest—myleran. These products are used alone or in combination. Some work better in acute leukemia and others, in the chronic variety.

Radiation therapy also is popular. Many physicians consider X-ray treatments the old reliable. Others prefer radio-active phosphorus (P-32), which is injected into a vein or swallowed like water. On absorption, it is disseminated or distributed throughout the body and finally settles in the blood forming system. On reaching its destination, each particle acts like a miniature X-ray machine, giving off rays where they do the most good.

Lukemia is said to be on the increase. Fifteen years ago one out of every 2,000 patients admitted to hospitals had this disease; now the ratio is approximately one in 1,000. This means the condition has doubled but in actual numbers the total is not too large.

Leukemia is a blood disorder in which the tissues that make white blood cells go on a rampage and produce a super number. The normal white count is between 7,500 and 10,000; in leukemia, it goes up to 300,000 or more. Many of these cells are premature and abnormal, a sign that the blood forming organs are overworking.

Acute leukemia is partial to children and produces more serious symptoms. Weakness, fever, and pallor as well as hemorrhages into and ulceration of the skin occur. The red blood count may drop to one million.

Chronic leukemia is more common and most of its victims are middle aged or older. The onset is so insidious the majority of patients cannot tell when it first started. Symptoms include paleness, progressive weakness, weight loss, shortness of breath, palpitation, and enlargement of the glands of the neck, armpits, and groins.

After treatment is instituted, the red blood count goes up and the white blood count decreases. Swelling of the glands and other involved organs subsides and other symptoms are relieved.

COLOR BLINDNESS

Mrs. T. writes: My son was turned down by the Navy for color blindness. Is there anything he can do to cure the condition before he applies to the Air Force?

REPLY

No. A disturbance of this kind usually is hereditary and, to my knowledge, there is no cure. Attempts to teach color appreciation have not been successful.

NOT MANY

Mrs. L. writes: How many calories should a bedridden small woman eat daily?

REPLY

From 1,000 to 2,000.

NO EFFECT

H. L. writes: Does drinking milk cause or have anything to do with the development of rheumatism or arthritis?

REPLY

No.

HECTIC FLUSH

Mrs. J. writes: Why do I become florid and feverish after a few cocktails?

REPLY

Because alcohol dilates the blood vessels which makes the skin warm and flushed.

CORTISONE AND DIABETES

F. T. writes: Is there any truth to the statement that taking cortisone leads to diabetes?

REPLY

Not in the strict sense. Cortisone has a temporary effect upon the glandular system, including the pancreas and pituitary gland. As a result, the level of sugar in the blood rises and the excess appears in the urine.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

There's a society girl in New York who's so nearsighted she once mistook Herman Hickman for a taxicab. At a swanky dinner party the butler discreetly handed her a note from the hostess, which she turned over to Lord Doodlesworth on her left, beseeching, "Won't you read this for me, Your Lordship? I seem to have something in my eye this evening." His Lordship obligingly opened the note and read, "Be a darling, and talk a bit to Lord Doodlesworth. I know he's a bit of a bore, but we're counting on being asked to his estate in England next summer."

Will Feather characterizes an acquaintance as the type who, moving to a new town, would soon make friends with everyone. In two years he'd be on the city planning board; in three, he'd be mayor; and in four years, he'd be in jail. "If five men agreed to move a piano," concluded Will, "this would be the character who carried the stool."

Pizza Pie Parties Rage Of Younger Set

AP Newsfeatures

Any time is pizza time for Detroit juniors, who consider the spicy Italian pie due reason for a party.

Until recently the high-school crowd went out for their pizza, but now the do-it-yourself trend has started a rage for home-made pizza parties.

Both boys and girls have become expert at making the sizzling pies, composed of pastry, tomatoes, cheese and spices as basic ingredients, with whatever additions appeal to the youthful taste—anchovies, salami, mushrooms, onions, garlic or what-have-you.

When four members of the Detroit Youth Council got together recently for an executive session, it was a foregone conclusion that pizza pie would be the piece de resistance. The meeting was scheduled for the home of Barbara Ventura, vice president of the council, who makes her pizza from an authentic recipe brought from Italy by her grandmother.

Barbara started the dough early in the morning, since it is made with yeast and takes three hours to rise. She also adds mashed potatoes, grated cheese and oil to the basic dough.

The rest of the preparation awaited the arrival of the other members of the party—Mary Lou Schumer, corresponding secretary, Dick Wise and Frank Zweig, president of the council. That's half the fun—letting the guests help with the cooking.

As Barbara and Mary Lou donned aprons and began spreading the dough, the boys got busy with the assorted toppings — Parmesan cheese, tomatoes, anchovies, mushrooms, pepperoni, olive oil, onions and garlic. The boys also were allowed to add the marjoram and chopped parsley, finishing touch for a proper pizza.

Tantalizing odors came from the oven while the hungry young people waited for the succulent pie to bake, and when it came sizzling to the kitchen table the spicy wedges disappeared in record time.

The pizza rage is one that the younger set has adopted as its own not only in Detroit but in many sections of the country.

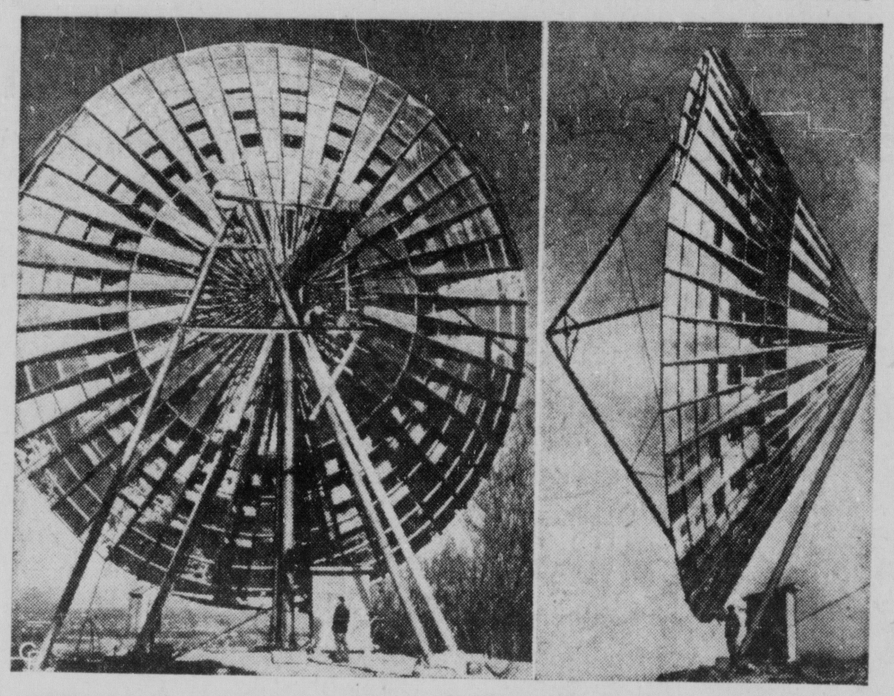
WORLD'S LARGEST ANTENNA BRIDGES SPACE LIMITS



SHOWN ON A HILL at Holmdel, N. J., is the new 60-foot experimental antenna, largest in the world, which can pick up telephone and television signals sent directly through space for 200 miles. According to an announcement from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Bell Telephone laboratories, direct TV and multi-channel transmission through space, without relay stations and at ultra-high frequencies, has been accomplished. The new technique is expected to provide communication bridges over water and rugged terrain. At left is a back view and, at right, it is seen from side.

Has No Tears For Onions

Refrigerator Cooky Is Easy

A favorite snacktime special for the children and a perfect "sweet" for family desserts is that homemakers' choice, the cooky. Most cookies are easy to make, and you'll find it's a good idea to make lots of them for the youngsters' frequent trips to the cooky jar.

The refrigerator cooky is popular with all cooky fans. To make, you simply form the cooky dough into rolls and refrigerate them overnight or until needed. Then, to serve, you slice the roll into thin cookies and bake. This means you can serve freshly baked cookies in a matter of minutes for an afternoon tea or a family dessert. And for special company service, make the rolls in different shapes, such as oval or diamond shapes, for exciting cooky variations.

Refrigerator cookies also keep well after they are baked. Store them in a loosely covered container and if they retain some moisture from the air, recrisp before serving by putting the cookies in a slow oven for about five minutes.

Everyone prefers cookies that have extra richness and flavor. You can achieve this easily by using a delicate flavored margarine for cooky baking. Of course, choose a margarine that's just right for all baking, flavoring, and spreading.

Here is a recipe for a refrigerator cooky that's easy to make, easy to store, and wonderfully easy to eat. Try it for the next family baking, and serve the cookies at tea time, too.

Tea Time Refrigerator Cookies*

YIELD: 8 dozen.

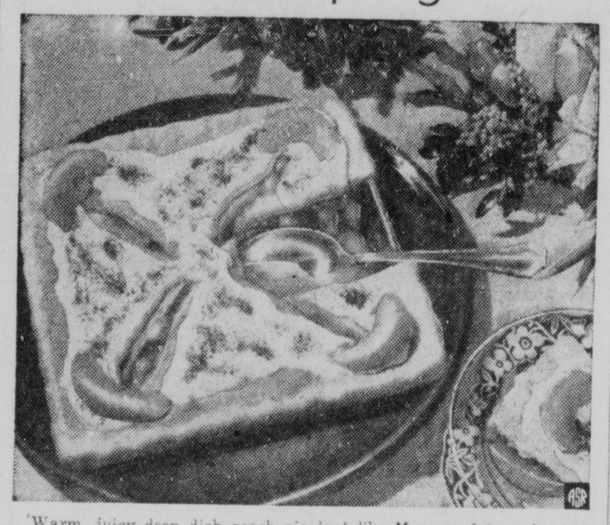
1 cup margarine; 2 cups brown sugar; 2 teaspoons vanilla; 2 eggs; 3-½ cups sifted flour; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon soda; 1 cup chopped nut meats.

Cream margarine, brown sugar, and vanilla. Add eggs and mix well. Sift flour, salt, and soda together: add nut meats and combine with creamed mixture. Mold into 2 rolls (2 inches diameter), wrap in waxed paper, and put into refrigerator overnight or until needed. Chill rolls one-half hour in freezing compartment or refrigerator for ease in cutting cookies. Slice very thin. Bake on ungreased cooky sheet at 375°F for about 12 minutes.

Perhaps your family needs a bit of coaxing to establish good, regular breakfast habits. Little things, like an attractive table decoration or colorful napkins, may be all that is needed to awaken interest in the morning meal. Let children help make table arrangements, and they'll be the first to appear. Attractive food, served attractively, will do more than anything else to make breakfast an occasion no one will want to miss. Select enticing coffee cakes and rolls from your favorite bakery or the baked goods counter at your grocery. Serve them often.

As late as eighty years ago, soup was considered such an effeminate dish that any man who ate it was looked upon as a sissy.

Peach Pie For Spring



Warm, juicy deep dish peach pie just like Mom used to make, but there's a difference. It's the cinnamon, sugar and sour cream topping that makes it different . . . and oh so good.

Commercial sour cream is suggested because we like the zip of it with fruits, however, whipped cream may be used if you prefer. Make other canned fruit pies by your favorite recipe and try them with this elegant topping. Apple slices, tart cherries, apricots, plums, or blueberries are some suggestions.

Deep Dish Peach Pie

2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) sliced peaches
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter, or margarine
Pastry
1 cup commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon, or nutmeg

Mix sugar, flour and salt. Gradually add 1 cup syrup drained from the peaches, mixing until smooth. Add drained peaches and lemon juice. Put into baking dish and dot with butter. Fit pastry over dish, fluting to the edge. Cut several slits to allow escape of steam. Bake in a hot oven (425°F.) about 30 minutes, until crust is browned. Serve warm. Just before serving, spoon sour cream over crust and sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon. Five to six servings.

Pork For Economy Meals

THREE TEMPTING WAYS WITH PORK—You couldn't ask for better buys than there are in pork this spring. Shown here are three tempting dishes made from some favorite pork buys—pork chops, spareribs and chop suey meat. 1. Pork chops baked in a casserole with scalloped corn; 2. spareribs cooked in a delightful Hawaiian-type, sweet-sour sauce; 3. chop suey enhanced by the addition of mushrooms and toasted almonds. (See recipes which follow.)

You can take your pick of economical pork buys this spring. With pork so plentiful, you'll find values galore at your meat market.

Three popular pork buys which are available in good supply these days are pork chops, spareribs and chop suey meat. Here are some unusually tempting ways to prepare the trio. The first is spareribs baked in a sweet-sour, Hawaiian-type sauce.

Hawaiian-Style Spareribs

3 pounds spareribs; 3 tablespoons brown sugar; 2 tablespoons cornstarch; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ cup vinegar; ½ cup catsup; 1 9-ounce can crushed pineapple; 1 tablespoon soy sauce.

Have ribs cut into serving pieces. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt and stir in vinegar, catsup, undrained crushed pineapple and soy sauce. Cook until slightly thickened, about five minutes, stirring constantly. Arrange layer of spareribs in roasting pan. Cover with half of pineapple mixture; add another layer of ribs and top with rest of sauce. Cover pan tightly and bake at 350°F. 1½ to 2 hours or until ribs are tender.

End-cut pork chops are less expensive than the fancy center cut chops and are fine for dinner casseroles, such as this one of scalloped corn and pork chops. For added zip, the corn is lightly seasoned with chopped onion and a little Worcestershire sauce.

Escalloped Corn with Pork Chops

4 pork chops; salt, pepper, paprika; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; ¼ cup finely chopped onion; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 cup milk; 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce; 1 teaspoon dry mustard; 2 teaspoons sugar; ¼ cup cracker crumbs; 1 No. 303 can whole kernel corn (2 cups).

Trim some of the fat from edges of chops. Rub chops with a mixture of 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon paprika. Brown in a little hot fat. In a medium saucepan, cook onion in butter or margarine until soft. Blend in flour and gradually add milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Add remaining ingredients and ½ teaspoon salt. Pour into a greased 1½ quart casserole. Place chops on top, cover and bake in a 350°F. oven for 1¼ hours; cover and continue baking for 15 minutes. 4. servings.

This mellow flavored chop suey is delicately seasoned with a little ginger. Sliced sauteed mushrooms and toasted almonds add pleasing flavor.

DeLuxe Chop Suey

1½ pounds pork chop suey meat; 3 tablespoons lard; 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (optional); 1 cup sliced onions; 1½ cup sliced celery; 1 teaspoon ginger; 1 teaspoon salt; dash pepper; 1½ cups bouillon or water; 3 tablespoons soy sauce; 1 can bean sprouts; 4 tablespoons cornstarch; toasted almonds.

Cook pork and mushrooms in hot lard until lightly brown. Add onions, celery, seasonings and bouillon. Cover and cook until tender, about an hour. Add soy sauce and well drained bean sprouts. Thicken with cornstarch mixed to a paste with a little water. Cook slowly for about 10 minutes. Add extra salt and pepper if necessary. Serve over hot rice or fried noodles and sprinkle with whole toasted almonds, if desired.

If you're having the bridge foursome for luncheon, serve plump, juicy Rome Beauty apples baked and stuffed with little pig sausages. To prepare, core apples and peel down about one inch. Place three pig sausages into each apple and bake in a moderate over (375 degrees F.) 45 min. to one hour.

Miniature Washboard

A tricky way to remove stains when you're washing clothes is to apply soapsuds to the stain, fold the wet fabric over your first two fingers and rub the spot briskly across the flat side of a comb. This is like using a miniature washboard and will chase the spot quickly.

Pork For Economy Meals

THREE TEMPTING WAYS WITH PORK—You couldn't ask for better buys than there are in pork this spring. Shown here are three tempting dishes made from some favorite pork buys—pork chops, spareribs and chop suey meat. 1. Pork chops baked in a casserole with scalloped corn; 2. spareribs cooked in a delightful Hawaiian-type, sweet-sour sauce; 3. chop suey enhanced by the addition of mushrooms and toasted almonds. (See recipes which follow.)

You can take your pick of economical pork buys this spring. With pork so plentiful, you'll find values galore at your meat market.

Three popular pork buys which are available in good supply these days are pork chops, spareribs and chop suey meat. Here are some unusually tempting ways to prepare the trio. The first is spareribs baked in a sweet-sour, Hawaiian-type sauce.

Hawaiian-Style Spareribs

3 pounds spareribs; 3 tablespoons brown sugar; 2 tablespoons cornstarch; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ cup vinegar; ½ cup catsup; 1 9-ounce can crushed pineapple; 1 tablespoon soy sauce.

Have ribs cut into serving pieces. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt and stir in vinegar, catsup, undrained crushed pineapple and soy sauce. Cook until slightly thickened, about five minutes, stirring constantly. Arrange layer of spareribs in roasting pan. Cover with half of pineapple mixture; add another layer of ribs and top with rest of sauce. Cover pan tightly and bake at 350°F. 1½ to 2 hours or until ribs are tender.

End-cut pork chops are less expensive than the fancy center cut chops and are fine for dinner casseroles, such as this one of scalloped corn and pork chops. For added zip, the corn is lightly seasoned with chopped onion and a little Worcestershire sauce.

Escalloped Corn with Pork Chops

4 pork chops; salt, pepper, paprika; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; ¼ cup finely chopped onion; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 cup milk; 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce; 1 teaspoon dry mustard; 2 teaspoons sugar; ¼ cup cracker crumbs; 1 No. 303 can whole kernel corn (2 cups).

Trim some of the fat from edges of chops. Rub chops with a mixture of 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon paprika. Brown in a little hot fat. In a medium saucepan, cook onion in butter or margarine until soft. Blend in flour and gradually add milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Add remaining ingredients and ½ teaspoon salt. Pour into a greased 1½ quart casserole. Place chops on top, cover and bake in a 350°F. oven for 1¼ hours; cover and continue baking for 15 minutes. 4. servings.

This mellow flavored chop suey is delicately seasoned with a little ginger. Sliced sauteed mushrooms and toasted almonds add pleasing flavor.

DeLuxe Chop Suey

1½ pounds pork chop suey meat; 3 tablespoons lard; 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (optional); 1 cup sliced onions; 1½ cup sliced celery; 1 teaspoon ginger; 1 teaspoon salt; dash pepper; 1½ cups bouillon or water; 3 tablespoons soy sauce; 1 can bean sprouts; 4 tablespoons cornstarch; toasted almonds.

Cook pork and mushrooms in hot lard until lightly brown. Add onions, celery, seasonings and bouillon. Cover and cook until tender, about an hour. Add soy sauce and well drained bean sprouts. Thicken with cornstarch mixed to a paste with a little water. Cook slowly for about 10 minutes. Add extra salt and pepper if necessary. Serve over hot rice or fried noodles and sprinkle with whole toasted almonds, if desired.

Steak In The Range

One new range comes equipped with a 3,800 watt steak broiler. The gadget can give the same heat as glowing charcoal, according to the manufacturers, permitting barbecue-type parties all the year round.

If you're having the bridge foursome for luncheon, serve plump, juicy Rome Beauty apples baked and stuffed with little pig sausages. To prepare, core apples and peel down about one inch. Place three pig sausages into each apple and bake in a moderate over (375 degrees F.) 45 min. to one hour.

Miniature Washboard

A tricky way to remove stains when you're washing clothes is to apply soapsuds to the stain, fold the wet fabric over your first two fingers and rub the spot briskly across the flat side of a comb. This is like using a miniature washboard and will chase the spot quickly.

Government Expects Loyal Citizens To Keep Records

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — If there is anything this government is excessively fond of, it's record keeping.

Not only does the government keep records itself, by the Pentagon building full, but it also expects each loyal citizen to do the same.

Suppose, for example, you should catch a whale. Report this fact promptly, by radio, to a whaling ship or land station. Legally, the record of your catch must be kept forever.

Or suppose you have been tinkering with the idea of putting up an interstate toll bridge. Keep all records, the law says, of its construction, financing and promotion until three years after the bridge is completed.

Or suppose you are a more modest operator, say a filbert handler. The Agriculture Department expects you to keep a record of all filberts handled.

This information comes from the first list ever got up of all the records the government expects to be kept in case its officials become curious.

It took almost a year merely to draw up the list, which, when finished, filled 50 pages of the "Federal Register."

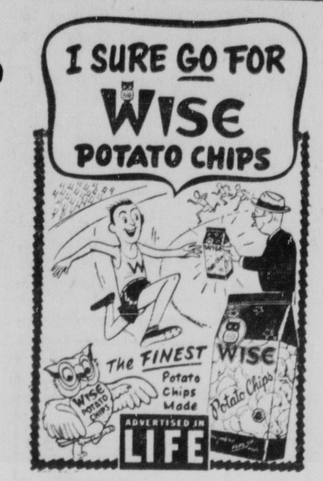
Every department of the government is on it, with the Treasury Department far out in front. Of the 977 different classifications, the treasury has 369, or almost a third.

Many of the records to be kept are fairly obvious. People doing business with the Defense Department, or running radio stations, or operating banks that carry federal insurance would be expected to keep records.

But so must wholesale dealers who specialize in peddling adulterated butter, importers who fetch in rice to be used in canned soup and the secretary of the Klamath Tribal Loan Board. His job: To keep a complete record of all meetings of the board.

That strange language known as governmentese creeps into record keeping, of course.

What is required of the master of a vessel that will have a sanitary inspection at a Canal Zone port? The government's answer: He should "keep certificates covering deratization." This, as all well read cats know, merely means he should hang on to the papers that show his ship is rid of rats.



Social Security Fund Might Go Broke Or Soar

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Three Cabinet members who are trustees for the social security system reported yesterday that the old age insurance fund might go broke —or have 146 billion dollars—by the end of the century.

The trustees—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of Welfare Hobby — made the estimates in their annual report to Congress.

The report was based on social security revisions last year which brought millions of new workers into the system and increased benefits.

It said that about 9 out of every 10 workers are now covered by the Old Age and Survivors Insurance trust fund, and that on June 30, 1954 some $20,944,000,000 was on hand. This was mostly invested in government securities.

Even at highest cost estimates, the board said, the fund will continue to increase during the next five years, reaching some amount between a "high cost estimate" of $24,139,000,000 and a "low cost estimate" of $29,126,000,000, by 1960.

But after that, if benefit payments continue to go up at the "high cost" estimate, the fund will begin to diminish, with outgo bigger than income each year. This, the trustees estimated, would reduce the fund to $14,510,000,000 by 1990, and wipe it out entirely by 1995, unless measures were taken meanwhile to replenish it, or cut costs.

But if benefits and other costs run nearer in the next half century to "low cost" estimates, the fund will continue to grow, and by the year 2000 will build up to a massive $146,087,000,000.

Milk Drink Gains Iron With Molasses Addition

SPRING tonic for spring sport enthusiasts comes in the delicious form of molasses cookies and milk with a taffy flavor. Delicate, smooth unsulphured molasses offers champion refreshment. Recipes on this page.

With modern America's year long supply of fruits and vegetables and vitamin D enriched milk, a bitter potion of sulphur and molasses no longer need alert the body after a winter shortage of vitamins and minerals. However, unsulphured molasses, an outstanding source of iron, is still a good addition to the daily menu. A tablespoon of this sweet aromatic molasses stirred into a glass of milk supplies a mineral milk lacks. And the accompanying cookies are exciting enough to cause a cart wheel of joy. Giants in size, they are crisp and delicate of molasses and spice.

Molasses Cart Wheels

2 ¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1 teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon soda; ¾ teaspoon ginger; ¾ teaspoon cinnamon; 1 cup shortening; ¾ cup sugar; 1 egg; ½ cup unsulphured molasses.

Sift together flour, salt, soda and spices. Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in egg and unsulphured molasses. Gradually add dry ingredients; mix well. Chill in refrigerator 1 hour. Roll out ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth, keeping remaining dough chilled. Cut with 3 inch cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in a moderate oven, (375°F.) 10 minutes. Yield: 3 doz.

A 'Dress-Up' For Family Stew

Stew is a dish known in every country — whatever may be its name. Stew, beloved of all classes, is the restorer of the budget, the eliminator of waste, and a gourmet's treat by any standard, if it it properly prepared.

Stews may be prepared from very small amounts of leftovers and can be delicious, if the preparation is careful and shows imagination. Our photograph and recipe give you a cue for just such appetizing stews. Here a Cereal Cheese Topping is added to your favorite stew which not only gives a festive look but also adds to the food value, and gives a savory crunchiness to the dish.

Cereal Cheese Topping

1 cup corn flakes, malted whole wheat flakes or 40% bran flakes, whole or crushed
1 teaspoon melted butter or margarine
¼ cup grated American cheese

Heat cereal flakes in saucepan, shaking pan back and forth over heat. Pour butter over hot cereal flakes and toss lightly to distribute butter evenly. Put into bowl; add grated cheese and mix lightly. Sprinkle as topping over your favorite stew served in casserole. This makes enough topping for small casserole serving 3 or 4. If used as topping for large casserole, double recipe.

Note: If desired, a small amount of finely chopped onion may be added. Saute in the melted butter before combining with cereal flakes. Or a small amount of finely chopped cooked bacon or ham may be added.

Here is a "dress-up" for your favorite stew that will transform it into a company dish as well as a family treat—a Cereal Cheese Topping for looks as well as food value.

Corn 'N' Cheese Pie

1 can (1 lb.) whole kernel corn, drained
1½ cups (6 oz.) grated Swiss cheese
1 medium-sized onion, sliced and separated into rings
2 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup milk
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

Combine all ingredients, except pastry shell; turn into pastry shell; spread evenly. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 25 minutes longer, or until pie is set in center. Serve hot, cut in wedges.

Makes 6 servings.

Government Expects Loyal Citizens To Keep Records

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — If there is anything this government is excessively fond of, it's record keeping.

Not only does the government keep records itself, by the Pentagon building full, but it also expects each loyal citizen to do the same.

Suppose, for example, you should catch a whale. Report this fact promptly, by radio, to a whaling ship or land station. Legally, the record of your catch must be kept forever.

Or suppose you have been tinkering with the idea of putting up an interstate toll bridge. Keep all records, the law says, of its construction, financing and promotion until three years after the bridge is completed.

Or suppose you are a more modest operator, say a filbert handler. The Agriculture Department expects you to keep a record of all filberts handled.

This information comes from the first list ever got up of all the records the government expects to keep in case its officials become curious.

It took almost a year merely to draw up the list, which, when finished, filled 50 pages of the "Federal Register."

Every department of the government is on it, with the Treasury Department far out in front. Of the 977 different classifications, the treasury has 369, or almost a third.

Many of the records to be kept are fairly obvious. People doing business with the Defense Department, or running radio stations, or operating banks that carry federal insurance would be expected to keep records.

But so must wholesale dealers who specialize in peddling adulterated butter, importers who fetch in rice to be used in canned soup and the secretary of the Klamath Tribal Loan Board. His job: To keep a complete record of all meetings of the board.

That strange language known as governmentese creeps into record keeping, of course.

What is required of the master of a vessel that will have a sanitary inspection at a Canal Zone port? The government's answer: He should "keep certificates covering deratization." This, as all well read cats know, merely means he should hang on to the papers that show his ship is rid of rats.

Milk Drink Gains Iron With Molasses Addition

SPRING tonic for spring sport enthusiasts comes in the delicious form of molasses cookies and milk with a taffy flavor. Delicate, smooth unsulphured molasses offers champion refreshment. Recipes on this page.

With modern America's year long supply of fruits and vegetables and vitamin D enriched milk, a bitter potion of sulphur and molasses no longer need alert the body after a winter shortage of vitamins and minerals. However, unsulphured molasses, an outstanding source of iron, is still a good addition to the daily menu. A tablespoon of this sweet aromatic molasses stirred into a glass of milk supplies a mineral milk lacks. And the accompanying cookies are exciting enough to cause a cart wheel of joy. Giants in size, they are crisp and delicate of molasses and spice.

Molasses Cart Wheels

2 ¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1 teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon soda; ¾ teaspoon ginger; ¾ teaspoon cinnamon; 1 cup shortening; ¾ cup sugar; 1 egg; ½ cup unsulphured molasses.

Sift together flour, salt, soda and spices. Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in egg and unsulphured molasses. Gradually add dry ingredients; mix well. Chill in refrigerator 1 hour. Roll out ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth, keeping remaining dough chilled. Cut with 3 inch cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in a moderate oven, (375°F.) 10 minutes. Yield: 3 doz.

Corn 'N' Cheese Pie

1 can (1 lb.) whole kernel corn, drained
1½ cups (6 oz.) grated Swiss cheese
1 medium-sized onion, sliced and separated into rings
2 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup milk
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

Combine all ingredients, except pastry shell; turn into pastry shell; spread evenly. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 25 minutes longer, or until pie is set in center. Serve hot, cut in wedges.

Makes 6 servings.

Social Security Fund Might Go Broke Or Soar

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Three Cabinet members who are trustees for the social security system reported yesterday that the old age insurance fund might go broke —or have 146 billion dollars—by the end of the century.

The trustees—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of Welfare Hobby — made the estimates in their annual report to Congress.

The report was based on social security revisions last year which brought millions of new workers into the system and increased benefits.

It said that about 9 out of every 10 workers are now covered by the Old Age and Survivors Insurance trust fund, and that on June 30, 1954 some $20,944,000,000 was on hand. This was mostly invested in government securities.

Even at highest cost estimates, the board said, the fund will continue to increase during the next five years, reaching some amount between a "high cost estimate" of $24,139,000,000 and a "low cost estimate" of $29,126,000,000, by 1960.

But after that, if benefit payments continue to go up at the "high cost" estimate, the fund will begin to diminish, with outgo bigger than income each year. This, the trustees estimated, would reduce the fund to $14,510,000,000 by 1990, and wipe it out entirely by 1995, unless measures were taken meanwhile to replenish it, or cut costs.

But if benefits and other costs run nearer in the next half century to "low cost" estimates, the fund will continue to grow, and by the year 2000 will build up to a massive $146,087,000,000.

A 'Dress-Up' For Family Stew

Stew is a dish known in every country — whatever may be its name. Stew, beloved of all classes, is the restorer of the budget, the eliminator of waste, and a gourmet's treat by any standard, if it it properly prepared.

Stews may be prepared from very small amounts of leftovers and can be delicious, if the preparation is careful and shows imagination. Our photograph and recipe give you a cue for just such appetizing stews. Here a Cereal Cheese Topping is added to your favorite stew which not only gives a festive look but also adds to the food value, and gives a savory crunchiness to the dish.

Cereal Cheese Topping

1 cup corn flakes, malted wheat flakes or 40% bran flakes, whole or crushed
1 teaspoon melted butter or margarine
¼ cup grated American cheese

Heat cereal flakes in saucepan, shaking pan back and forth over heat. Pour butter over hot cereal flakes and toss lightly to distribute butter evenly. Put into bowl; add grated cheese and mix lightly. Sprinkle as topping over your favorite stew served in casserole. This makes enough topping for small casserole serving 3 or 4. If used as topping for large casserole, double recipe.

Note: If desired, a small amount of finely chopped onion may be added. Saute in the melted butter before combining with cereal flakes. Or a small amount of finely chopped cooked bacon or ham may be added.

Here is a "dress-up" for your favorite stew that will transform it into a company dish as well as a family treat—a Cereal Cheese Topping for looks as well as food value.

Keyser Service Clubs To Entertain 35 Students Of Foreign Countries

Teen-Agers Have Been Attending School In United States

KEYSER — Four service clubs of Keyser-Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Yeoman, will be hosts to a group of 35 teen-agers from 15 foreign countries, who are participating in a tour of America this summer, following a year of study in American schools. A Greyhound bus caravan will stop over in Keyser for a two-day visit, July 6 to 8, and the students will be welcomed by the four local service clubs. Members will play hosts to the teen-agers and attempt to show them a good time in this area.

The tour of America for these young people is sponsored by the American Field Service, International Scholarships, New York, an organization which brings foreign youngsters to the United States each year with funds raised from local clubs, schools, communities and the general public. The AFS was founded in 1914 as a volunteer ambulance service, served on the battlefields of Europe in two world wars and in 1947, took up peacetime work and began the task of improving international relations through an exchange-students program.

Each year since the plan was formed, as many students as available funds will pay for, are handpicked by their own government for the experience. Youngsters are brought to this country, placed in private homes, and they attend high school side-by-side with American young men and girls, talk their language, share their interests, and learn the American way. Each year, the trip is climaxed by a cross-country bus trip, for a broader view of America and its people.

This group presently in the States is now heading for their homes. One of these units will travel along U. S. Route 50, and make a stop over in Keyser for the better part of two days. They are scheduled to arrive at 5 p. m. on July 6 and depart at 9 a. m., July 8. There will be 16 boys and 18 girls in this unit.

This year's full group that has been sharing in the good things in America, includes young people from Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Finland France Germany New Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

The four local service clubs were contacted, and the local groups accepted, and will entertain the visitors. They will begin preparations immediately to provide housing and entertainment for the visitors. Edwin Jordan of the Keyser Yeoman Club, is general chairman. The Greyhound Bus Lines furnish busses and operators for these tours as a gift to the project.

The tourists have been in the Western part of the country until this time and are now headed eastward, from where they will be provided transportation to their several homelands.

The plan that has been followed on each annual tour has been to quarter these youngsters in private homes so they may better understand America and its home life. Preferably, the promoters of the project, like to see the visitors in homes where there are youngsters of near their ages.

Local families desirous of assisting in this American project for the world may contact the committee of the local service clubs and arrange to participate by taking into their homes some of these young visitors.

MADRID, April 14 (INS) — If any further proof is needed that tempus fugits one should come to Spain and listen to the American military people talk about the Spaniards. And vice versa.

Only a handful of years has passed since the U. S. trotted behind the Communist bloc in U.N. in invoking diplomatic sanctions on Franco's country. Communist Poland introduced the original resolution. Its representative, some hapless parrot instructed by the master delegation, asserted quite heatedly that Spain was harboring former German atomic bomb experts who were secretly frying the fission chips, this time for Franco.

He never got around to explaining why or how these experts could produce atomic bombs in industrially backward Spain when the top German physicists had not been able to build one for Hitler in highly industrialized and progressive Germany. Nevertheless, there was a rush to pull ambassadors and missions out of Spain in an effort to dehorse Franco. We joined in that headlong rush, though most of our Latin American neighbors had the maturity and courage to avoid being stampeded.

The corporal's guard we left in Madrid to represent us did a remarkable job of keeping the Spanish people from hating our guts for generations to come. Paul T. Culbertson, charge d'affaires at our hollow embassy in Madrid from 1947 to 1950, performed services which I doubt will ever be fully understood or appreciated.

In brief, Mr. Culbertson told his opposite numbers in the Foreign Office that the U. S. one day would realize the enormity of its step and reconsider by supporting any motion in U.N. to rescind the sanctions. He did not speak of his own, of course, though he felt that way. He had had his assurances from Washington. But on one notable occasion he was crossed by a 3-2 vote within the American delegation to U.N., the deciding vote being cast by a man most of us consider the last word in hard-hatted conservatism.

Skip a remarkably few years, pull up a chair at the Castellano Hilton (which in itself is a mark of the new relationship between the countries) and listen to an officer from the staff of Maj. Gen. August W. Kissner, head of our military mission:

"We've never worked with better people than the Spanish. You have the feeling that for a thousand years hence they'll say, 'When most of the world turned against us, the Americans reconsidered and gave us a break.' They're honest, hard-working, and have the same outlook on communism as we do. What more can we ask for in today's world?"

We're in the process of building or rebuilding four big air bases in Spain. Three will be able to handle the B-36 or B-52, plus swarms of fighters and tankers. The fourth, near Seville, will be a depot base. It exists now in what we consider primitive circumstances and is in the throes of vast enlargement.

In addition, we're building a 560-mile pipeline from Rota, not far from where Columbus took off in 1492, to Seville and on to Madrid and Zaragoza. And we're building or enlarging naval bases and/or installations at Rota, El Ferrol (Franco's home town) and Cartegena.

It all will cost about a quarter of a billion dollars. Elsewhere and under the customary forced-feed program, it would cost five or ten times as much. All the labor is Spanish, and three bucks a day is big pay. Spanish contractors present astonishingly small bids, do good work. Franco, the man we tried to oust, speeds up Spanish government cooperation far beyond the ability of a checks-and-balances republic. Everybody seems happy except Russia. Our bases expose the Reds from another side; our additional grants will build up a Spanish military force perhaps more unflaggingly opposed to communism than any member of NATO.

15-Month-Old Boy Asks Tax Refund

MIAMI, Fla., April 14 (AP)—One of the nation's youngest taxpayers, 15-month-old David Anthony Ricks, filled out and mailed in his federal income tax form yesterday. He asked for a $2.10 refund.

David earned $15 for two days' work as a movie extra last November and the studio took out the standard deductions of $2.10 for income tax and 30 cents for social security.

He became a taxpayer last fall when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle M. Ricks, took him to Key West, Fla., for a visit. Movie people happened to be making a film, "Rose Tattoo", and he and his mother became movie extras.

His part in the movie was to be held in his mother's arms as she walked in front of the camera as part of a crowd scene.

New Insect Control Approach Is Tried

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Government scientists are seeking to put an end to the pesky housefly and other undesirable insects by using chemicals to keep them from growing up and reproducing.

Agriculture Department scientists are trying this approach to combat insects which have developed resistance to DDT and other commonly used insecticides.

Reporting this new line of research, the department said preliminary investigations at its Beltsville, Md., research center indicate a number of growth inhibiting chemicals hold much promise.

They include colchicine and aminopterin, which prevent cell division and growth; sulfanilamide and coumarin, which slow down an insect's metabolism; and piperonyl butoxide, which slows down larva development.

Third Scholarship Offer Is Accepted

PITTSBURGH, April 43 (AP) — Physics student, James S. Langer, 20, isn't worried about getting a scholarship for postgraduate work. His trouble has been deciding which one to take.

Langer, a Pittsburgher enrolled at Carnegie Institute of Technology, first was offered a Fulbright scholarship entitling him to a year's study abroad. He turned it down.

Next came a National Foundation scholarship which he rejected also.

Today Langer was named winner of a British Marshall scholarship, originated by England in 1953 to express appreciation for Marshall Plan aid.

Langer accepted. The scholarship entitles him to two years of graduate study at the University of Birmingham in England.

Cleveland Trims Detroit, 5-3; Cubs Cop Third Straight

Smith Sparks Tribe To Win Before 42,684

Al Collects Four Of Tribe's 11 Hits; Garcia Is Winner

DETROIT, April 14 (AP)—Rightfielder Al Smith pounded out three singles and a two-run homer and led the Cleveland Indians to a 5-3 victory over Detroit today, spelling the Tigers' home opener before 42,684 rain-drenched fans.

Smith scored twice and knocked in two runs as the Indians won their second straight game of the young season and tied Boston for first place.

The game was twice delayed by rain—for 45 minutes before it started and for 49 minutes in the first inning.

The Tigers used four pitchers, with Billy Hoeft, the starter, failing to survive the first inning. After the Indians picked up a run on Smith's single, a stolen base and Al Rosen's single, Hoeft walked the next three batters to force in a second run.

George Zuverink, who hurled creditably through the next 4 1-3 innings, made one big mistake. He served up a home-run ball to Smith in the fifth inning following a single by Garcia.

Greensboro Tourney Delayed By Rain

GREENSBORO, N.C., April 14 (AP)—Nearly three inches of rain today washed out the opening round of the $12,500 greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Under the revised schedule the field will play 18 hole rounds tomorrow and Saturday and double up for a 36-hole windup Sunday. The field of 135 will be shaved to 60 low pros and ties and 10 amateurs for the final 36 over the Sedgefield Club Course, a par 70 layout, stretching about 6,600 yards.

The tournament, first of the PGA summer swing, finds Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va, veteran shooting for his fifth Greensboro triumph. He won the inaugural event here in 1938. In the last six years he has never been lower than tied for third.

Morgan, Jones, Wehmeier Star As Phils Win

Pirates Lose, 4-3, Mejias Hits Homer

PITTSBURGH, April 14 (AP) — Crafty Herm Wehmeier, helped by a three-run Philadelphia rally in the second inning, stopped the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 on six hits today in the season's baseball opener at Forbes Field.

Willie (Puddin Head) Jones' first homer of the season—a blast over the left field wall—ignited the Phillies second inning rally. They got the other run in the third on Bob Morgan's double and a single by Stan Palys.

Morgan, who collected two of the Phillies eight hits, also starred in the field. His somersault catch of Ramon Mejias' blooper in the eighth was the game's top fielding play.

Mejias, fresh up from the Class B Big State league, provided the 23,540 fans with a thrill and also a moan. His two-run homer in the first inning on the first pitch off Wehmeier got the Pirates off to a 2-0 lead but he also booted Earl Torgeson's smash drive in the third that resulted in two Phillies runs.

Nixon Tames Yanks, Bosox Triumph 8-4

Kinder Is Relief Star; Piersall And White Hit Homers

BOSTON, April 14 (AP) — Willard Nixon, Boston's Yankee tamer, got brilliant relief from ageless Ellis Kinder and home runs from Jim Piersall and Sammy White today to pitch the Red Sox to an 8-4 victory over New York in their home opener.

Nixon, who had beaten New York four times without defeat last season was replaced by Kinder in the eighth with one out, two men on base and two runs scored.

Kinder speared pinchhitter Ed Robinson's liner and whirled to double Elston Howard off second base to get out of trouble.

In the ninth, Kinder struck out Joe Collins between flies to Piersall to end the game.

Bob Grim, the American League rookie of the year in 1954 when he won 20 games, was the loser. He yielded five runs and seven hits in six innings. Rookie Tom Sturdivant finished.

Boston outhit New York only 10 to 9 but put them together much more effectively.

Cards' Rookie Hits Homer, Beats Braves

Virdon Breaks Up Game In 11th, 8-7

ST. LOUIS, April 14 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, once behind five runs, came on to win their opening home game of the season today against the Milwaukee Braves 8-7 with an eleventh-inning home run by rookie Bill Virdon.

After 11,402 fans saw victory temporarily snatched away from the Cardinals in the tenth inning by a base running boner by relief pitcher Frank Smith, Virdon hit lefthander Dave Koslo's second pitch onto the right field pavilion roof.

With two out, rookie Bob Stephenson on third and Smith on first in the tenth, Wally Moon rifled a drive down the right field line for what appeared to be a game winning single. But Smith forgot to run to second and was forced out even as Stephenson crossed the plate with what Cardinal fans thought was the winning run.

The Braves jumped on southpaw Harvey Haddix, the Cardinals No. 1 pitcher, for four runs after two were out in the sixth inning. Three singles were climaxed by Danny O'Connell's three-run homer.

Robinson Scores TKO

MILWAUKEE, April 14 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson showed he had something left tonight with a savage third round beating of Ted Olla which earned the former champion a TKO.

Olla, a rugged young Milwaukeean, was helpless against the ropes and bleeding from the nose and mouth when Referee Dauber Jaeger stopped the fight at 2:15 of the third round.

There was not a fan among the estimated crowd of 4,000 that failed to agree with the decision to stop it. Even Olla's handlers kept yelling "stop the fight," as Robinson ripped right after right to Ted's head. Olla was down once for a four count in the final round.

Bid Baseball Farewell

NEW YORK (AP)—Among the players who retired from baseball this spring are pitchers Preacher Roe, Allie Reynolds and Sid Hudson. Catchers Joe Garagiola and Vic Janowicz and infielder Cass Michaels also have quit the major leagues.

Roe and Reynolds are in business while Hudson will scout for Boston. Garagiola will broadcast St. Louis games, Janowicz has turned to pro football and Michaels will scout, hoping to make a comeback next season. Michaels suffered a concussion when hit by a pitched ball last fall and suffered dizzy spells the third day of spring practice.

Chicago Beats Cinci Redlegs In Tenth, 6-4

Successive Homers By Jackson, Banks Are Fitting Climax

CINCINNATI, April 14 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs won their third straight game of the National League season today, defeating the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 in 10 innings in a contest that wound up in a battle of home runs.

The Bruins won that circuit blow duel, 3-1, with Ransom Jackson, always a bad man against Cincinnati, providing the homer that clinched the verdict.

In the 10th, the Cubs unloaded their heavy artillery. Gene Baker singled and was sacrificed to second. Hank Sauer popped out but Jackson and Ernie Banks hit successive homers off Johnny Klippstein—a former Cub—the fourth Cincinnati pitcher.

Detroit Red Wings Win Stanley Cup

DETROIT, April 14 (AP) — Center Alex Delvecchio, the "bad boy" who was demoted in midseason, scored a pair of spectacular goals tonight as the Detroit Red Wings defeated the Montreal Canadiens, 3-1, and won the Stanley Cup — symbol of world professional hockey supremacy — for the second straight year.

The crew cut Delvecchio, who was dropped from Detroit's first line and given a tongue lashing by his bosses for his lackadaisical play, triggered a 20-foot backhander in the second period and tallied on a break-away in the third period.

Baltimore Buys Braves' Hurler

Wilson Purchased For Cash, Player

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—General Manager Paul Richards announced today that the Baltimore Orioles have purchased pitcher Jim Wilson from the Milwaukee Braves for an undisclosed sum of cash and a minor league player to be announced later.

Wilson, 33-year-old right-hander, compiled an 8-2 record last season, including a no-hit victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and their ace hurler, Robin Roberts. Four of his 1954 triumphs were shutouts.

Wilson played under Richards in the minors—at Buffalo of the International League in 1949 and Seattle of the Pacific Coast League in 1950. He won 24 games in 1950 and was purchased by the Braves —then in Boston—at the end of the season.

His previous major league experience includes brief stints with the Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Browns and the Philadelphia A's.

He played part of the 1949 season with Baltimore when the Orioles were in the International League.

Fort Hill To Enter Ninth Track Meet At Winchester

Six Schools Compete At Handley Saturday

Fort Hill High School's track and field team will participate in the Handley High School Invitational Meet at Winchester, Va., Saturday for the ninth consecutive year.

It will be the second meet of the season for Coach William P. Hahn's Sentinels, who finished second to Martinsburg High School (36½ to 29) in the quadrangular meet last Friday in Martinsburg.

Fort Hill won the Handley meet in 1948 and 1952 and finished in second place on five other occasions. In the 1947 event the locals came in third.

Six Schools Entered

Six high school teams will participate in Saturday's meet. In addition to Fort Hill there will be Martinsburg, Handley, Frederick, Wilson Memorial and Fairfax.

Cleveland Trims Detroit, 5-3; Cubs Cop Third Straight

Smith Sparks Tribe To Win Before 42,684

Al Collects Four Of Tribe's 11 Hits; Garcia Is Winner

DETROIT, April 14 (AP)—Rightfielder Al Smith pounded out three singles and a two-run homer and led the Cleveland Indians to a 5-3 victory over Detroit today, spelling the Tigers' home opener before 42,684 rain-drenched fans.

Smith scored twice and knocked in two runs as the Indians won their second straight game of the young season and tied Boston for first place.

The game was twice delayed by rain—for 45 minutes before it started and for 49 minutes in the first inning.

The only player Garcia had trouble with was Al Kaline, the Tigers' Detroit's runs.

The Tigers used four pitchers, with Billy Hoeft, the starter, failing to survive the first inning. After the Indians picked up a run on Smith's single, a stolen base and Al Rosen's single, Hoeft walked the next three batters to force in a second run.

George Zuverink, who hurled creditably through the next 4 1-3 innings, made one big mistake. He served up a home-run ball to Smith in the fifth inning following a single by Garcia.

Greensboro Tourney Delayed By Rain

GREENSBORO, N.C., April 14 (AP)—Nearly three inches of rain today washed out the opening round of the $12,500 greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Under the revised schedule the field will play 18 hole rounds tomorrow and Saturday and double up for a 36-hole windup Sunday. The field of 135 will be shaved to 60 low pros and ties and 10 amateurs for the final 36 over the Sedgefield Club Course, a par 70 layout, stretching about 6,600 yards.

The tournament, first of the PGA summer swing, finds Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., veteran shooting for his fifth Greensboro triumph. He won the inaugural event here in 1938. In the last six years he has never been lower than tied for third.

Morgan, Jones, Wehmeier Star As Phils Win

Pirates Lose, 4-3, Mejias Hits Homer

PITTSBURGH, April 14 (AP) — Crafty Herm Wehmeier, helped by a three-run Philadelphia rally in the second inning, stopped the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 on six hits today in the season's baseball opener at Forbes Field.

Willie (Puddin Head) Jones' first homer of the season—a blast over the left field wall—ignited the Phillies second inning rally. They got the other run in the third on Bob Morgan's double and a single by Stan Palys.

Morgan, who collected two of the Phillies eight hits, also starred in the field. His somersault catch of Ramon Mejias' blooper in the eighth was the game's top fielding play.

Mejias, fresh up from the Class B Big State league, provided the 23,540 fans with a thrill and also a moan. His two-run homer in the first inning on the first pitch off Wehmeier got the Pirates off to a 2-0 lead but he also booted Earl Torgeson's smash drive in the third that resulted in two Phillies runs.

Nixon Tames Yanks, Bosox Triumph 8-4

Kinder Is Relief Star; Piersall And White Hit Homers

BOSTON, April 14 (AP) — Willard Nixon, Boston's Yankee tamer, got brilliant relief from ageless Ellis Kinder and home runs from Jim Piersall and Sammy White today to pitch the Red Sox to an 8-4 victory over New York in their home opener.

Nixon, who had beaten New York four times without defeat last season was replaced by Kinder in the eighth with one out, two men on base and two runs scored.

Kinder speared pinchhitter Ed Robinson's liner and whirled to double Elston Howard off second base to get out of trouble.

In the ninth, Kinder struck out Joe Collins between flies to Piersall to end the game.

Bob Grim, the American League rookie of the year in 1954 when he won 20 games, was the loser. He yielded five runs and seven hits in six innings. Rookie Tom Sturdivant finished.

Boston outhit New York only 10 to 9 but put them together much more effectively.

Virdon Breaks Up Game In 11th, 8-7

ST. LOUIS, April 14 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, once behind five runs, came on to win their opening home game of the season today against the Milwaukee Braves 8-7 with an eleventh-inning home run by rookie Bill Virdon.

After 11,402 fans saw victory temporarily snatched away from the Cardinals in the tenth inning by a base running boner by relief pitcher Frank Smith, Virdon hit lefthander Dave Koslo's second pitch onto the right field pavilion roof.

With two out, rookie Bob Stephenson on third and Smith on first in the tenth, Wally Moon rifled a drive down the right field line for what appeared to be a game winning single. But Smith forgot to run to second and was forced out even as Stephenson crossed the plate with what Cardinal fans thought was the winning run.

The Braves jumped on southpaw Harvey Haddix, the Cardinals No. 1 pitcher, for four runs after two were out in the sixth inning. Three singles were climaxed by Danny O'Connell's three-run homer.

Robinson Scores TKO

MILWAUKEE, April 14 (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson showed he had something left tonight with a savage third round beating of Ted Olla which earned the former champion a TKO.

Olla, a rugged young Milwaukeean, was helpless against the ropes and bleeding from the nose and mouth when Referee Dauber Jaeger stopped the fight at 2:15 of the third round.

There was not a fan among the estimated crowd of 4,000 that failed to agree with the decision to stop it. Even Olla's handlers kept yelling "stop the fight," as Robinson ripped right after right to Ted's head. Olla was down once for a four count in the final round.

Bid Baseball Farewell

NEW YORK (AP)—Among the players who retired from baseball this spring are pitchers Preacher Roe, Allie Reynolds and Sid Hudson. Catchers Joe Garagiola and Vic Janowicz and infielder Cass Michaels also have quit the major leagues.

Roe and Reynolds are in business while Hudson will scout for Boston. Garagiola will broadcast St. Louis games, Janowicz has turned to pro football and Michaels will scout, hoping to make a comeback next season. Michaels suffered a concussion when hit by a pitched ball last fall and suffered dizzy spells the third day of spring practice.

Chicago Beats Cinci Redlegs In Tenth, 6-4

Successive Homers By Jackson, Banks Are Fitting Climax

CINCINNATI, April 14 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs won their third straight game of the National League season today, defeating the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 in 10 innings in a contest that wound up in a battle of home runs.

The Bruins won that circuit blow duel, 3-1, with Ransom Jackson, always a bad man against Cincinnati, providing the homer that clinched the verdict.

Detroit Red Wings Win Stanley Cup

DETROIT, April 14 (AP) — Center Alex Delvecchio, the "bad boy" who was demoted in midseason, scored a pair of spectacular goals tonight as the Detroit Red Wings defeated the Montreal Canadiens, 3-1, and won the Stanley Cup — symbol of world professional hockey supremacy — for the second straight year.

The crew cut Delvecchio, who was dropped from Detroit's first line and given a tongue lashing by his bosses for his lackadaisical play, triggered a 20-foot backhander in the second period and tallied on a break-away in the third period.

Baltimore Buys Braves' Hurler

Wilson Purchased For Cash, Player

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—General Manager Paul Richards announced today that the Baltimore Orioles have purchased pitcher Jim Wilson from the Milwaukee Braves for an undisclosed sum of cash and a minor league player to be announced later.

Wilson, 33-year-old right-hander, compiled an 8-2 record last season, including a no-hit victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and their ace hurler, Robin Roberts. Four of his 1954 triumphs were shutouts.

Wilson played under Richards in the minors—at Buffalo of the International League in 1949 and Seattle of the Pacific Coast League in 1950. He won 24 games in 1950 and was purchased by the Braves —then in Boston—at the end of the season.

His previous major league experience includes brief stints with the Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Browns and the Philadelphia A's.

He played part of the 1949 season with Baltimore when the Orioles were in the International League.

Potomac State Tossers Win Over Ashland College, 3-1

Sirk Notches 2nd Triumph In Four Days

Yields Five Blows, Fans Seven; Junie Perry Tops Attack

KEYSER, April 14 — Bob Sirk pitched masterful ball today as Potomac State College took the measure of the Ashland (Ohio) College Eagles in the opening game of a two-game series by the score of 3-1.

Sirk hurled the Catamounts to their first win of the season on Monday when he turned back Kenyon (Ohio) College, 6-5.

Sirk Tosses 5-Hitter

The Romney righthander was in rare form today, yielding five hits, issuing only one pass while throwing the third strike past seven batsmen. It was the lone free pass issued by Sirk in the initial frame that set the stage for the Ohioan's lone tally. Brady drew the walk, advanced to second on Miller's infield out and scored when Bill Wilgus smacked a single to centerfield. Wilgus went out stealing, Connolly to Smith, and Cain threw out Capt. Jack Purtell.

Only five Ashland players got on base after the first frame on singles in the second, third, fourth and sixth innings and an error in the third.

Potomac State scored all of its runs after two out in the first and third frames. After two away in the opening stanza Bob Connolly smacked a double to left-center and scored on William "Junie" Perry's lusty triple to center. Ross Mastrean walked and Bob Sirk was thrown out on a dribbler in front of the plate, Reho to Purtell.

Win Game In Third

"Tucker" Cain drew a pass to open the third but Connolly hit into a double play, Berie to Wilgus to Purtell. Perry lined a single to center. Mastrean hit to left and Perry raced to third, then went home with the tying run when Shortstop Berie bobbled the throw-in from the outfield. Mastrean took second on the play and scored on Bob Sirk's timely bingle to left. Smith lined to First Baseman Purtell.

The loss was charged to Lew Petit, who beat the Catamounts last season by the score of 6-3. Petit was supplanted by Doug Pomfrey who pitched shutout ball, yielded only three hits and whiffed eight in five innings. Pomfrey, incidentally, defeated Potomac State last year by the score of 5-3.

Coach John Maiden's aggregation collected nine hits. Perry sparked the attack with a triple and two singles while Beckett and Mostrean had two blows each, one of the latter's being a three-bagger. Bob Reho accounted for two of the five hits yielded by Sirk.

Conclude Series Today

Potomac State and Ashland conclude their two-game series here Friday at 2 p. m. Ashland is scheduled to play off a postponed game with Frostburg State in the Mountain City tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. Box:

Sandy Consuegra Beats Athletics

Tosses Three-Hitter As Chisox Cop, 7-1

CHICAGO, April 14 (AP) — Sandy Consuegra's three-hit pitching behind a 10-blow attack, including a game-turning homer by Bob Nieman, swept the White Sox to a 7-1 home opener victory over the Kansas City's A's today.

The Comiskey Park crowd of 14,067 was the largest Sox "second opener" attendance in 15 years.

Little "hardluck" Bobby Shantz, who left for a pinch hitter in the seventh, pitched far better than the score indicated and should prove a boon to the transplanted Philadelphia A's. Sonny Dixon yielded the final two Sox runs in the eighth.

Consuegra, who had a 5-0 record against the A's last year, was solved mainly by Vic Power who singled in the first and doubled in the second for the first two Kansas City hits.

The A's lone run came in the seventh on Jim Finigan's lead off triple and Bill Renna's infield out.

Newcombe Homers Twice, Dodgers Whip Giants, 10-8

Duke Snider's Catch Saves Brooks In 9th

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — Big Don Newcombe hit two homers in a game for the first time in his big league career but failed to go the route today as Brooklyn struggled to a 10-8 victory over the world champion New York Giants.

Breezing along with a 10-3 lead, Newcombe gave up a three-run homer to Hank Thompson in the seventh and was knocked out by Bobby Hofman's two—run pinch homer in the eighth. Jim Hughes finally quieted the Giants, making Willie Mays foul out when a homer would have tied the score.

Maglie Is Loser

Roy Campanella, smarting under the humiliation of batting eighth in the order, drove home four runs, the first three with a homer off Sal Maglie, the old Dodger killer.

Newcombe, trying to bounce back after a sad season in '54, hit his first homer off Maglie in the fourth and his second off Hoyt Wilhelm with one on in the seventh. Carl Furillo also lofted a Wilhelm pitch atop the left field roof with two men on in the seventh.

A crowd of 29,124 watched the Giants raise their 1954 National League pennant and world championship flag on a damp, misty day. Intermittent showers pelted the players during the contest.

Snider's catch was of the variety usually associated with Mays. He raced deep to the barrier in front of the bleachers in left center and grabbed Irvin's 450 foot smash, rolling over in the wet grass but holding onto the ball.

Maglie who held a 22-8 lifetime edge over Brooklyn going into this game was sharp in the first three innings but lost his edge in the fourth.

Allegany-Valley Game Postponed

The Allegany High - Valley High game scheduled yesterday at Campobello was postponed on account of inclement weather.

Coach Roy Lester of Allegany announced that the game has been rescheduled for Wednesday, May 4.

It was the second postponement for Allegany this week.

Regalado Optioned

CLEVELAND, April 4 (INS) — Rudy Regalado the 1954 spring batting sensation, was optioned today to Indianapolis by the Cleveland Indians.

Regalado batted only .250 last season in 65 games and did not rate in the Indians' 1955 plans.

Capital Team Drills

Hyndman Hopeful Of Good Season, Opens At Valley

HYNDMAN, April 14 — Losing thirteen regulars from its 1954 squad should, ordinarily, eliminate a ball club from being a pennant contender but Hyndman High School may shape up as a surprise this year.

The Hornets, set to open the season at Valley High, Lonaconing, Friday, have a compact squad of 15, including five returning lettermen. Sparked by veteran pitcher Don May the club should shape up as a potential threat.

Other returing lettermen are George Dennison, third base; Charles Robosson, left field; Terry Rizer, outfielder, who is being shifted to second base, and Gerald Emerick, centerfield.

Utility infielders are Robert Lehman, Lloyd Crislip and Don R. Shaffer.

Ad Wolgast, 65, Former Boxing Champion, Dies

Won Title In 1910 In 40-Round Match

By BOB MYERS

AMARILLO, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Old time lightweight champion Ad Wolgast, whose life in the bright glare of fame shifted all too swiftly into the fuzzy twilight of a mental war, passed on into complete and final darkness today.

The little man who blasted the great Battling Nelson into submission in 40 savage rounds to win the world championship in 1910 and who lost the title on a foul in the 16th round to Willie Ritchie two years later, died of a heart ailment in the state mental hospital here today.

Blind, Mind Was Blank

Death could hardly have meant much to the 65-year-old Wolgast. For years his mind had been blank. He was blind. And while he had the best of treatment in the state institutions where he had been a patient most of his life, Wolgast was a shadowy figure among the living dead.

Two years ago, when Wolgast almost died of pneumonia, the hospital said the old time warrior was suffering from "traumatic psychocis with deterioration."

"In simple terms, he was hit on the head too many times," said the attending physician.

AD WOLGAST
As Boxing Champion

Had 130 Bouts

Wolgast, born in Cadillac, Mich., of German - American parents, fought his first professional match in 1906. He went on to fight no less than 130 times in a career that stretched without interruption to 1916.

Wolgast defended the title 22 times before he lost it to Ritchie, presently the chief boxing inspector in Northern California for the State Athletic Commission.

Potomac State Tossers Win Over Ashland College, 3-1

Sirk Notches 2nd Triumph In Four Days

Yields Five Blows, Fans Seven; Junie Perry Tops Attack

KEYSER, April 14 — Bob Sirk pitched masterful ball today as Potomac State College took the measure of the Ashland (Ohio) College Eagles in the opening game of a two-game series by the score of 3-1.

Sirk hurled the Catamounts to their first win of the season on Monday when he turned back Kenyon (Ohio) College, 6-5.

Sirk Tosses 5-Hitter

The Romney righthander was in rare form today, yielding five hits, issuing only one pass while throwing the third strike past seven batsmen. It was the lone free pass issued by Sirk in the initial frame that set the stage for the Ohioan's lone tally. Brady drew the walk, advanced to second on Miller's infield out and scored when Bill Wilgus smacked a single to centerfield. Wilgus went out stealing, Connolly to Smith, and Cain threw out Capt. Jack Purtell.

Only five Ashland players got on base after the first frame on singles in the second, third, fourth and sixth innings and an error in the third.

Potomac State scored all of its runs after two out in the first and third frames. After two away in the opening stanza Bob Connolly smacked a double to left-center and scored on William "Junie" Perry's lusty triple to center. Ross Mastrean walked and Bob Sirk was thrown out on a dribbler in front of the plate, Reho to Purtell.

Win Game In Third

"Tucker" Cain drew a pass to open the third but Connolly hit into a double play, Berie to Wilgus to Purtell. Perry lined a single to center. Mastrean hit to left and Perry raced to third, then went home with the tying run when Shortstop Berie bobbled the throw-in from the outfield. Mastrean took second on the play and scored on Bob Sirk's timely bingle to left. Smith lined to First Baseman Purtell.

The loss was charged to Lew Petit, who beat the Catamounts last season by the score of 6-3. Petit was supplanted by Doug Pomfrey who pitched shutout ball, yielded only three hits and whiffed eight in five innings. Pomfrey, incidentally, defeated Potomac State last year by the score of 5-3.

Coach John Maiden's aggregation collected nine hits. Perry sparked the attack with a triple and two singles while Beckett and Mostrean had two blows each, one of the latter's being a three-bagger. Bob Reho accounted for two of the five hits yielded by Sirk.

Conclude Series Today

Potomac State and Ashland conclude their two-game series here Friday at 2 p. m. Ashland is scheduled to play off a postponed game with Frostburg State in the Mountain City tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. Box:

Sandy Consuegra Beats Athletics

Tosses Three-Hitter As Chisox Cop, 7-1

CHICAGO, April 14 (AP) — Sandy Consuegra's three-hit pitching behind a 10-blow attack, including a game-turning homer by Bob Nieman, swept the White Sox to a 7-1 home opener victory over the Kansas City's A's today.

The Comiskey Park crowd of 14,067 was the largest Sox "second opener" attendance in 15 years.

Little "hardluck" Bobby Shantz, who left for a pinch hitter in the seventh, pitched far better than the score indicated and should prove a boon to the transplanted Philadelphia A's. Sonny Dixon yielded the final two Sox runs in the eighth.

Consuegra, who had a 5-0 record against the A's last year, was solved mainly by Vic Power who singled in the first and doubled in the second for the first two Kansas City hits.

The A's lone run came in the seventh on Jim Finigan's lead off triple and Bill Renna's infield out.

Newcombe Homers Twice, Dodgers Whip Giants, 10-8

Duke Snider's Catch Saves Brooks In 9th

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — Big Don Newcombe hit two homers in a game for the first time in his big league career but failed to go the route today as Brooklyn struggled to a 10-8 victory over the world champion New York Giants.

Breezing along with a 10-3 lead, Newcombe gave up a three-run homer to Hank Thompson in the seventh and was knocked out by Bobby Hofman's two—run pinch homer in the eighth. Jim Hughes finally quieted the Giants, making Willie Mays foul out when a homer would have tied the score.

Maglie Is Loser

Roy Campanella, smarting under the humiliation of batting eighth in the order, drove home four runs, the first three with a homer off Sal Maglie, the old Dodger killer.

Newcombe, trying to bounce back after a sad season in '54, hit his first homer off Maglie in the fourth and his second off Hoyt Wilhelm with one on in the seventh. Carl Furillo also lofted a Wilhelm pitch atop the left field roof with two men on in the seventh.

A crowd of 29,124 watched the Giants raise their 1954 National League pennant and world championship flag on a damp, misty day. Intermittent showers pelted the players during the contest.

Snider's catch was of the variety usually associated with Mays. He raced deep to the barrier in front of the bleachers in left center and grabbed Irvin's 450 foot smash, rolling over in the wet grass but holding onto the ball.

Allegany-Valley Game Postponed

Coach Roy Lester of Allegany announced that the game has been rescheduled for Wednesday, May 4.

It was the second postponement for Allegany this week.

Regalado Optioned

CLEVELAND, April 4 (INS) — Rudy Regalado the 1954 spring batting sensation, was optioned today to Indianapolis by the Cleveland Indians.

Regalado batted only .250 last season in 65 games and did not rate in the Indians' 1955 plans.

Capital Team Drills

Hyndman Hopeful Of Good Season, Opens At Valley

HYNDMAN, April 14 — Losing thirteen regulars from its 1954 squad should, ordinarily, eliminate a ball club from being a pennant contender but Hyndman High School may shape up as a surprise this year.

The Hornets, set to open the season at Valley High, Lonaconing, Friday, have a compact squad of 15, including five returning lettermen. Sparked by veteran pitcher Don May the club should shape up as a potential threat.

Ad Wolgast, 65, Former Boxing Champion, Dies

Won Title In 1910 In 40-Round Match

By BOB MYERS

AMARILLO, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Old time lightweight champion Ad Wolgast, whose life in the bright glare of fame shifted all too swiftly into the fuzzy twilight of a mental war, passed on into complete and final darkness today.

The little man who blasted the great Battling Nelson into submission in 40 savage rounds to win the world championship in 1910 and who lost the title on a foul in the 16th round to Willie Ritchie two years later, died of a heart ailment in the state mental hospital here today.

Blind, Mind Was Blank

Death could hardly have meant much to the 65-year-old Wolgast. For years his mind had been blank. He was blind. And while he had the best of treatment in the state institutions where he had been a patient most of his life, Wolgast was a shadowy figure among the living dead.

Two years ago, when Wolgast almost died of pneumonia, the hospital said the old time warrior was suffering from "traumatic psychocis with deterioration."

Had 130 Bouts

Wolgast, born in Cadillac, Mich., of German - American parents, fought his first professional match in 1906. He went on to fight no less than 130 times in a career that stretched without interruption to 1916.

Wolgast defended the title 22 times before he lost it to Ritchie, presently the chief boxing inspector in Northern California for the State Athletic Commission.

LaSalle And Fort Hill To Launch Intra-City Series Today

Beall, Valley And Bruce To Play At Home

Game At Fort Hill Set For 4 O'Clock; Four Tilts In PVC

Two of the three teams that figured in the triple tie for the city championship last year will launch the 1955 intra-city series today when LaSalle High School's Explorers face Fort Hill's Sentinels on the Fort Hill diamond at 4 o'clock.

LaSalle, Fort Hill and Allegany wound up the 1954 city race deadlocked with 2-2 records. Allegany and LaSalle shared the Bi-State Conference championship with 13 wins and three losses each.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Hilltoppers loom as the strongest of the three city teams this seaon and seem to be better fortified in every department yet it is not always the favorite that wins when the chips are down in these city contests.

The school's split even last year. Fort Hill winning the opener, 3-2, with Jesse Markley, decisioning Hugh Nolan, while LaSalle copped the finale, 5-1, with Nolan getting the verdict over Wayne Murray.

Coach George Geatz is expected to select his starting pitcher from Joe Conroy or Lefty Bill Roberts.

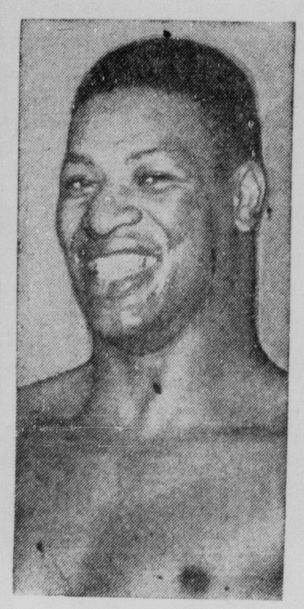
Glenn Zimmerman and John Angellatta will officiate.

Three other Bi-State games are on tap for this afternoon. Mt. Savage visits Beall at 3:30 with Casey Thompson and "Chick" Snider as the umpires. Bruce High hosts Flintstone at 3:30 with Blaine McKenzie and Frank Patrone calling 'em and Hyndman plays at Valley at 3:30 with "Moose" Arnone and "Vic" Reynolds as the arbiters.

Cliff Towles' Capon Bridge tossers (3-0) visits Wardensville (0-2), Moorefield's Yellow Jackets (2-0) collide with Franklin (2-0) at the latter place, Circleville launches its season with Jesse Riggleman's Vikings (0-1) at Petersburg and Keyser High (1-0) invades Romney to play Clyde Green's Romney High Pioneers (0-1).

HAVE DATE ON MAY 3

Archie Moore



Nino Valdes

HAVING FAILED to gain a title shot at Rocky Marciano's crown, Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion, and Nino Valdes of Cuba, rated No. 1 among the heavyweight challengers, will face each other May 3 in Las Vegas, Nev. (International)

Royal Fan Wins Bowie Sixth Race

Nick Shuk Scores 31st Win Of Meet

BOWIE, Md., April 14 (AP) — Royal Fan carrying the silks of M. S. Goldnamer, upheld the confidence of the form players and provided their fourth consecutive win in the $4,000 Optimist Purse, featured sixth race at Bowie racecourse today.

Jockey Nick Shuk, who had been in a slump for three days, gained his 31st win of the meeting atop Royal Fan, who broke with the pace and then dropped back to a rating position before taking command at the quarter pole and winning with speed in reserve at $5.60 straight.

While Royal Fan won by two lengths, Mrs. Samuel Lewin's Senga, the second choice, was easily second best in the seven horse field and placed about four lengths in front of Howell Jackson's Subita.

Shuk, an old favorite with Maryland turfgoers and the leading riders here at many previous meetings, had not ridden a winner since Monday. He needed only to guide Royal Fan to the outside at the top of the stretch to be carried six furlongs in 1.11 2-5.

Heavy rains had the track ankle deep in mud, but it failed to detain the racers and the majority of events were run in fast-track time.

The 31st program of the 33-day meeting, which will be concluded on Saturday, drew 9,656 fans despite its poor quality and the success of favorites helped the mutuel handle.

His wife and mother-in-law were preparing a bird—presumably their last—when an 11-inch snake which had outlived the bird that ate it slithered out on the kitchen table.

Robert Curran, 52, Horseman, Dies

BOWIE, Md., April 14 (AP) — A prominent Maryland horseman, Robert F. Curran, died today in the Garfield Hospital in Washington after a chronic illness.

The 52-year-old Silver Spring, Md. trainer had a moderate sized public stable which included David Singer's Hangover, winner of the Hollywood Handicap at Gulfstream last Saturday.

Curran will be buried Saturday morning from the St. Johns Church in Forest Glen, Md.

Banded Rabbit Hunt

SUNBURST, Mont. (AP)—This community near the Montana-Canadian border held a rabbit hunt to help its high school band. Hunters brought lunches and shotguns and beat the brushes. Several hundred rabbits were sold. The money defrayed expenses for the band to attend an annual Music Educators' meeting in Eugene, Ore.

Amber Fox, 7-1 Shot, Cops Florida Race

MIAMI, Fla., April 14 (AP)—Amber Fox, finishing fast in the middle of the track, was along in the final strides to score his first victory of the year in the $3,000 Jaycees Purse before 9,568 spectators at Gulfstream Park today.

The $16.50 winner, owned by the Leslie Jane Stable, bested Taylor-Crest Farm's Me Perfect by a head. The latter was a length and a quarter in advance of Bill Beasley's Little Wolf which had a neck to spare over Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Cash Sale.

Karl Korte guided Amber Fox to a 1:11 4/5 effort for six furlongs.

Redlegs Sign Dykes

CINCINNATI, April 14 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs today signed Jimmy Dykes as first base coach.

Deer Are Chow Hounds

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP)—Game Warden Adolph Heep reports the deer in this Hill Country region of Southwest Texas are real chow hounds.

This is evident when ranchers burn the stickers from cactus for cattle food.

"When the deer hear the sizzle of that portable burner, they come a runnin'", says Heep.

Beall, Valley And Bruce To Play At Home

Game At Fort Hill Set For 4 O'Clock; Four Tilts In PVC

Two of the three teams that figured in the triple tie for the city championship last year will launch the 1955 intra-city series today when LaSalle High School's Explorers face Fort Hill's Sentinels on the Fort Hill diamond at 4 o'clock.

LaSalle, Fort Hill and Allegany wound up the 1954 city race deadlocked with 2-2 records. Allegany and LaSalle shared the Bi-State Conference championship with 13 wins and three losses each.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Hilltoppers loom as the strongest of the three city teams this seaon and seem to be better fortified in every department yet it is not always the favorite that wins when the chips are down in these city contests.

The school's split even last year. Fort Hill winning the opener, 3-2, with Jesse Markley, decisioning Hugh Nolan, while LaSalle copped the finale, 5-1, with Nolan getting the verdict over Wayne Murray.

Coach George Geatz is expected to select his starting pitcher from Joe Conroy or Lefty Bill Roberts.

Glenn Zimmerman and John Angellatta will officiate.

Three other Bi-State games are on tap for this afternoon. Mt. Savage visits Beall at 3:30 with Casey Thompson and "Chick" Snider as the umpires. Bruce High hosts Flintstone at 3:30 with Blaine McKenzie and Frank Patrone calling 'em and Hyndman plays at Valley at 3:30 with "Moose" Arnone and "Vic" Reynolds as the arbiters.

Cliff Towles' Capon Bridge tossers (3-0) visits Wardensville (0-2), Moorefield's Yellow Jackets (2-0) collide with Franklin (2-0) at the latter place, Circleville launches its season with Jesse Riggleman's Vikings (0-1) at Petersburg and Keyser High (1-0) invades Romney to play Clyde Green's Romney High Pioneers (0-1).

Deer Are Chow Hounds

This is evident when ranchers burn the stickers from cactus for cattle food.

Dedicate Posts 3rd Win At New York

JAMAICA, N. Y., April 14 (AP)—Jan Burke's Dedicate became a triple winner at the meeting when he captured the Pompey, a mile and a sixteenth allowance, at Jamaica Race Track today.

The 3-year-old son of Princequillo-Dini, ridden by Willie Boland, scored by a length and a half over Dorothy Pershall Beltz's Simmy, the even money favorite, who outphotoed Lazy F Ranch's Door Prize for the place.

Dedicate toured the sloppy course in 1:46 4/5.

Snakes Alive!

MAINLAND, Pa. (AP)—Hereafter, Pennsylvania Game Protector William Shaver expects to dress his pheasants for the table himself.

His wife and mother-in-law were preparing a bird—presumably their last—when an 11-inch snake which had outlived the bird that ate it slithered out on the kitchen table.

Robert Curran, 52, Horseman, Dies

Banded Rabbit Hunt

SUNBURST, Mont. (AP)—This community near the Montana-Canadian border held a rabbit hunt to help its high school band. Hunters brought lunches and shotguns and beat the brushes. MIAMI, Fla., April 14 (AP)—Amber Fox, finishing fast in the middle of the track, was along in the final strides to score his first victory of the year in the $3,000 Jaycees Purse before 9,568 spectators at Gulfstream Park today.

The $16.50 winner, owned by the Leslie Jane Stable, bested Taylor-Crest Farm's Me Perfect by a head. The latter was a length and a quarter in advance of Bill Beasley's Little Wolf which had a neck to spare over Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Cash Sale.

Karl Korte guided Amber Fox to a 1:11 4/5 effort for six furlongs.

Redlegs Sign Dykes

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 14—(INS)—Back in town is Gregory Ratoff, who has been away from Hollywood for over a year. He stopped by my house to tell me about his new picture, "One Thousand And One Nights," which he made in Egypt with the help of the Egyptian government.

Greg played the role of ex-King Farouk and also directed the picture. He had the use of Farouk's palace and his yacht, where many of the scenes were filmed.

"We had a revolution with 2,000 extras, and, believe me, this picture has plenty of excitement," said Greg. "The Egyptian government was most cooperative and gave us everything we needed."

The Defense Department at the Pentagon gave Audie Murphy's "To Hell And Back" great approval. So much in fact that Ed Muhl, head of Universal-International, put Audie in a new picture starting in June to be called "The World In My Corner."

This is a fiction story about the slums in New Jersey. Muhl announced it before he took off for the Virgin Islands where "Away All Boats" is being filmed.

The same team responsible for "To Hell And Back," Aaron Rosenberg and Jesse Hibbs, will produce and direct the new Murphy opus.

I've been hearing some good reports on the plays being staged by the prisoners at the farm at China, more formally known as the California Institute for Men.

On May 1 they are staging "Command Decision" and other shows put on recently are "Stalag 17" and "Caine Mutiny Court-Martial."

In a most interesting letter, one of the inmates writes: "It is impossible to convey how much this dramatic work aids in the rehabilitation of men in penal institutions. I cannot help but believe that many riots and feelings of resentment and fear could be put down if more institutions turned to drama for morale."

It was a sad homecoming from Japan for Aldo Ray on Wednesday morning when his wife, Jeff Donnell, told him she had lost their expected baby. It happened over three weeks ago but Jeff kept her sad secret because she didn't want to depress Aldo when he was far from home and working hard in Tokyo in "Sergeant O'Riley'" for Columbia.

Jeff, as you know, plays George Gobel's TV wife, Alice, on the popular Gobel show. Knowing how much she and Aldo want a baby, their friends hope the stork may head in their direction again soon.

Adela Rogers St. John, pioneer writer, former reporter, and fine fiction writer, has sold her life story to Doubleday. So far, she has no title.

She'll tell her whole story when, as the daughter of the famous criminal lawyer Earl Rogers, she learned enough about law to write many fiction stories.

Barbara Hutton is so sick and tired of denying that she plans to marry Hal Hayes that when I told her I'd heard she was secretly married to the handsome contractor she threw up her hands and said, "Now really, Louella, isn't that ridiculous?

"I have no intention of marrying Mr. Hayes at any time," she said. "In fact, I'm leaving for Paris next week and plan to be there for some months. I've had a wonderful time in Los Angeles, but I want to be in Paris in May, it's so beautiful there."

Dick Contino and Leigh Snowden have been dating frequently. They were at the opening of "Anniversary Waltz" and later at Jack's at the Beach, Leigh attracted a lot of attention at the "Anniversary" opening wearing a turquoise gown the exact color of her eyes.

Jon Hall, back from Allentown, Pennsylvania, where he received an award for his youth aid work, had a harrowing experience when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a coal truck. He escaped with a wrench back and neck.

Ernest Hemingway blew down the reports that he's been very sick. Over the telephone to a friend he said, "Tell them Papa Hemingway is in good shape and has done 300 pages of a new novel."

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

X P L F V P T C H W J G Y H G E H H X,
G X W C X F R, W M T R K B B L F C
P H W D H M E W C T I H H X — Z H Y K H

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

Where's CBS?

What has happened to the Columbia Broadcasting System? When I first undertook this job some nine years ago, CBS was the most exciting, the most imaginative, the most daring network. The place teemed with ideas and with youth and with integrity.

Today it teems with money and advertising men. Commercial television is now eight years old and in all that time—apart from its public affairs department which is superb—CBS has done not one single thing that is particularly memorable. While NBC has created "Today" and "Home" and done the spectaculars and kept making this a bigger medium, CBS has been doing radio shows poorly fashioned in the image of television.

Television is the biggest medium that was ever invented. There's nothing like it. It's gone through more major changes in eight years than the movies in 50 years. In fact, David O. Selznick, after his one and only brush with television declared that the movies were 50 years behind the times and needed a complete retooling.

And where is CBS? While NBC is producing "Peter Pan," CBS is coming up with "December Bride" or "Willy" or "The Millionaire"—conceivably the worst shows on television. Mediocrity has got to be the hallmark at CBS.

While you have to make allowances for errors in judgment, these things are much worse than that. I refuse to believe that anyone in CBS is stupid enough not to recognize how stale, how cheap, how cliche-ridden these shows are. The only conclusion I can reach is that the higher brass in CBS is operating with complete contempt for the public. "Sure, it's lousy. But the people like it. Look at the rating." (If you believe ratings—and I don't).

I'm not saying that NBC's big ventures have been uniformly successful. Some of them like "Satin And Spurs" have been pretty close to a disaster. But at least they try. There is a recognition at NBC that this is a big, new, tremendously important medium. And what comes out of CBS? Burns & Allen who have been on radio since the Ice Age. I admire Burns and Allen tremendously. But what else is new?

The program department at CBS seems to be sound asleep. This is a medium that can grab the whole country by the scruff of the neck in a single evening. By the next morning, the whole country is talking. It's not necessarily flattering talk—as in the case of "Satin And Spurs"—but at least, they're talking. When was the last time you woke up chattering about "December Bride"?

I again exempt the public affairs department at CBS. "The Search" is one of the finest programs that has ever been on television. So is "Adventure." So is "See It Now." But I'm tired of looking at half hour comic strips, turned out in Hollywood, with CBS canned laughter. I think every CBS executive ought to be condemned for a week to looking at their own shows.

They remind me of a line in "Once In A Lifetime," the hilarious satire on the early talking pictures by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. One character who has blundered into success by his own stupidity proudly boasts: "I have led the industry back to where it was 10 years ago."

Daily Bridge Lesson

A CLOSE MATCH

THE FOLLOWING hand accounted for victory and defeat in a team-of-four contest by a remarkably slim margin.

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ 2 ♥ K 9 4 3 ♦ K 10 8 ♣ A 9 7 5 2
♠ K 3 ♥ A 10 7 ♦ Q J 9 6 ♣ K Q J 10	N W E S	♠ A J 10 9 5 ♥ Q J 8 6 ♦ A 3 ♣ 6 4
	♠ Q 8 7 6 4 ♥ 5 2 ♦ 7 5 4 2 ♣ 8 3

At one table East and West were unopposed in the auction; they easily reached and made three notrump. This, however, was the bidding at the other table:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Dble.	Redble.	Pass
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	Pass
Dble.	2 ♥	Dble.	2 ♠
Pass	Pass	Dble. (final bid)

From the moment that North put in his delayed double, he and his partner were obviously in trouble, even though they had a great advantage in the vulnerability.

West opened the club king against the doubled spade contract, and dummy won with the ace. For want of a better move, declarer then led a club from the board. West, back on lead, now played a low heart, hoping to send South astray, but South had no reasonable choice except to go up with the king, and when he led another club he was sure to win a total of four tricks. If East discarded, South would make a small trump by ruffing, and when East, to stop this, ruffed up with the nine, South discarded his last heart and could not be prevented from making two trump tricks.

The 700-point penalty East-West collected was good, comparatively, but when all the scores were totalled it was found that their team had lost the match by exactly 140 points! Thus, if East-West had beaten this hand one more trick and earned 900 points, they would have won the match by 60 points.

As it happened, East-West should have collected 900 points. When West was in with the club he should have shifted to the king and another trump, to let his partner keep on leading the suit. It was obvious that declarer was trying to bring home low trumps by ruffing. In fact, West should have opened a trump.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

X P L F V P T C H W J G Y H G E H H X,
G X W C X F R , W M T R K B B L F C
P H W D H M E W C T I H H X — Z H Y K H

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

Where's CBS?

What has happened to the Columbia Broadcasting System? When I first undertook this job some nine years ago, CBS was the most exciting, the most imaginative, the most daring network. The place teemed with ideas and with youth and with integrity.

Today it teems with money and advertising men. Commercial television is now eight years old and in all that time—apart from its public affairs department which is superb—CBS has done not one single thing that is particularly memorable. While NBC has created "Today" and "Home" and done the spectaculars and kept making this a bigger medium, CBS has been doing radio shows poorly fashioned in the image of television.

Television is the biggest medium that was ever invented. There's nothing like it. It's gone through more major changes in eight years than the movies in 50 years. In fact, David O. Selznick, after his one and only brush with television declared that the movies were 50 years behind the times and needed a complete retooling.

And where is CBS? While NBC is producing "Peter Pan," CBS is coming up with "December Bride" or "Willy" or "The Millionaire"—conceivably the worst shows on television. Mediocrity has got to be the hallmark at CBS.

While you have to make allowances for errors in judgment, these things are much worse than that. I refuse to believe that anyone in CBS is stupid enough not to recognize how stale, how cheap, how cliche-ridden these shows are. The only conclusion I can reach is that the higher brass in CBS is operating with complete contempt for the public. "Sure, it's lousy. But the people like it. Look at the rating." (If you believe ratings—and I don't).

I'm not saying that NBC's big ventures have been uniformly successful. Some of them like "Satin And Spurs" have been pretty close to a disaster. But at least they try. There is a recognition at NBC that this is a big, new, tremendously important medium. And what comes out of CBS? Burns & Allen who have been on radio since the Ice Age. I admire Burns and Allen tremendously. But what else is new?

The program department at CBS seems to be sound asleep. This is a medium that can grab the whole country by the scruff of the neck in a single evening. By the next morning, the whole country is talking. It's not necessarily flattering talk—as in the case of "Satin And Spurs"—but at least, they're talking. When was the last time you woke up chattering about "December Bride"?

I again exempt the public affairs department at CBS. "The Search" is one of the finest programs that has ever been on television. So is "Adventure." So is "See It Now." But I'm tired of looking at half hour comic strips, turned out in Hollywood, with CBS canned laughter. I think every CBS executive ought to be condemned for a week to looking at their own shows.

They remind me of a line in "Once In A Lifetime," the hilarous satire on the early talking pictures by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. One character who has blundered into success by his own stupidity proudly boasts: "I have led the industry back to where it was 10 years ago."

CORRECTION

The Major League Baseball "Game of the Week" which our ad last week reported would be broadcast weekly on the TV Cable, cannot be broadcast from the CBS Station in Washington due to restrictions laid down by the two major leagues. Daily Bridge Lesson

A CLOSE MATCH

THE FOLLOWING hand accounted for victory and defeat in a team-of-four contest by a remarkably slim margin.

West dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ 2 ♥ K 9 4 3 ♦ K 10 8 ♣ A 9 7 5 2
♠ K 3 ♥ A 10 7 ♦ Q J 9 6 ♣ K Q J 10	N W E S	♠ A J 10 9 5 ♥ Q J 8 6 ♦ A 3 ♣ 6 4
	♠ Q 8 7 6 4 ♥ 5 2 ♦ 7 5 4 2 ♣ 8 3

At one table East and West were unopposed in the auction: they easily reached and made three notrump. This, however, was the bidding at the other table:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Dble.	Redble.	Pass
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	Pass
Dble.	2 ♥	Dble.	2 ♠
Pass	Pass	Dble. (final bid)

From the moment that North put in his delayed double, he and his partner were obviously in trouble, even though they had a great advantage in the vulnerability.

West opened the club king against the doubled spade contract, and dummy won with the ace. For want of a better move, declarer then led a club from the board. West, back on lead, now played a low heart, hoping to send South astray, but South had no reasonable choice except to go up with the king, and when he led another club he was sure to win a total of four tricks. If East discarded, South would make a small trump by ruffing, and when East, to stop this, ruffed up with the nine, South discarded his last heart and could not be prevented from making two trump tricks.

The 700-point penalty East-West collected was good, comparatively, but when all the scores were totalled it was found that their team had lost the match by exactly 140 points! Thus, if East-West had beaten this hand one more trick and earned 900 points, they would have won the match by 60 points.

As it happened, East-West should have collected 900 points. When West was in with the club he should have shifted to the king and another trump, to let his partner keep on leading the suit. It was obvious that declarer was trying to bring home low trumps by ruffing. In fact, West should have opened a trump.

A Chick Is Born

WITH wide-eyed wonder, Linda Beadling, 6, of Pittsburgh, watches the birth of a baby chick. At top, she can scarcely believe her eyes as the shell cracks and the newcomer struggles for an exit. Thirty minutes later (center), the chick is half out. More than an hour passes and, at bottom, Linda witnesses another magical transformation as a fluffy little bird is ready for a stroll. Birth Announced

SPRINGFIELD, W.Va. — Mr. and Mrs. George Herriott announce the birth of a son yesterday at Brown's Clinic, Fort Ashby.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII for the Plaintiff, Ross J. Gowans, of Allegany County, Maryland, against his wife, Betty Ann Gowans, defendant, whose last known address was 610½ Rex Street, Muncie, Indiana.

The Bill states that on the 27th day of February, 1951, the said Ross J. Gowans was married to Betty Ann Gowans, with whom he resided until the 10th day of April, 1953; that the said Betty Ann Gowans has abandoned him without any just cause or reason, and that such abandonment has continued without interruption for more than eighteen months and is final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that no children have been born to the parties of this marriage.

It is thereupon this 7th day of April, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once each week for four successive weeks before the 9th day of May, 1955, giving notice to the said Betty Ann Gowans of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning her to be and appear in this court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of May, 1955, to show cause, if any she may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Joseph E. Boden, Clerk.

Birth Announced

SPRINGFIELD, W.Va. — Mr. and Mrs. George Herriott announce the birth of a son yesterday at Brown's Clinic, Fort Ashby.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII for the Plaintiff, Ross J. Gowans, of Allegany County, Maryland, against his wife, Betty Ann Gowans, defendant, whose last known address was 619½ Rex Street, Muncie, Indiana.

The Bill states that on the 27th day of February, 1951, the said Ross J. Gowans was married to Betty Ann Gowans, with whom he resided until the 10th day of April, 1953; that the said Betty Ann Gowans has abandoned him without any just cause or reason, and that such abandonment has continued without interruption for more than eighteen months and is final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that no children have been born to the parties of this marriage.

It is thereupon this 7th day of April, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once each week for four successive weeks before the 9th day of May, 1955, giving notice to the said Betty Ann Gowans of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning her to be and appear in this court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of May, 1955, to show cause, if any she may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Polio Vaccine Supplies Here Seem Assured

Foundation Orders Immediate Shipment

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, announced yesterday the Allegany County Health Department expects to receive a supply of free polio vaccine here by Sunday, and to begin giving the shots to the first of some 4,000 school children Monday morning.

He said the State Health Department advised late yesterday afternoon that the National Polio Foundation has ordered Maryland's consignment of the Salk vaccine shipped immediately.

Several of Maryland's counties, he said plan to get the big program under way Monday if the vaccine is on hand.

From Baltimore, Dr. Edward Davens, chief of the State Health Department's bureau of Preventive medicine, said the foundation's order allays fears that the vaccination program would not start as scheduled Monday.

To Supply Two Shots

Dr. Frantz said yesterday that the first two shots of vaccine will be administered two weeks apart, to first and second graders and the third shot given next November, in accordance with the recommendations of the National Foundation.

Late yesterday, Dr. Frantz received the following information from the State Health Department:

"The National Foundation will follow recommendation of Dr. Salk that vaccine will be administered in two doses, separated by intervals of two to four weeks.

"This reduction of the number of doses will require the use of approximately nine million less doses of 1 cc. each than would otherwise have been necessary. These nine million doses will remain with the manufacturer for distribution through commercial channels and will make available immediately two doses for an additional 4½ million children.

"It will be impossible for the National Foundation to offer third doses to the same children seven months later.

"The pharmaceutical houses will be notified today to ship immediately sufficient vaccine to cover 90 percent eligible children; the estimated return of signed request forms."

Maryland health and school authorities went ahead yesterday with plans to start administering free polio vaccine to first and second graders Monday, but they did not actually have their hands on a single drop of the vital red fluid.

Dr. Edward Davens, chief of the State Health Department's bureau of preventive medicine, at first was discouraged and then found hope yesterday that enough of the vaccine will be available for the first injections Monday.

Dr. Davens later announced he had been informed the National Polio Foundation has ordered Maryland's consignment of free vaccine shipped immediately.

He said this allays fears that the vaccination program would not start, as scheduled on Monday.

Dr. Davens said he and his associates were "somewhat surprised" that the foundation decided

Civic Club Leader Greets Newsman

Mrs. G. Morgan Smith, president of the Woman's Civic Club, is seen here with Alfred Friendly, prominent Washington newspaperman, who addressed the club membership and guests last night at the Cumberland Country Club. Friendly drove here from Washington in time for the meeting and is shown going over the program with Mrs. Smith shortly after he arrived.

Voting Machine Proposal Helps Boost Registration

At least Irvin J. Neat and C. William McDermott, registrars for the County Board of Election Supervisors, reported yesterday that 21 registered in March so they can vote in the next election. They noted that no one registered in January and only three in February. So far this month two have signed up so they can cast ballots next election.

Despite the increased registration, the number of registered voters slipped a little more last month as names of some 28 deceased voters were stricken from the books.

As a result there were 40,697 registered voters in Allegany County as of March 31. They included 40,244 white persons and 453 colored voters.

There are now 22, 971 Republicans (11,787 men and 11,184 women) and 17,455 Democrats (8,950 men and 8,505 women). Other registered voters include 247 independents (183 men and 64 women) who have declined to state political preference, 22 Socialists (14 men and eight women) and two members of other parties (one man and one woman.)

The 21 new registrants in March included 11 Republicans (eight men and three women) and 10 Democrats (five men and five women.)

Deceased voters stricken from the records included 15 Republicans (11 men and four women) and 13 Democrats (eight men and five women.)

There were nine transfers from other election district or precinct to another, two changes of name only and two changes of political affiliation, one independent to Republican and one Republican to Democrat.

Bicentennial Art Contest Is Planned

In conjunction with the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration, the Retail Merchants Association of Cumberland is conducting a poster contest on the theme of life and times of the 19th Century.

This contest will be open to all students of the ninth through 12th grades in Allegany County schools. It will be through the art teachers and Theodore P. Foote, supervisor of art education in the county public schools, according to Irwin Pariser, chairman.

Posters, which are to be 22 by 28 inches, will be displayed in store windows downtown. Three prizes will be awarded. They are $25 savings bond first prize, $10 cash second prize and $5 cash third prize.

The judging will take place between May 1 and May 9. Judges will be T. Victor Fier, Mrs. L. E. Erickson and Joseph Delaney.

American Store Workers To Get Welfare Plan

Provisions for a company-paid health and welfare program were included in a new working agreement reached by the American Stores and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union (AFL).

William R. Hartman, business agent, said the pact covering workers in American Stores and Acme Super Markets in Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport, was ratified by the union at a meeting in the Legion Home, Frostburg, Wednesday night.

It calls for increases ranging from $2 to $2.50 a week for full-time workers and six cents an hour for part-time employes.

The health and welfare plan, financed by the company, calls for medical, surgical and hospitalization insurance, group life insurance and health and accident coverage.

A new vacation plan is to go into effect on April 30. It provides for one week of paid vacation for one year, two weeks for three years and three weeks for 15 years of service. The former maximum was two weeks after three years of service.

The pact also provides that the company will make up the difference between jury pay and regular wage rates when workers are called for jury duty, and guarantees three days off with pay in the event of a death in the employe's family.

On Monday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., the group will resume its indoor classroom work, also under the guidance of Miss Hurlburt, assisted by Mrs. Eva Hogan.

Monday's program will include study of scout committees and their functions, budgeting and finances for troops, and game leadership.

Friendly Takes Dim View Of US Foreign Policy

Newsman Addresses Woman's Civic Club

Taking a "very dim view" of the current world situation and America's foreign policy, Alfred Friendly, assistant managing editor of the Washington Post and Times-Herald, addressed the Woman's Civic Club at its annual men's night dinner last evening at Cumberland Country Club.

Using as his topic, "A Current Look At World Affairs," Friendly told his interested audience that "our foreign policy is in pretty bad shape," and said he sees no immediate solution.

Commenting upon recent speeches of Adlai Stevenson and Senator George, the speaker said he agrees with their views, and believes these statesmen come closer to a solution than many others.

Friendly said the proper Far East policy in this critical situation with Red China is not to defend Quemoy and the Matsus, but to let them go and then to work out an international organization to guarantee Formosa's security.

Friendly said that an atomic race with Soviet Russia is pointless. It is the kind of race that neither side can win. The cost of making an H-bomb is so little more than that of making an A-bomb, that such an arms race would soon pile up an astounding quantity of almost useless destructive material.

For one thing, he pointed out, the only good that can come from such an arms race is that both the United States and Russia may be too "horrified" at the consequences to start a war.

Friendly is an experienced working newspaperman who has traveled extensively and studied people, problems and various situations in and out of government at great length.

To gain experience on the American way of life he took a one-year tour of the country and worked in odd jobs such as dairying, iron foundry, silver mines, logging, creosote mill and farm worker. He was a reporter for the Washington Daily News for three years and from 1939 to 1952 was a reporter for the Washington Post.

Today Last Day For Federal And State Tax Returns

In case you haven't filed your federal and state income tax returns for 1954, tonight's the deadline. All returns must be postmarked by midnight tonight if sent by mail.

For those who want help with their returns, the Internal Revenue Service office in the Post Office Building and the office of the State Income Tax Division of the Comptroller of the Treasury on Market Street both will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Officials at both offices report that the daily work load has been rather heavy, but the annual log-jam at the federal tax office has not developed, probably because the deadline was extended this year from March 15 to April 15.

Two Men Sentenced On Morals Charges

Two Flintstone men were sentenced to serve 30 days in the Allegany County Jail yesterday on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl.

The men, Garth W. Yonker, 24, and Franklin J. Bennett, 21, were tried before Magistrate Donald W. Mason in Juvenile Court.

They were arrested in the Flintstone area Tuesday by Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, in connection with morals charges involving a 14-year-old girl of that community.

Assault Trial Opens Criminal Docket Monday

Cases Scheduled Through Wednesday

Richard F. Kearns, 18-year-old Westernport youth, is scheduled for trial Monday morning in Allegany County Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to kill Raymond E. Vinci, 19-year-old Pekin sailor, last December 30.

Kearns is accused of stabbing Vinci in the abdomen during a Christmas holiday argument in a Westernport restaurant. The sailor was a patient in Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser for some time after the incident. Kearns pleaded not guilty Tuesday.

Four other cases, all involving alleged liquor law violations, also are on the criminal court docket for Monday.

One of them charges Joseph S. Lyons, Doris Lyons and Laura L. Greco, trustees of Clary Club, Inc., with Sunday sale of alcoholic beverages January 16.

Tavern Owners Charged

Nutzy Ruffo, named in two indictments, is accused of selling a case of beer to minors on two occasions, September 18 and October 2. He operates a Frostburg tavern.

Also scheduled for trial Monday is Serafino Acre, another Frostburg tavern operator, accused of selling beer to a minor December 24. The other Monday trial docketed in the case against Helen S. Jenkins, operator of a Moscow tavern, charged with selling three bottles of beer to minors December 9.

Heading the four trials listed for Tuesday is the manslaughter case against James W. Summers, 20, of Midland. He was the driver of an automboile which crashed December 27 near Shaft causing the death of 17-year-old Robert Leo Green.

Another Tuesday trial involves John G. Howell, James M. Ashby and Earl E. Metz, trustees of the Barton Volunteer Fire Company, accused of selling three beers to minors on Christmas day.

Other Cases Scheduled

John C. Davis and Helen P. Davis, trading as Lucky's Cut Rate Liquor Store in Frostburg, are scheduled for trial Tuesday on a charge of selling a half pint of whisky to a minor December 18. Leo "Toad" McNeill of near Klondyke is listed for trial the same day on a charge of selling three beers to minors December 31.

The statutory burglary trial of Earl Anthony Victor Campbell, formerly of Eckhart and Frank P. Holick of near Baltimore is on the docket for Wednesday. They are charged with having broken into the meat market of Walter Engle in Eckhart from which $530 was stolen March 23, 1954. They pleaded not guilty when arraigned Tuesday.

Another trial scheduled for Wednesday involves Bender Wiley, Cora Wiley and Benjamin H. Gordon Jr., accused of possession of four gallons of illicit liquor. Walter F. Perry of Frostburg also is due for trial Wednesday on a charge of forging a $16 check. He pleaded guilty at his arraignment Tuesday.

Civil trials are scheduled to get under way Friday, April 22, and end Wednesday, May 11. Cases are docketed for April 27, 28 and 29, May 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10 and 11.

The Weather

Yesterday's early evening shower sent the temperature here plunging 12 degrees in a matter of minutes. The shower, which brought the day's precipitation to .27 inches, also gave Cumberland rainfall for the fourth successive day after 10 dry days at the start of the month. Total precipitation for April at the Constitution Park weather station is 1.08 inches as a result of the recent rainfall. Despite April's reputation for showers, the average precipitation for the month is only 2.88 inches. Yesterday's official high was 72 and low 46. At 7:30 o'clock the thermometer stood at 59 degrees after the sudden shower. Humidity at 6 o'clock was 64 per cent. For today the prediction is for partly cloudy and continued mild weather except a few showers and cooler in the mountains.

Marland May Be Forced To Call Special Session

Kessel Says 3-5th Signed Petition

Enough West Virginia legislators have signed a petition calling for a special session of the Legislature that Governor William C. Marland will be forced to recall them, Del. Joseph William Kessel (R-Mineral) announced last night.

Kessel, who has been serving on a special committee working toward recall for an extra session to act on a pay increase for teachers, said 62 delegates and 20 senators have signed the petition.

The petition will be presented to Gov. Marland this week, Kessel said.

Earlier this week Senate President Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield said the signatures of three-fifths of the members of both houses would be enough to reconvene the Legislature.

Sen. Bean, himself in favor of an extra session, predicted that enough support could be obtained to call one. House Minority Leader Underwood had expressed the same view.

Del. Kessel said the House committee which worked with the West Virginia Education Association to bring about a special session probably would have a statement today.

In the regular session that ended last month, enactment of a teachers' salary increase bill was blocked by failuré of House and Senate to agree on a tax program to finance the increase.

Since then, the Education Association and other groups have pushed for an extraordinary session. Gov. Marland said whether or not the call were issued would depend on the ability of legislative leaders to agree on a tax program, and upon popular demand.

Members of the House committee who served with Kessel are Delegates Paul Venarri of Raleigh County, Paul Englan of Wyoming County, Herbert Scoupach of Wetzel County and Richard Young of Upshur.

Westernport To Ask County For Damages

Three Westernport officials will appear before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners this morning to ask the commissioners to include in their budget for the new fiscal year a sum not exceeding $50,000 in settlement of damages allegedly caused Westernport by the Savage River Dam.

Attending the meeting will be Mayor Okey E. Michael, Commissioners Harry M. Richards and Carl P. McMillan.

The Westernport representatives are acting in pursuance to the provisions of House Bill 471, introduced by the County Delegation and eventually passed.

Far from giving the Westernport officials a blank check for $50,000, this bill simply authorizes the county commissioners to pay not more than $50,000 in settlement of any damage they deem caused by the Savage River Dam.

Before making any settlement, the bill also authorizes the county commissioners to make such investigation as they deem proper of the alleged damage caused the water supply of the town of Westernport. The settlement is to be made as th facts may justify, according to the opinion of the county commissioners.

Preliminary sections of HB 471 observe that the Savage River Dam has been of great benefit to all the people of Allegany County, including the town of Westernport. The bill notes that it is alleged that the dam also to some extent damaged the water supply of the town by increasing the sediment thus accentuating the need for filtration.

The bill then adds that all the people of Allegany County should bear the burden of such alleged damage and not just the people of Westernport.

New Glass Plant Will Not Curb Other Operations

When the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company opens its new plant at Mexico Farms it will not result in a shutdown of another of its operations.

That assurance was given the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday by Frank Maiden, manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company retail store here, in a brief talk at Central YMCA.

A 30-minute film on the making of paint and glass was shown at the conclusion of his remarks. Although the movie was made only a couple of years ago, Maiden pointed out that the grinding and polishing process has been changed since then.

From the period immediately after World War I until about two years ago, precision glass plants ground and polished the glass one side at a time. About two years ago the process was improved so that both sides now are ground simultaneously.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Daughenbaugh was delivered of a stillborn son, David Wesley.

Polio Vaccine Supplies Here Seem Assured

Foundation Orders Immediate Shipment

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, announced yesterday the Allegany County Health Department expects to receive a supply of free polio vaccine here by Sunday, and to begin giving the shots to the first of some 4,000 school children Monday morning.

He said the State Health Department advised late yesterday afternoon that the National Polio Foundation has ordered Maryland's consignment of the Salk vaccine shipped immediately.

Several of Maryland's counties, he said plan to get the big program under way Monday if the vaccine is on hand.

From Baltimore, Dr. Edward Davens, chief of the State Health Department's bureau of Preventive medicine, said the foundation's order allays fears that the vaccination program would not start as scheduled Monday.

To Supply Two Shots

Dr. Frantz said yesterday that the first two shots of vaccine will be administered two weeks apart, to first and second graders and the third shot given next November, in accordance with the recommendations of the National Foundation.

Late yesterday, Dr. Frantz received the following information from the State Health Department:

"The National Foundation will follow recommendation of Dr. Salk that vaccine will be administered in two doses, separated by intervals of two to four weeks.

"This reduction of the number of doses will require the use of approximately nine million less doses of 1 cc. each than would otherwise have been necessary. These nine million doses will remain with the manufacturer for distribution through commercial channels and will make available immediately two doses for an additional 4½ million children.

"It will be impossible for the National Foundation to offer third doses to the same children seven months later.

"The pharmaceutical houses will be notified today to ship immediately sufficient vaccine to cover 90 percent eligible children; the estimated return of signed request forms."

Maryland health and school authorities went ahead yesterday with plans to start administering free polio vaccine to first and second graders Monday, but they did not actually have their hands on a single drop of the vital red fluid.

Dr. Edward Davens, chief of the State Health Department's bureau of preventive medicine, at first was discouraged and then found hope yesterday that enough of the vaccine will be available for the first injections Monday.

Dr. Davens later announced he had been informed the National Polio Foundation has ordered Maryland's consignment of free vaccine shipped immediately.

He said this allays fears that the vaccination program would not start, as scheduled on Monday.

Dr. Davens said he and his associates were "somewhat surprised" that the foundation decided

Voting Machine Proposal Helps Boost Registration

Voting machine talk apparently has helped stimulate some interest in voter registration among Allegany County citizens.

At least Irvin J. Neat and C. William McDermott, registrars for the County Board of Election Supervisors, reported yesterday that 21 registered in March so they can vote in the next election. They noted that no one registered in January and only three in February. So far this month two have signed up so they can cast ballots next election.

Despite the increased registration, the number of registered voters slipped a little more last month as names of some 28 deceased voters were stricken from the books.

As a result there were 40,697 registered voters in Allegany County as of March 31. They included 40,244 white persons and 453 colored voters.

There are now 22, 971 Republicans (11,787 men and 11,184 women) and 17,455 Democrats (8,950 men and 8,505 women). Other registered voters include 247 independents (183 men and 64 women) who have declined to state political preference, 22 Socialists (14 men and eight women) and two members of other parties (one man and one woman.)

The 21 new registrants in March included 11 Republicans (eight men and three women) and 10 Democrats (five men and five women.)

Deceased voters stricken from the records included 15 Republicans (11 men and four women) and 13 Democrats (eight men and five women.)

There were nine transfers from other election district or precinct to another, two changes of name only and two changes of political affiliation, one independent to Republican and one Republican to Democrat.

Bicentennial Art Contest Is Planned

In conjunction with the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Celebration, the Retail Merchants Association of Cumberland is conducting a poster contest on the theme of life and times of the 19th Century.

This contest will be open to all students of the ninth through 12th grades in Allegany County schools. It will be through the art teachers and Theodore P. Foote, supervisor of art education in the county public schools, according to Irwin Pariser, chairman.

Posters, which are to be 22 by 28 inches, will be displayed in store windows downtown. Three prizes will be awarded. They are $25 savings bond first prize, $10 cash second prize and $5 cash third prize.

The judging will take place between May 1 and May 9. Judges will be T. Victor Fier, Mrs. L. E. Erickson and Joseph Delaney.

On Monday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., the group will resume its indoor classroom work, also under the guidance of Miss Hurlburt, assisted by Mrs. Eva Hogan.

American Store Workers To Get Welfare Plan

Provisions for a company-paid health and welfare program were included in a new working agreement reached by the American Stores and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union (AFL).

William R. Hartman, business agent, said the pact covering workers in American Stores and Acme Super Markets in Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport, was ratified by the union at a meeting in the Legion Home, Frostburg, Wednesday night.

It calls for increases ranging from $2 to $2.50 a week for full-time workers and six cents an hour for part-time employes.

The health and welfare plan, financed by the company, calls for medical, surgical and hospitalization insurance, group life insurance and health and accident coverage.

A new vacation plan is to go into effect on April 30. It provides for one week of paid vacation for one year, two weeks for three years and three weeks for 15 years of service. The former maximum was two weeks after three years of service.

Part-time workers will receive vacation pay equal to one-twelfth of the average weekly hours worked in the year.

The pact also provides that the company will make up the difference between jury pay and regular wage rates when workers are called for jury duty, and guarantees three days off with pay in the event of a death in the employe's family.

Today Last Day For Federal And State Tax Returns

In case you haven't filed your federal and state income tax returns for 1954, tonight's the deadline. All returns must be postmarked by midnight tonight if sent by mail.

For those who want help with their returns, the Internal Revenue Service office in the Post Office Building and the office of the State Income Tax Division of the Comptroller of the Treasury on Market Street both will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Officials at both offices report that the daily work load has been rather heavy, but the annual log-jam at the federal tax office has not developed, probably because the deadline was extended this year from March 15 to April 15.

Two Men Sentenced On Morals Charges

Two Flintstone men were sentenced to serve 30 days in the Allegany County Jail yesterday on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl.

The men, Garth W. Yonker, 24, and Franklin J. Bennett, 21, were tried before Magistrate Donald W. Mason in Juvenile Court.

They were arrested in the Flintstone area Tuesday by Cpl. William P. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, in connection with morals charges involving a 14-year-old girl of that community.

Friendly Takes Dim View Of US Foreign Policy

Newsman Addresses Woman's Civic Club

Taking a "very dim view" of the current world situation and America's foreign policy, Alfred Friendly, assistant managing editor of the Washington Post and Times-Herald, addressed the Woman's Civic Club at its annual men's night dinner last evening at Cumberland Country Club.

Using as his topic, "A Current Look At World Affairs," Friendly told his interested audience that "our foreign policy is in pretty bad shape," and said he sees no immediate solution.

Commenting upon recent speeches of Adlai Stevenson and Senator George, the speaker said he agrees with their views, and believes these statesmen come closer to a solution than many others.

Friendly said the proper Far East policy in this critical situation with Red China is not to defend Quemoy and the Matsus, but to let them go and then to work out an international organization to guarantee Formosa's security.

Friendly said that an atomic race with Soviet Russia is pointless. It is the kind of race that neither side can win. The cost of making an H-bomb is so little more than that of making an A-bomb, that such an arms race would soon pile up an astounding quantity of almost useless destructive material.

For one thing, he pointed out, the only good that can come from such an arms race is that both the United States and Russia may be too "horrified" at the consequences to start a war.

Friendly is an experienced working newspaperman who has traveled extensively and studied people, problems and various situations in and out of government at great length.

To gain experience on the American way of life he took a one-year tour of the country and worked in odd jobs such as dairying, iron foundry, silver mines, logging, creosote mill and farm worker. He was a reporter for the Washington Daily News for three years and from 1939 to 1952 was a reporter for the Washington Post.

The Weather

Yesterday's early evening shower sent the temperature here plunging 12 degrees in a matter of minutes. The shower, which brought the day's precipitation to .27 inches, also gave Cumberland rainfall for the fourth successive day after 10 dry days at the start of the month. Total precipitation for April at the Constitution Park weather station is 1.08 inches as a result of the recent rainfall. Despite April's reputation for showers, the average precipitation for the month is only 2.88 inches. Yesterday's official high was 72 and low 46. At 7:30 o'clock the thermometer stood at 59 degrees after the sudden shower. Humidity at 6 o'clock was 64 per cent. Marland May Be Forced To Call Special Session

Kessel Says 3-5th Signed Petition

Enough West Virginia legislators have signed a petition calling for a special session of the Legislature that Governor William C. Marland will be forced to recall them, Del. Joseph William Kessel (R-Mineral) announced last night.

Kessel, who has been serving on a special committee working toward recall for an extra session to act on a pay increase for teachers, said 62 delegates and 20 senators have signed the petition.

The petition will be presented to Gov. Marland this week, Kessel said.
